INDIAN FIGHTER DEAD.

WILBURTON, Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tom McGuire, the old-time Indian fighter, hero of two wars and colonel of a regiment that made a famous march to California, is dead here.

POLITICAL.

GRABBING A STATE.

Standard Oil Feared in Oklahoma.

Startling Report Disturbs the Constitutional Convention at Guthrie.

"First-Class Lobbyist" at a Salary of $2500 Is in Demand.

Tom Platt Says "Nothing" but to Deny "Refusal." Socialist Vote.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

GUTHRIE (Okla.) Nov. 26.—The mooted rumor that the Standard Oil Company is interested in the constitution of the new State and has offered $2500 for a "first-class lobbyist," was the feature of an otherwise uninteresting session of the constitutional convention today.

Delegates were told that the Standard has an eye on the oil product in the Osage Nation and Gotebo fields.

President Murphy today announced the members of a majority of forty-six standing committees.

The Committee on Rules submitted its report, the only part of which bearing special interest being the section relating to the offering of constitutional planks, which provides that two modes shall prevail, namely, under special order, or by committee report.

"HAS A COVETOUS EYE."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GUTHRIE, Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When delegates to the convention were told that the Standard Oil Company has a covetous eye on the output of the rich oil region in the Osage Nation and the Gotebo field, this, added to the rumor already current that it has offered $2500 for a "first-class lobbyist," livened up the session.

THINKS HE'S "AT HAND."

Rumors have been afloat for several days that the Standard Oil Company is on the ground attempting to secure a lobbyist. Delegates have intimated on the floor of the convention that the paid lobbyist is at hand, but none of them have been willing to admit that they have absolute knowledge of the lobbyist's presence.

J. J. Curl of Bartlesville and other delegates who were elected to the convention from the oil districts, with the alleged opposition of the Standard Oil Company, are guarding the interests of the field against corporation influence. The impression is abroad that the oil company is busy arranging a lobby to oppose the work of these delegates.

PLATT SAYS "NOTHING."
ONLY DENIES A "REFUSAL."

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—United States Senator Thomas C. Platt said today, concerning an alleged interview with him published in this city, in which he was quoted as saying that he would not resign his office as Senator:

"I have not said I would not resign. I saw no reporter in fact, or have I said to anybody that I would not send in my resignation to Gov. Higgins. I never said to any newspaper man that I would stay in Washington all winter. In fact, the whole interview about my refusal to resign is untrue.

"I have said nothing, nor am I going to say anything now."

LARRAZOLO FILES CONTEST.
ALLEGES GROSS FRAUDS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Nov. 26.—A special to the Times from Santa Fe, N. M., says that the vote in New Mexico cast in the recent election was canvassed officially today. The majority for Statehood was 1120. Andrews (Rep.) was declared elected delegate to Congress by a plurality of 274.

Larrazolo (Dem.) filed notice of contest, alleging gross fraud in several counties. The total vote cast was 45,767.

ILLINOIS'S OFFICIAL VOTE.
SOCIALISTS EXCEED 42,000.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Nov. 26.—The official canvass of the vote of Illinois made today is as follows:

State Treasurer: Smulsky (Rep.) 417,544; Piatrowski (Dem.) 271,982; McDermot (Soc.) 42,905; Francis (Soc.-Labor) 2757.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction: Blair (Rep.) 436,325; Grote (Dem.) 299,218; Whitcomb (Proh.) 28,438; Simmons (Soc.) 40,023, Veal (Soc.-Labor) 3059.

SIX MEN NARROWLY ESCAPE.

WILBURTON (I. T.) Nov. 26.—With a record of nineteen horrible deaths during the past year, the Degnan and McConnell mine No. 19, at Wilburton, blew up with frightful force this evening. Six men in the shaft narrowly escaped. It cannot be determined tonight whether any lives were lost.

SWEPT AWAY BY NIAGARA.

Unknown Man Carried Over Horseshoe Falls—Perilous Effort to Rescue.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NIAGARA FALLS (N. Y.) Nov. 26.—An unknown man was swept over the Horseshoe Falls in a small boat this afternoon, after a daring attempt had been made to save him.

An employé of the Ontario Power Company first saw the little craft coming down the river in the grasp of the swift current. The occupant, a man, was standing up, frantically waving his hands.

Two rowboats started down the Chippewa River toward the Niagara, to attempt a rescue at the mouth of the small stream.

The rescuers were far behind what is considered the danger line, but a cross current carried the unfortunate man away from them toward Goat Island, and in a few minutes he was carried over the Horseshoe Falls.

The would-be rescuers were by this time in a perilous position, and it was with great difficulty they succeeded in reaching shore.

PLANTERS' WAR CHEAPENS SUGAR.

CROCKETT CANE PLANT CAUSES LOWER PRICES.

Denver Reports That Caccharine Stuff Has Dropped From $6.75 to $4.75 and Is Likely to Be Loss if Struggle With Beet Growers Continues Much Longer.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER, Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Quotations on sugar show a drop of $2 on the hundredweight on both cane and beet sugar from November 21, 1904. Sugar is now selling cheaper on the Denver market than it has sold in years and prices will go lower.

The reason for this is a rate war which is being fought between the Hawaiian Planters' Sugar Company, which recently has established a large cane sugar plant at Crockett, Cal., and the California and Great Western Sugar Companies with beet sugar plants in several Pacific Coast cities.

LIBRETTIST'S NEW ROLE.

Harry B. Smith of "Robin Hood" and Other Operatic Books, Takes Irene Bentley to Wife.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] News leaked out today of the secret marriage here of Irene Bentley of "The Belle of Mayfield" Company to Harry B. Smith, the widely known librettist, author of the book of "Robin Hood" and other productions. Smith left Boston for New York immediately after the ceremony, but has kept himself secluded from reporters.

VILLAREAL STILL HELD UP.

EL PASO (Tex.) Nov. 26.—Immigration officials at this place when asked about the report that another hearing had been given Antonio Villareal, the alleged revolutionist, who is in jail here, pending extradition, stated tonight that no information bearing on the case had been received from the Department of Commerce and Labor since the matter had been referred back to Washington.

GEN. GREELY'S NEW COMMAND.

OMAHA, Nov. 26.—Orders were received this afternoon, at headquarters, of the Department of Missouri, announcing that Maj.-Gen. A. W. Greely, commanding the northern military division, will assume command of the Department of Missouri, December 1, relieving Brig.-Gen. T. J. Wynt, who is under orders to proceed to Cuba to take command of the American troops in the island.

TRIED IT ON PRISONERS.

Ten of the Twenty-four Inoculated With Cholera Virus at Bilibid Die.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MANILA, Nov. 27.—As a result of experiments with cholera virus at Bilibid prison, ten prisoners out of twenty-four who were inoculated have died. The experiments were conducted by Dr. R. P. Strong of the Bureau of Science. The death of the prisoners occurred a few days after they were inoculated.

It is claimed by investigators that the fatalities resulted from a contamination of the virus with bubonic-plague virus. Cholera virus is in constant use here, and it has proved beneficial previously. It has been used in Spain in thousands of cases, with excellent results.

Gov.-Gen. Smith, in a statement to the public, exonerated Dr. Strong, and declared that the commission would take care of the families of the dead prisoners.

TILLMAN IN LUCK.

Chicago Women for Bodyguard.

Mrs. Adele J. Keeler a Champion of "Pitchfork" Against the Blacks.

Colored Leaders Threaten and Also Offer $5000 to Have Lecture Called Off.

Plucky Daughter of Union Soldier Says the Senator "Will" Speak Tonight.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Threats of legal proceedings to prevent Senator Tillman from speaking tomorrow evening at Orchestra Hall, and promises of $5000 indemnity to the promoters if they would "call off" the lecture were made today by a delegation of colored leaders, in a dramatic interview with Mrs. Adele J. Keeler, financial agent of the Chicago Union Hospital.

The colored men who called on Mrs. Keeler by appointment were: Rev. A. J. Carey of Bethel Church; Dr. Charles E. Bentley, a dentist, and Julius F. Taylor, editor of the "Broadax."

CAN'T SCARE HER.

Before the interview began, Mrs. Keeler stoutly declared that while the negroes "might intimidate Mayor Dunne," they "could not intimidate" her, as she is the daughter of a soldier who fought to free the slaves.

In fact, she proposes to meet Senator Tillman on his arrival tomorrow to act as his "bodyguard," with the assistance of a woman member of the hospital board.

Rev. Carey began the interview. He declared there was an unusual amount of race antagonism in Chicago at present, following the recent election, and said that one man was in the hospital as the result of fights growing out of the disturbed state of feeling. He said a lecture by Senator Tillman would only inflame the feeling.

"Senator Tillman will speak," Mrs. Keeler replied resolutely, emphasizing the "will."

Dr. Carey shook his head slowly, and said one word: "Maybe."

"What do you mean? Only death will prevent him, "replied Mrs. Keeler.

Dr. Bentley took up the lines of the drama.

"There are legal ways, Mrs. Keeler," he said.

"There are only three public speakers whom we want to stop," said Dr. Carey. "They are Vardaman, the governor of Mississippi; John Temple Graves and Tillman, the archbishop of opposition to the advancement of our race; the man who would strip the colored man of all intellectual qualities, and make him out a brute."

"LET WELL ENOUGH ALONE."
J. SHARP WILLIAMS'S ADVICE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WALTHALL (Miss.) Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Gov. Vardaman's contention for the repeal of the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments is mere hysteria," declared Congressman John Sharp Williams here today, in a speech furthering his candidacy for United States Senator.

"The Governor is a monomaniac on the negro question," he continued, "and does not understand the true sentiment of the South. Opinion in the North and West is not ripe for such a step. My opponent could accomplish nothing in the Senate along this line.

"Most of the Southern States have satisfactorily solved the political phase of the negro question, which is all that can be hoped for immediately from the repeal of the Fifteenth Amendment. My knowledge of national affairs prompts me to urge the people to let well enough alone. The negro is no longer a menace politically.

"The real problem lies in the great mass of negroes in the South, and their degeneracy."

ARMSTRONG ASSOCIATION.
ITS WORK HAS BROADENED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The annual meeting of the Armstrong Association, which seeks to stimulate interest in the work of Hampton and Tuskegee institutes and the general industrial situation of negroes, was held here tonight at the home of the president, William Jay Shieffelin. Booker T. Washington, Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott, Dr. Felix Adler and Principal H. B. Frissell of Hamilton Institute made short addresses.

The officers were reelected as follows: President, Mr. Schieffelin; vice-presidents, Mrs. Schieffelin, Mrs. Arthur James and Robert S. Ogden; secretary, Miss May Hurlburt; treasurer, A. S. Frissell.

George McAneny was made an added vice-president. The report of the Executive Committee showed that the membership is not far from a thousand, and that the work of the organization has been broadened by the creation of the committee for improving the industrial conditions of the negroes in New York.

PRESIDENT IS AGAIN IN NATION'S CAPITAL.

Returns Late at Night After Completing a Remarkable Trip of Several Thousand Miles—Will Write Special Message About Canal.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Completing a remarkable trip to Panama, during which he traveled several thousand miles by sea and visited not only the isthmus, but Porto Rico as well, and voicing his thorough enjoyment of the entire voyage, the President returned to Washington at 10:42 o'clock to night. The trip up the Potomac on the converted yacht Mayflower, to which he and his party were transferred from the Louisiana at Piney Point, this afternoon, was made without special incident.

As the Mayflower pulled into the dock at the rear of the office of the commandant at the navy yard, Miss Ethel Roosevelt, the President's daughter, and Miss Hagner, Miss Roosevelt's secretary, were awaiting to greet the party. Miss Roosevelt immediately rushed on board when the bang plank was laid and affectionately greeted her father and mother.

There was also at the dock to welcome the President, Capt. McCoy, U.S.A., and Lieut.-Com. Key of the Marine Corps, the President's aides, and the commandant and other officials of the navy yard and the Uruguayan chargé d'affaires.

HAD DELIGHTFUL TRIP.

The President landed within ten minutes after the arrival of the Mayflower. To those who met him, he stated that he had a delightful trip, and that he was feeling fine. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt proceeded at once to the White House.

The President and Mrs. Roosevelt reached the White House shortly after 11 o'clock. As the President alighted from his carriage, the President shook hands with the attachés and others waiting on the portico.

Speaking of his trip, the President said: "We had a very pleasant, very enjoyable time, and I am deeply impressed with the United States navy, with Panama, and with Porto Rico."

SPECIAL MESSAGE ON CANAL.

The Panama Canal, it was said by the President, will be the subject of a special message, and consequently on that subject the President will say nothing at this time.

BERMUDEZ PROTESTS.

Pedro Roquena Bermudez, chargé d'affaires of Uruguay, was the only member of the Diplomatic Corps who greeted the President upon his arrival. At the front entrance of the navy yard Señor Bermudez was delayed by the Marine Guard, who refused to admit him without the consent of the commandant.

After the twenty minutes delay, he was admitted, and when the President appeared on the deck off the Mayflower, the diplomat was the first to rush up the gangway. He protested to the President against the manner in which he had been treated by the Marine Guard.

The usual Tuesday Cabinet meeting will be held tomorrow.

The President left here on his trip, November 8, and tomorrow's Cabinet session will be the first since the election.

DROWNING OF A BOY.

An unfortunate accident occurred in the lower Potomac during the President's trip up the river. The yacht Oneida, in the service of the District of Columbia naval militia, on which were the commanding officers and others of the militia, had dropped down the Potomac to Piney Point, and was returning, when a boat capsized, and Melville E. Cleveland, nineteen years of age, of this city, was drowned. The body had not been recovered up to a late hour.

THE WASHINGTON CRIPPLED.
CRUISER HAS HOT BRASSES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—A wireless message was received at the Navy Department today from Capt. Adams, commanding the cruiser Washington, in which he states that he was compelled yesterday to stop the starboard engine of his ship because of hot brasses. He says that the engines sustained no serious injury, but he was unable to keep up with the speed of the Tennessee and the Louisiana, and consequently had to drop several hours behind those ships.

PASSES TO ANCHORAGE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NORFOLK (Va.) Nov. 26.—The disabled convoying cruiser Washington passed in the Virginia Capes this afternoon and proceeded to the anchorage grounds in Hampton Roads.

PANAMA SANITATION.
DEATH RATE DECREASES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Not a single American died on the canal zone from disease in the last three months, according to a report to the Isthmian Canal Commission, just received from Col. W. C. Gorgas, the chief sanitary officer of the zone. The decrease in the death rate among the employés, Col. Gorgas reports, is due almost entirely to the decrease in pneumonia.

In October the deaths among the canal employés were eighty-six negroes and two whites.

Col. Gorgas says: "I do not argue that we have found the Ponce de Leon's spring of perpetual life, but merely that Panama is not so bad a place from a health point of view as is generally believed."

"WALKING ARSENAL" FIRED.
KHEIL SENT TO VENEZUELA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

COLON (Panama) Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A German named Khell was arrested on landing here a few days before President Roosevelt arrived. He carried three revolvers, a bowie knife and brass knuckles. He was deported to Venezuela the day after the President sailed.

Khell has been watched by the United States authorities since he was arrested, a couple of years ago, near the White House in Washington, then heavily armed.

VICE-PRESIDENT RETURNS.
HAS BEEN IN FLORIDA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Vice-President Fairbanks, accompanied by Mrs. Fairbanks, arrived in Washington early this morning from their trip to Florida, where the Vice-President went to deliver an address.

DEMANDS HEART OF NEW YORK.

DENVER PATROLMAN BACKED BY MILLION-DOLLAR BUNCH.

Trinity Church and Six Square Blocks of the Metropolis Involved in Suit Which George E. Mahlum Is Preparing to Bring—Title Traced to Three Dutch Brothers.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER (Colo.) Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Backed by a syndicate representing $1,000,000, George E. Mahlum, a Denver patrolman, is about to begin a suit which he expects will establish the right of himself and many other heirs to six square blocks in New York City, occupied by Trinity Church and adjacent buildings.

According to Mahlum, three brothers from Holland, Francis, James and Henry Forncock, secured the ground to be fought for from their father, who homesteaded it as farming land.

These brothers leased this land, in 1771, to Trinity Episcopal Church Association for 99 years.

The lease is the old parchment which has been discovered. The contestants are the heirs of the Forncocks.

SOCIAL LEADER KILLS A MAN.

AUTOMOBILE DRIVEN BY DENVER GIRL RUNS DOWN VETERAN.

Howard M. O'Haver, Well-to-Do Real Estate Dealer and Grand Army Member, Dies in Sanatorium From Fractured Skull—Arrest Follows the Accident.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER (Col.) Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Howard M. O'Haver, a prosperous realty dealer, was struck by an automobile driven by Miss Birdie Appel, daugater of a wealthy merchant and herself a social favorite, early this afternoon on Sixteenth street. He died ten minutes later in Mercy Sanatorium from a fractured skull.

Miss Appel was arrested on a charge of manslaughter, and gave bond in the sum of $5000.

O'Haver leaves a widow, two sons and two daughters. He was a G.A.R. veteran, and that organization will conduct the funeral.

Witnesses of the accident believe Miss Appel was not to blame.

EBEN SMITH'S SON'S SHARE.

DENVER (Colo.) Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Lemuel Smith, son of Eben Smith, the millionaire, today was paid a fortune by the other heirs of the deceased, on his agreement not to contest his father's will. The amount is withheld, but it is believed to have been at least $100,000. Eben Smith was well known in Los Angeles.

WANTS IT STOPPED.

Mexico's Request of Gov. Pardee.

Unsatisfactory Conditions on the Border for State to Remedy.

Official Assertion That "Murderous and Predatory" Disorders Continue.

Also That They Are of Long Standing—Text of the Letter.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Mexican government has requested Gov. Pardee to take steps to prevent the sale of arms to the Yaqui Indians, alleging that such sales have greatly augmented their difficulties in dealing with the savages.

The letter of the Mexican Consul to Gov. Pardee is as follows:

"His Excellency, George C. Pardee, Governor of California:

"Dear Sir—His Excellency, Ignacio Mariscal, Secretary of Foreign Affairs of Mexico, directs me to address you, as I beg most respectfully so to do, the request that you may be pleased to take such action as may be necessary to have the sale of arms and ammunition of the frontier and in the border of California to Yaqui Indians prevented.

YAQUIS KEPT IT UP.

"Your Excellency is undoubtedly acquainted with the fact that it is due to such supply of arms and ammunition to said Indians which has enabled them to keep up a murderous and predatory state of disorder in that portion which they occupy in the neighboring state of Sonora.

"Without this facility to supply themselves with such arms and ammunition, their depredations will be greatly curtailed, to the great benefit of public safety, so frequently menaced, to the detriment of both Mexican and American interests.

ARIZONA PROHIBITS SALE.

"His Excellency, the Governor of Arizona, has had the deference to prohibit the said sale, thus contributing greatly to the prevention of Yaqui outlawry, and it is the hope of my government that Your Excellency may lend your effective cooperation in the same manner to so benefit a public purpose.

"With assurance of my highest regard and respect, I remain Your Excellency's most obedient servant, [Signed] "P. ORNELAS.

"Consulado General de Mexico."

STANDARD SHIFTS STOCK.

Shares in Texas Oil Company Are Transferred to Independent Operators to Help Pipe Line.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GALVESTON (Tex.) Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Stock in the Texas Oil Company held by shareholders in the Standard has been transferred to independent operators in Texas fields.

The company has increased its capital from $6,000,000 to $12,000,000 and set aside $5,000,000 for a pipe line from the Tulsa, I. T., field to Beaumont.

Under Standard affiliation Texas refused authority to build the pipe line.

ALLEGE UNLAWFUL CONTRACTS.

JACKSONVILLE (Ill.) Nov. 26.—C. G. Rutledge, cashier of Ayres State Bank, and J. A. Obermeyer, a druggist, both members of the Board of Education, were indicted today on a charge of making many unlawful contracts in purchasing supplies for public schools.

GRAFTERS GETTING READY FOR SCHMITZ.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A caucus of Ruef and the Supervisors, was held Sunday night, similar to those held Sunday nights for many months. No one but the "faithful" are admitted, and none would talk.

The grand jury will not meet until tomorrow morning, but Heney and Burns were very active today, preparing testimony. "Grafters" also were active, for they are straining every nerve to give a great reception to Mayor Schmitz on his arrival home.

They have hired Dreamland Pavilion, and they propose that thousands of members of labor unions, as well as all municipal authorities shall meet Schmitz at the ferry Thursday morning, and escort him to the pavilion, where a great mass-meeting will be held in the evening, and addressed by Mayor Schmitz, Ruef and others.

One hundred thousand badges have been issued for the occasion. By means of the labor unions, which can impose a fine on those who do not turn out, an imposing parade can be organized, and as Thursday is a holiday, the men will not lose any time from their work.

The latest device by Secret Service Agent Burns is to hire women detectives, who have secured a mass of evidence against the Supervisors by mingling with the Supervisor's wives. Burns is also shadowing all suspected officials, and none can leave the city without being followed.

SCHMITZ PASSES OMAHA.
STILL DECLARES INNOCENCE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OMAHA (Neb.) Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Eugene E. Schmitz, Mayor of San Francisco, in company with his wife, passed through Omaha this morning on his way home from Europe.

Regarding the indictment returned against him by the grand jury at San Francisco, Mayor Schmitz said:

"I am innocent of the crimes charged against me, and knowing that I am innocent, I am not afraid to face my accusers.

"It is all politics, politics. I have had to face the same thing at election time, and have always been acquitted by the people.

"This is simply an election scheme, only my enemies have started it a year ahead of time, for the election is not till next November."

THEY ARE FORSAKING CANDIDATE GATES.

President of a Gates Club Resigns and Calls on Gates to Withdraw.

One of the original promoters of the city Non-Partisan movement was Arthur W. Cleaver, a large property-holder.

Mr. Cleaver has been impelled by the gravity of the public crisis to go to work earnestly for Dr. Lindley for Mayor and has resigned the presidency of the Third Precinct First Ward Non-Partisan Club. Following is a copy of his letter of resignation:

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26, 1906.

Chas. E. Bent, Secretary, City.

As I cannot see my way clear to support Mr. Gates for Mayor, I hereby tender my resignation as president of the Third Precinct First Ward Non-Partisan Club.

Very respectfully, A. W. CLEAVER.

Mr. Cleaver sends The Times the subjoined statement impressively setting forth his reasons for his action:

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am one of the 8000 non-partisan voters controlled (?) by the Non-Partisan Committee. At the inauguration of the movement, I, with thousands of other voters, received a postal asking if we were "in sympathy with the non-partisan idea," and if so to reply on the postal if we would support the movement. The idea appealed to me as well as to all other voters who had the welfare of the city at heart.

We are confronted by a condition, and cannot remedy it by applying a theory, which the non-partisan idea is at the present time. Like socialism, it is beautiful to think of, but impracticable at the present time. This city faces the most serious condition in its history, and that is the threatened control of its government by strikers, boycotters, and grafters. Mr. Gates in his letter of resignation gave powerful and unanswerable reasons why there should not be two candidates drawing from the element opposing Schmitzism in this city, and they are just as powerful now as they were when he wrote them, and if he had the welfare of the city at heart, and not the regard of a few would-be leaders of the Non-Partisan movement, he would heed his own reasons for resigning, and resign.

It would be different if the Republicans had a candidate in whom the voters had no confidence, but Dr. Lindley is, according to Gates's own words, an ideal one; therefore I and thousands of the controlled (?) voters of the Non-Partisan Committee will change our minds as Gates did, and support Lindley. There is too much at stake to experiment with a new political movement, and if we will remember how the unutterable Schmitz and his gang got control of San Francisco, we will take due heed, put Lindley in office with such a majority that the boycotters and anarchists will see the futility of their efforts to enthrall this city, and, as they have been compelled to do many times, give up their idea in disgust and leave this fair city in peace.

A. W. CLEAVER.

NORTHERN LUMBER MEN DEMAND CARS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TACOMA (Wash.) Nov. 26.—Suit will be instituted in the Federal Court in this district against the Northern Pacific Railroad Company by the Pacific North Lumber Manufacturers' Association for a writ of mandamus to compel the railroad to furnish cars, also for a forfeiture of the charter for a violation of the same, a common carrier.

The Executive Committee of the Pacific Coast Lumber Manufacturers' Association, which was empowered by the association to institute action deemed necessary, has intrusted attorneys to begin the legal proceedings outlined.

MINESOTA FREIGHT CHANGES.

SHIPPERS LISTEN TO HILL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PAUL, Nov. 26.—When the State Railroad and Warehouse Commission today resumed its hearings of the Minnesota Shippers' Association's complaint relative to unjust freight charges, Attorney Manahan who, in past hearings, has acted for the shippers, was denied the right of cross-questioning J. J. Hill, who was the witness today. The board informed Manahan that hereafter Attorney Young would question the witness.

Hill's testimony was to a large extent a repetition of testimony given by him last week at the Interstate Commerce Commission's hearing at Minneapolis.

RAILROAD LOCALS.

NEW NORTHERN TRAIN.

The increased travel between San Francisco and Portland has caused the management of the Southern Pacific to add another train each way daily between those points. Announcement was made at the local office that the new train would be put on tomorrow. It will have up-to-date equipment of vestibuled chair car, Pullman tourist sleeper, Pullman standard drawing-room sleeper and dining-car, San Francisco to Portland. It will make the run between San Francisco and Portland in thirty-one hours, leaving San Francisco at 3:40 p.m. and arriving at Portland the next evening. In the opposite direction the train will leave Portland at 11:30 p.m., arriving at San Francisco at 9:45 p.m. In both directions service will be via the west side of the Sacramento Valley.

The new service makes three daily trains each way bet[illegible] San Francisco and Portland against one train only a few years ago.

Tomorrow the new board of directors of the Salt Lake road will hold its first regular meeting. W. H. Bancroft of Salt Lake City, vice-president of the road, is now in the city, and will be present at the meeting.

At the recent meeting of the officials of the road held in the Mormon capital, it was agreed that in the future the passenger department would arrange for and organize all excursions, instead of allowing this part of the work to be done at all by outside excursion managers.

CONSOLIDATION OF LINES.

SANTA FE'S INTENTIONS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is reported from Austin, Tex., that the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railroad Company has made official publication in Texas, as required by law, of its purposes to apply to the next Legislature for authority to consolidate the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fé, the Texas and Gulf, the Gulf and Interstate, the Gulf, Beaumont and Kansas City and the Gulf, Beaumont and Great Northern roads.

OBITUARY.

Capt. Hugh H. Henry.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Capt Hugh H. Henry, past national commander of the Army and Navy Union, U.S.A., and chief of staff of present National Commander Browne, died today after an operation for cancer of the stomach. He was identified prominently with several patriotic societies. He will be buried Wednesday at Arlington.

Shelby M. Cullom, Jr.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Nov. 26.—Shelby M. Cullom, Jr., died today from brief acute illness, though long suffering from lung trouble. He was Clerk of the Supreme Court of Arizona, and nephew of Senator Cullom of Illinois. He was 38 years old, a native of Illinois, with no children, but he leaves a widow, formerly Miss Belle Newby of Ventura, Cal., where interment will be made, probably Friday.

BAND TAKEN BY CUBANS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Secretary Taft received the following dispatch today from Gov. Magoon at Havana, under yesterday's date:

"Band of Cienfuegans overhauled by detachment of Rural Guards under command of Capt. Landau. They were taken into custody and disarmed with difficulty, and are now being brought to Cienfuegos. Band was composed of eight men."

NATIVE DIVA MAKES DEBUT.

In Gounod's "Romeo and Juliet" She Wins Success.

Captivates New York Play-Goers at Once.

After Dozen Recalls She Is Fenced With Roses.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—With Gounod's "Romeo and Juliet" as the premier and introducing three singers new to the lyric stage of America, the grand opera season was opened tonight at the Metropolitan. The audience was, if possible, larger and the subscription section of the house even more brilliant than ever before.

Decidedly the feature of the opening night was the first appearance in grand opera in this country of Miss Geraldine Farrar, the young American soprano, and prima donna of the royal operahouse of Berlin. Miss Farrar was the Juliet, a role in which she had won her laurels in Berlin and elsewhere in Europe. Some eight years ago Miss Farrar, a girl of 16, sang on trial one afternoon in New York as a novice among aspiring vocalists. Since then she has developed into the most popular of American prima donnas in Europe and a generous endorsement of that verdict was voiced in an American audience tonight.

Charles Rousselliere, for several years one of the leading tenors of the Paris opera, was the Romeo, in which part he has been received with much favor by the critics in his own country. Charles Simard, a baritone, also a Frenchman, took the part of Mercutio. Both are new to the lyric stage in New York and both to a more or less extent shared in the triumph of Miss Farrar.

Those who reappeared in the cast tonight were Plancon as Friar Laurenz, Journet as Capulet, Muehlmann as the Duc de Verone, Miss Josephine Jacoby as Stephano, the page, and Jacques Bars as Tybalt. Miss Neumdorff as Gertrude, and Bouque as Grigorio completed the cast. Samuel Bovy, a French conductor, held the baton for the first time in this country.

Never, perhaps, before in the history of the house has Gounod's tuneful masterpiece been sung under auspices more grateful to the audience and to artists. New York was there in her full glory and before the end of the beautiful balcony scene the old house blazed with color from orchestra to the topmast gallery.

But there is one feature essentially new. Before the first act was over Miss Farrar had won her play which brought her back again and again at the fall of the curtain. It was not until the end of the balcony scene, however, that the triumph of the American girl, returned to her own people, was fully felt. With every seat filled, the audience waited without a hand clap, deeply intent upon solo and duet, until the curtain dropped.

Then indeed the young artist had cause to feel that it was into warm American hearts she had successfully sung her way. She was recalled fully a dozen times, and at each recall pages carried upon the stage great floral pieces and clusters of American Beauty roses. They came until the prima donna and Rousselliere, her Romeo, stood before a high bank of roses, and still the audience called. It was a graceful welcome and most graciously received.

It was midnight when the death scene of "Romeo and Juliet" brought the evening's play to a close. It was perhaps the best piece of artistic work of the evening, and brought out the wonderful temperamental acting of the prima donna. The audience remained almost intact, and after the curtain fell Miss Farrar and Rousselliere were given an ovation. Some of the boxes in the parterre were particularly gracious.

Among the society people of New York occupying the boxes were J. Pierpont Morgan, who held the center of the parterre, and Mrs. Charles Hitchcock, Mrs. Charles Steele, Mrs. E. R. Thomas, Mrs. Ogden Goelet, August Belmont, Mrs. Henry Clews, Levi P. Morton and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney.

UNCLE SAM'S WIRELESS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Because the United States, under the supervision of the navy, declines to tie itself down to any given system of wireless telegraphy; it is, according to reports received from the American delegates to the recent international conference at Berlin, at least two years ahead of every other power of the world in the development of this particular means of communication.

TWENTY THOUSAND CHINESE.

VIENNA, Nov. 26.—Owing to a threatened strike of farm laborers in the county of Bekes, Hungary, the agricultural society of the district held a meeting, today, and unanimously decided, in the event of the laborers proving obdurate, to hire 20,000 Chinese coolies to replace them.

It is extremely doubtful, however, that the government will permit such a step.

Bishop Henry C. Potter, preaching before the Berkeley association of Yale at Christ Church, New Haven, Sunday night, defended the American against the charge which he said had been brought by a foreign critic that Americans think only of money getting and are averse to all artistic and beautiful ideals, saying: "I can tell you that the sober second thought of the vast majority of the people of the land in which we live is sanctity of the family, good government, and a high moral tone of public life."

CREDITORS TAKE ZION.

Facing financial ruin and the disruption of its institutions, social and religious, the leaders of Zion have renounced their individual desires and turned the industries of Zion over to the creditors. Announced tonight that John Alexander Dowie, Wilbur Glenn Voliva and the church itself are prepared to sign all their interests in the industrial affairs of Zion to the city's credits. Henceforth Zion's factories will be administered by a board of directors consisting of seven members, headed by Receiver John C. Hately. Its constitution will include three capitalists who are not followers of Dowie's faith, and this, it is thought, will insure the disinterested management of its affairs in accordance with business methods.

DEMANDS TO BE HANGED.

In Judge Kersten's court today Joseph Stanska, a confessed wife-murderer, refused to accept life sentence, and pleaded that he be hanged.

"Why, I killed my wife," exclaimed Stanska; "therefore I must hang."

"But," expostulated the judge, "I shall punish you for the murder by giving you a life sentence."

"No, no, hang me, hang me," pleaded Stanska.

Sentence was postponed to allow Stanska to consider his strange demand.

WONDERFUL ELECTRIC BATTERY

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FOND DU LAC (Wis.) Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fond du Lac, Sturgeon Bay and Marinette business men have organized a company with a capital stock of $500,000 to manufacture a primary electric battery, which, if what is claimed be true, will work a revolution in the industrial world. This battery can be attached to any circuit where a direct current is used or can be used on an alternating current system for lighting purposes. The cost of lighting does not exceed 2 cents per kilowatt. Eighteen cells of the battery on a test ran a runabout auto 260 miles.

PUPILS IN BAY CITY INCREASE.

They Crowd Schools as if no Temblor Happened.

Authorities Have Difficulty to Find Rooms.

Proof That City Is Recovering From Catastrophe.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—A member of the local school board said last night that the increase in the attendance in the public schools has been almost phenomenal, and that the average attendance has now reached 30,000, within 5000 of what it was last year. Despite the fact that the board has been busy all year putting up new buildings, there is not yet sufficient room to accommodate all the pupils, and in some localities it is necessary to conduct the children to half-day sessions. The rapid increase in the attendance in the schools has exceeded all expectations, and is considered by members of the board to be positive proof that San Francisco will not for some time be as large as it was previous to the fire, but will rapidly exceed in population what it has been at any previous time in its history.

UNCLE SAM GETS JUDGMENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—Default judgment was entered against the defendant today in the United States Circuit Court in the case brought by the government against Thomas F. Barry to recover $2388 with costs and interest at 5 per cent., from May 2, 1898, for a balance alleged to be due on the latter's accounts while he was a first lieutenant of volunteers stationed at Angel Island Point in San Francisco Harbor, during the Spanish-American War.

COLTON WILL CASE.

CLAIMANTS BEGIN TRIAL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SANTA CRUZ, Nov. 26.—The Colton will case was begun today before Superior Judge Smith. S. Sacher, guardian of his six-year-old daughter, is trying to break the will of Mrs. Ellen Colton, great-grandmother of the girl, which was cut off with $1000. The remainder of the million-dollar estate left to her other daughter and children. Sacher charges undue influence on the part of Mrs. J. B. Dahlgren, the surviving daughter, who lives

STATE LAWYERS FLEE FROM PIRATE SONS OF ERIN.

Suit in Washington State for Sullivan Estate Brings Out Forty Claimants and Causes County Much Trouble in Winning Funds for Common Schools.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A fight began in the Superior Court today for the estate of John Sullivan, a Seattle pioneer, who died in 1898, leaving property now worth more than $1,000,000. On behalf of the common school fund, King county is claiming that Sullivan died without heirs and his estate escheats to the state. Two score alleged relatives are bidding to show their claims.

This is the last round of the most sensational contest ever fought in this state.

An alleged nuncupative will, bequeathing the property to Marie Sullivan, is alleged to have been Sullivan's last act, has already been knocked out. Eleven Seattle lawyers have scoured the records of County Cork, Ireland, where Sullivan's kinship, and four of them just returned after fleeing from Ireland to escape arrest for opening graves to secure further information. United States Senator Piles is attorney for two claimants, one of whom has died since litigation began.

AY INSPECTOR IS WASTEFUL.

MISSION OF INVESTIGATION SUGGESTS DISCHARGE.

Santa Fe Oil Tester, After Inquiry, Is Discovered Extravagant — He Dines at Cheap Restaurant for Thirty-Four Bits and Paid Night Letter Press.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A special committee sent by the board to investigate the affairs of Inspector John Canutt's office, made a report today, disclosing startling mismanagement and extravagance. The commission found Canutt ran his office on expense vouchers, his books are poorly kept, and his office force carried nearly as much as it should.

A nephew of Canutt was shown to be on the pay roll at $125 per month, although nowhere could the oath of office of the boy be found. Though the oil inspector lives in Seattle, it was found that he charged car fare to and from his home and had presented vouchers for meals at a restaurant where an egg could be fed at that price.

A "yellow" press was bought and paid for from Colfax clear across the state, when one could be had here for the same amount. These are examples of the condition that led the commissioners to recommend that Canutt be removed, and the office of oil inspector to be combined with that of pure food commissioner.

HIGH-SEA CRIMES.

JURISDICTION IS SETTLED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Neither Alaska nor any other territorial judicial district of the United States has jurisdiction over crimes committed on the high seas, was the decision handed down by Judge Hanford today in the case of the United States vs. Newth.

The opinion held that, under section 5339 of the Revised Statutes, a high seas crime is triable in the district where the defendant is found, or where he first is brought. The case will come to trial tomorrow before Judge Hanford.

Newth is charged with debauching Eskimo girls that he kidnapped from villages.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Is Hurt in Wreck.

TUCSON (Ariz.) Nov. 26.—Taree cattlemen were injured in a wreck Sunday morning at Irene Siding, between Vail and Pantano. Frank Cressman, Phoenix, seriously hurt about the spine; W. Constable, Lordsburg, was cut and bruised, and D. Crizzeman, Lordsburg, was bruised. The wreck was caused by a light engine crashing into the rear caboose of a stock train.

Explosion Fires Caboose.

TUCSON (Ariz.) November 26.—Ignition of a fusee in the caboose of a freight three miles east of Gila Bend, Sunday morning, caused an explosion of fusees and torpedoes, and set fire to the caboose. E. C. Carson, brakeman, was severely burned. The train proceeded several miles before the fire was discovered, and the brakeman rescued.

Men Attack Woman.

TUCSON (Ariz.) November 26.—Mrs. Frank Cox, a respectable white woman, wife of a bricklayer, was attacked by a masked man Saturday night with intent to assault. The woman resisted and was thrown from the bridge to the bed of the Santa Cruz River. The assailants followed her and renewed the attempt, but were frightened away before accomplishing their purpose. When found the woman was unconscious. She was beaten terribly. One arm was broken. A reward of $250 has been offered by the Sheriff's office. No arrests were made, and it is probable a negro committed the deed.

Italian Dies in Runaway.

SAN JOSE, Nov. 26.—John Larzida, an Italian was killed this morning on the Senter road, while endeavoring to stop his team which had started to run away. He was thrown down by the horses and trampled to death.

Insane Woman Shoots Cousin.

ALBANY (Or.) Nov. 26.—Melcina Palmer, aged 28, shot and killed her cousin, William B. Palmer at the home of her father, near here today. Apparently there was no reason for the act. The woman was formerly an inmate of an asylum and immediately following the shooting became violently insane.

Knife Avenges Wife's Insult.

SAN JOSE, Nov. 26.—In a quarrel this afternoon at First and Grant streets, William Massey who conducts a paint shop on West Santa Clara street, stabbed a painter named Ray Cameron and it is believed the latter cannot live. Massey says that Cameron insulted his wife. He is under arrest.

Shipping Is Badly Shaken.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—Shipping in the bay was badly shaken up by the strong north wind which prevailed this morning. The schooner C. T. Hill went ashore at the foot of Leavenworth street, but was towed off by the tug Pilot without sustaining serious damage. The schooner Albion was driven on the beach opposite Hyde street and the schooner Oregon, lying off Meiggs Wharf had a portion of her starboard side carried away. A number of other vessels were obliged to shift their moorings to avoid the force of the gale.

Admiral Transfers Flag.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—The cruiser Charleston is to be the flagship of the Pacific squadron, taking the place of the Chicago, which has up to the present time carried the pennant of the admiral. The Charleston will come down from Mare Island on Friday next and on that day Admiral Swinburne will transfer his flag to that vessel. The ships of the fleet will remain in the harbor until December 2, when they will proceed to Santa Barbara. The squadron is composed of the cruisers Charleston, Chicago and Boston, the torpedo destroyers Paul Jones and Preble, and the gunboat Yorktown.

STRENUOUS IN NATIVES' BEHALF.

THE PRESIDENT URGING THE PHILIPPINE TARIFF BILL.

He Desires to Impress on the Regularly-Constituted Assembly When It Meets That the United States Has Done for Its Island Wards That Which They Most Desired.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The President will make an extraordinary effort to secure the passage of the Philippine Tariff Bill.

If the Senate committee which has the bill in its keeping is not open to argument, means as strenuous as any which he ever has employed will be adopted to bring about the passage of the measure, committee report or no committee report.

The President and Secretary of War are concerned over the effect a second failure to pass this bill, which they consider a measure of justice to the Filipinos, would have on the minds of the island inhabitants. They are especially fearful of the effect because, before another year is up, there will be a regularly constituted Philippine assembly in session, and the desire is strong to have the native members take office with the feeling that this country has done for its wards the one thing which the wards most desire should be done.

HAVE ALL-AROUND KICK.

TOPEKA, Nov. 26.—The Grievance Committee of the Switchmen's Unions on all lines of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railway under the jurisdiction of J. E. Hurley, general manager, are meeting here today, with Hurley for the final adjustment of the wage controversy. One of the things wanted is second-class yards to be made first class, which means an increase of wages.

The Grievance Committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen under Hurley's jurisdiction are also here today for a two days' meeting. It is understood they will ask for a 10 per cent. raise in their wages.

OPTIONS ON U. P.

BOSTON, Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles B. McDonald, the big New York speculator, wired to Boston brokers today saying he has London advices that options outstanding there on 200,000 shares of Union Pacific bought around 188 are good until the end of February. He says Union Pacific actually is earning nearly 32 per cent.

"KATY'S" NEW MAN.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The directors of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas today accepted the resignation of Frederick N. Finney as president, and elected to his place Adrian H. Joline.

SOLDIER BOYS AS SKIPPERS.

Annual Review of Desertions Shows an Increase.

And the Colored Troops "Stood Fast" Nobly.

Finger Prints as a Tracer of Ghostless Forms.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Desertion is on the increase in the army.

The annual report of the Military Secretary shows that in the year ended June 30 there were 6254 desertions, or 7.4 for every 100 soldiers in the army. In 1905, the rate of desertion was only 6.7.

For the three years previous to that time the rate of desertions was only 6.7. From 1895 to 1904 the average of desertion was only 4.5 per cent.

The rate of desertion in 1906 was the highest in the field artillery, 9.2 per cent. The cavalry was next with 7.8 per cent.

NOT A "FAST" COLOR.

White soldiers showed a desertion average of 8.4 per cent., while the negro soldiers showed an average of only 2.2 per cent.

Twenty-five per cent. of the desertions were made in the first three months of the deserters' enlistment. Ninety per cent. of the deserters were of native birth, and as 89 per cent. of the enlisted men in 1906 were of foreign birth, the rate of desertion among natives and foreigners was about the same.

Of the men who deserted in 1906, 812 have been apprehended and 240 surrendered to the military authorities. The total number of deserters convicted of desertion, sentenced to confinement and dishonorable discharge were 628.

LESS LENIENCY REQUISITE.

"The number of desertions," says Gen. Ainsworth, "doubtless will be decreased if the military authorities themselves cease to exercise the leniency with which they have heretofore treated deserters who have been apprehended and returned to military control."

WHEN GHOSTS HAVE FLED.

FINGER TIPS EXPOSE DEAD.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Commenting upon the finger print system which has been adopted by the War Department as a means of insuring the detection of fraudulent enlistments and the identification of deserters with greater ease, Maj.-Gen. Ainsworth, the military secretary, in his annual report says:

"The finger prints of an unidentified soldier in the field of battle will establish his identity, and 'unknown dead' on the field should be a thing of the past.

"The finger prints of former soldiers will also serve as an infallible means of identification in the many pensions and other cases in which it becomes necessary to establish to the satisfaction of the government the identity of the applicants."

EUREKA'S PUBLIC BUILDING.

GOVERNMENT SELECTS SITE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Edwards today selected a site at the southwest corner of Fifth and H streets for the new public building for Eureka. The owner is the Board of Education, and the price agreed upon is $15,000. The condition of the purchase is that the City Council must pass an ordinance abdicating the right of the city to a certain portion of the twenty-foot alley running into the property.

COPPER RIVER INDIANS.

AID WOULD INJURE THEM.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Army officers who have investigated destitution among the Copper River Indians in Alaska are of the opinion that government assistance would injure rather than benefit the Indians.

In the annual report of Maj.-Gen. F. C. Ainsworth, the Military Secretary, which has just been made public, he includes a statement from Capt. Ed A. Halmick of the Tenth Infantry, stationed at Fort Liscum, Alaska, recommending that the Indians be placed under a government agent, who shall determine to what extent relief should be afforded by the government.

Capt. Halmick says that government aid to the Indians "encourages them to hope for continued assistance, that will enable them to eke out a lazy and trifling existence."

Gen. Ainsworth expresses the opinion that the Alaskan Indians can be cared for best by placing them under the Department of the Interior.

SECOND-CLASS MAIL.

EFFORTS TO CORRECT ABUSES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The Congressional Postal Commission resumed its sittings, today, with R. J. Collier as the first speaker. He opposed the revision of the laws governing second-class matter, as proposed by Third Assistant Postmaster-General Madden, but expressed sympathy with the efforts of that official to eradicate present abuses.

Collier did not believe there should be an increase in second-class rates, but was willing to have the law strengthened if the existing statutes should prove inadequate for the eradication of abuses.

The other speakers of the day were William A. Glasgow, Jr., of Philadelphia and Herbert Noble of New York. All of them appeared in behalf of the Publishers' Association, and opposed any increase of the second-class mail rate.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

DYING, HE IDENTIFIES HER.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—A coroner's jury today returned a verdict holding Mrs. Anisia Louise De Massey responsible for the death of Gustav Simon, a shirt waist manufacturer. Simon was shot and fatally injured last week in his factory in Broadway. Mrs. De Massey, who had been employed by Simon as a designer, was arrested charged with having fired the shot.

She has persistently denied her guilt. Witnesses who appeared before the coroners however, testified that just before his death Simon indentified Mrs. De Massey as his assailant.

A DOCTOR'S TRIALS

He Sometimes Gets Sick Like Other People.

Even doing good to people is hard work, if you have too much of it to do.

No one knows this better than the hard-working, conscientious family doctor. He has troubles of his own—often gets caught in the rain or snow, or loses so much sleep he sometimes gets out of sorts. An overworked Ohio doctor tells his experience:

"About three years ago as the result of doing two men's work, attending a large practice and looking after the details of another business, my health broke down completely, and I was little better than a physical wreck.

"I suffered from indigestion and constipation, loss of weight and appetite, bloating and pain after meals, loss of memory and lack of nerve force for continued mental application.

"I became irritable, easily angered and despondent without cause. The heart's action became irregular and weak, with frequent attacks of palpitation during the first hour or two after retiring.

"Some Grape-Nuts and cut bananas came for my lunch one day and pleased me particularly with the result. I got more satisfaction from it than from anything I had eaten for months, and on further investigation and use, adopted Grape-Nuts for my morning and evening meals, served usually with cream and a sprinkle of salt or sugar.

"My improvement was rapid and permanent in weight as well as in physical and mental endurance. In a word, I am filled with the joy of living again, and continue the daily use of Grape-Nuts for breakfast and often for the evening meal.

"The little pamphlet, 'The Road to Wellville,' found in packages, is invariably saved and handed to some needy patient along with the indicated remedy." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. "There's a reason."

WORKERS SWARM TO LINDLEY'S SIDE.

Never So Many Volunteers—The Rush is On and Doubters are Getting in Line—Independents Like Campbell and M'Aleer for Lindley.

"I HAVE seen a great many campaigns in Los Angeles, but never one before with so many willing workers as this," said Chairman McGarvin of the Republican City Central Committee yesterday. Mr. McGarvin and three assistants were kept busy most of the day assigning places to volunteers.

More business men called at headquarters than on any previous day. There is every evidence that the last week of the contest is to be a business men's campaign.

In years past business men who voted the Republican national ticket have turned to and helped their Democratic neighbors to elect a Democrat to the office of Mayor. This year the Democrats are repaying the loan.

Realizing that Harper's election is impossible, business men of Democratic faith are making common cause with the Republicans against the Labor Union ticket.

"There is only one candidate on whom we can count absolutely to beat Wilson," said a leading Democratic merchant yesterday, "and that is Dr. Lindley. These yelping walking delegates from San Francisco must be sent back to their kennel licked so badly that they will not have the stomach to mix a second time in Los Angeles politics.

"This campaign is an epoch-making one. It isn't a question of Republican or Democrat, but of standing together against the common enemy.

"I am surprised that men who have always professed to have the best interests of the city at heart should try to foist their non-partisan ideas on us just now. The time for us to adjust our internecine differences is not when the enemy is trying to rush our outposts.

"Personally, I should like to vote for Arthur Harper; but I am not going to do so at the risk that the loss of my vote to Lindley shall elect Stanley Wilson."

This sentiment was indorsed yesterday by scores of the volunteer workmen. Precinct polls by unbiased canvassers east of Main street, and in the Second Ward show that Wilson is leading Harper in these districts, and that Lee Gates is a poor fourth.

Reports of managers from every ward emphasized the fact that the Lindley forces are standing firm, but that there is a marked falling off of the Harper vote, occasioned by the desertion of the union men to Wilson.

DR. CAMPBELL FOR LINDLEY.

Dr. Campbell has dashed the hopes of the Gates committee in the Ninth Ward by coming out strongly for Dr. Lindley. In former campaigns Dr. Campbell has taken the lead in independent movements in his ward. He managed the campaign there that elected George Alexander Supervisor.

"Dr. Lindley will carry the Ninth Ward by a fair plurality," said Dr. Campbell last night, "a great many of us on Boyle Heights have known him for years. We know that he is the man for Mayor. We have seen him tried and not found wanting. It is no experiment to place him in the Mayor's chair.

"This talk about corporation influence is silly. Any one who knows Dr. Lindley is well aware that he will take orders from no man or set of men. His home, his family, all that he has is here. The city's interests are his interests, and he has been here long enough to know how to protect them."

Books of the precinct canvassers show that Stanley Wilson will poll two votes on Boyle Heights to one for Lee Gates. Wilson is leading Arthur Harper east of the river.

"Reports from the Fourth and Fifth wards are highly encouraging," said Manager Fleming last night; "a careful precinct canvass shows that the Non-Partisan movement for Mayor contains a great deal of smoke and but little fire.

Gates supporters have raised a great hue and cry against the Prohibitionists for exposing his record on liquor licenses while on the Police Commission. They assert that the occupants of the water wagon were slinging mud at Gates, hoping thus to elect Dr. Lindley.

GATES'S SALOON RECORD.

Yesterday a dozen Non-Partisans from the Third Ward formed themselves into a committee to investigate Gates's record as shown in the minutes of the Police Board. They wish to know whether it is true that during the whole year he served on the board he never voted with Johnson and Mason on a liquor license when the votes of James and Mayor McAleer were recorded the other way.

"We know that McAleer has been alligned with the liquor forces almost during the whole time he has been Mayor," said a Third Warder yesterday, "but we did not know that he was always able to deliver Lee Gates's vote to them too.

"If this is true, we have been deceived by the Non-Partisan committee. Johnson and Mason may have been a bit too strict, but certainly they were right some times. I for one am not going to support for Mayor a man whose vote can be delivered like so much merchandise."

The real facts of the case in the Third and Fourth wards are these. The Non-Partisans are determined to elect Niles Pease to the Council from the Fourth Ward and Walter Wren from the Third. But these Non-Partisans are of a different breed from those who are hallooing for Lee Gates; nearly all of them will vote for Dr. Lindley. They are the ones who have determined to send business men to the Council, not because they are running independently, but because they are men whose business qualifications have been proved. They know Dr. Lindley's record and they are willing to entrust him with the management of the executive department of the municipality.

M'ALEER IN LINE.

From Highland Park another unpleasant surprise has come to Dr. Lindley's competitors. This unorthodox suburb has been referred to as the keystone of the Gates Non-Partisan campaign.

A precinct canvass shows that this keystone is badly out of plumb. Highland Park is the original abode of Clan McAleer. It formed the nucleus of his mayoralty boom.

During the last two years the clan has been disappointed in many of the things he has done, but it has stood by him in his anti-railroad campaigns. The clansmen are convinced that he is not in the service of the corporations.

It now develops that Mayor McAleer has assured his Highland Park friends that he is content to entrust the campaign he started to Dr. Lindley, that he has no fear that the Dr. Lindley will deliver the city over to the railway corporations.

This assurance has been accepted by McAleer's former clansmen in good faith. If McAleer considers Lindley safe on the railroad question, they are willing to trust him too. Gate's campaign managers have been seeking to swerve McAleer from his stand in favor of Dr. Lindley but to no purpose; and the Gates boom in Highland Park has proved about as substantial as a toy balloon.

HARPER FLIRTING WITH LABORITES.

Democratic Candidate for Mayor Parades Union Label, Infamous Totem—His Managers Trying to Trade and Dicker With Union Bosses.

DESERTIONS from the Democratic ranks to those of union labor form the dominant feature of the fourth week of the Mayoralty campaign.

Arthur Harper's Campaign Committee has made the mistake that proved so fatal to Partridge during his campaign against Schmitz in San Francisco; Harper has stopped opposing the labor-union bosses, and is trying to make terms with them.

On Harper's campaign literature the union label looms up like a cabbage in a bed of lettuce. Envoys from his camp have gone to labor-union headquarters to "confer" with Wilson's managers, and have started a secret movement to divorce the Bricklayers' Union from the federated unions that are supporting Wilson.

Yesterday the first evidence of Harper's blunder appeared on the streets. Walking delegates openly flouted his disloyalty to the old-time Democratic principles, and his one-time backers made haste to withdraw money from the poolrooms.

For a week after the campaign opened there was money at Ellis Cohn's place on Harper against the field. Yesterday a Republican went to Cohn's cigar store to place a Lindley bet.

"I'm sorry I can't accommodate you," said Cohn; "there is plenty of Lindley money here, but none on any other candidate for Mayor."

In the mills and shops of the Seventh, Eighth and Ninth wards, there are but two candidates, Lindley and Wilson. On Saturday Harper men made an attempt to secure the indorsement of the Waiters' Union, an organization some 400-odd strong. This organization always indorsed Snyder. But when the Harper men reached them they got the icy hand.

Wilson's managers denied yesterday afternoon that there has been any sloughing away of the bricklayers from the labor-union candidate. "There is only one danger," said Secretary Murray, "and that is not a serious one. We have been compelled to caution our ward workers against overconfidence.

"When a manager turns in a poll from one of the Second Ward precincts showing Wilson with a plurality of fifty votes, we have to caution him against permitting his assistants to trade twenty-five of those votes for other votes for Councilman. We want to elect Mayor and Council both, but we are cautioning our managers against trading for any candidate not on our ticket.

The bricklayers are not affiliated with the other unions. Harper men have taken this as an indication that there is a lack of harmony, and they are making all kinds of promises in order to win these masons.

That there is a division among the brick masons is evident, and the Harper workers yesterday learned for the first time what it means. There are at least 200 brick masons in Los Angeles who are affiliated with their trade organization, but who own their own homes. These are almost a unit in declaring for Lindley. They think more of their homes and families than they do of their union.

There was a bear raid yesterday on Gates stock on the political bourse. Wagers were freely offered on the streets that Gates will not carry a single ward. Odds of two or three to one were offered that he will not win.

Adolph Ramish sighted some Gates money, and took it all in a lump. Ramish bet $1000 against $500 that Gates will not beat Harper.

A wager of $200 was laid that Wilson will lead Gates in the Ninth Ward. Wilson's backers offered wagers that their man will beat Gates in the Sixth, Seventh, Eighth and Ninth wards. It was only in the Ninth that there was a taker.

An Eighth Ward Republican—there are a few of them still—offered to wager $50 that Gates will not receive 100 votes in the ward. His money went begging.

An enthusiastic young Democrat bet $50 on Harper the first week of the campaign. Yesterday he sighted some Lindley money. But he has grown cautious; he went to veteran Martin March, an old Democratic wheelhorse, and asked him about Harper's chances. Martin took the boy to one side and whispered:

"Talk Harper as hard as you have a mind to, but keep your money in your pocket. Lindley looks like a good 2-to-1 bet right now."

Eddie Morris is whistling shrilly along the political pike, trying to keep his courage up. Two years ago Eddie went broke trying to reelect Mayor Snyder. Two hard winters for Eddie followed, and apparently there are more in prospect. Eddie runs a brokerage and investment company when the administration is "right." His stock company is named after a certain monarch, who came to grief several centuries ago Jew-baiting in the vicinity of the Red Sea.

Eddie's coup this campaign was the mock convention of the Liberal Alliance, the one that listened to all the candidates, and then indorsed Harper. But the sloughing away during the last two days has so disturbed Eddie that he has confided to his friends that that indorsement "wasn't worth the money."

Harper's adoption of the union-labor totem has plainly acted as a boomerang. It has divorced from him the support of a great many men of affairs, who are wont to vote the Democratic ticket.

Mayoralty candidates have attempted this in former campaigns, but they have almost invariably been defeated. Mayor Snyder's Campaign Committee used to get out two kinds of literature; the totem brand for the Seventh and Eighth wards and plain cards for west of Main street.

This plan worked until it was discovered and exposed. It was one of the straws that covered him in defeat in his last campaign.

THE "EXPRESS" ON DR. LINDLEY IN 1892.

[FROM THE EVENING EXPRESS OF JAN. 9, 1892.]

"The grand jury report is a very comprehensive document, touching upon every branch of the public business. The body appears to have made a most searching investigation and inquiry with a view of bringing to light any malfeasance in office.

* * *

"That part of the report which relates to the State Reform School at Whittier is especially interesting. The jury finds after a most exhaustive inquiry that the charges made against the management of the institution are unfounded in fact, and that the school has been well and carefully conducted. The report highly compliments Dr. Walter Lindley, the superintendent, upon the fidelity and skill exhibited in the discharge of his onerous duties."

BAKERSFIELD OIL WELLS.

Contract With Associated Oil Company Puts Wells on Dividend Paying Basis.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 26.—As a result of the new contract made Friday night with the Associated Oil Company for the product of the Independent producers in the Kern River oil fields, work has been begun in this oil district with renewed activity. Many companies which have been dormant for many months because of the impossibility to exist at the prevailing price, have resumed operations, giving employment to many men and increasing the output from the fields.

The first payment on the one million barrels in storage which was sold at 25 cents will be made by December 20th, when $100,000 will be placed at the disposition of the Independents. Many companies have signified their intention to declare dividends upon payment of this sum. The second payment of $100,000 will be made in April, which will be the occasion for the declaration of a second dividend.

LINDLEY CLUB DRAWS CITY'S YOUNG MEN.

S. S. McCahill, President. Frank C. Vaughn, Secretary.

Officers of the Young Men's Lindley Club.

"THE young men of Los Angeles are supporting Dr. Lindley for Mayor because he is a man of vigor and performance. For thirty years his constructive genius has been active in this community. The staunch men of the city—old and young—are with him in this campaign. The Young Men's Lindley Club will have over 1000 members by the end of the week."—[Herman Lichtenberger.

With a membership already exceeding 250 of the flower of Los Angeles' young manhood, the rolls of the newly organized Young Men's Lindley Club are rapidly swelling, and from every direction come young men eager to identify themselves with the movement. The educational institutions of the city are gladly furnishing their quota. The University of Southern California in all its departments, Occidental College, the Y.M.C.A. Night School and the business colleges are in line. Active workers today will measure the strength of these seats of learning.

S. S. McCahill, president of the Young Men's Lindley Club, has resided in Los Angeles over five years. He is an attorney of ability, connected with the legal department of the Title Guarantee and Trust Company.

"The growth of this Lindley club is most gratifying," said Mr. McCahill last night. "Organized only Saturday night, the club will surely make a great demonstration of its strength at its rally in Elks' Hall Friday night."

Frank C. Vaughn, also a prominent young attorney, is assured of the success of the club, of which he is secretary.

To the Executive Committee has been added Percy V. Hammon of the Second Ward. President McCahill will make four more appointments today.

The club's headquarters at No. 524 Merchants' Trust building were alive with enthusiastic visitors yesterday. Arrangements were begun that will guarantee the success of the young men's rally Friday night. Speakers of ability, belonging to the younger set of campaigners, will probably be asked to take part in the programme. It is thus early announced that ladies are especially invited to attend the rally. Elks' Hall on South Spring street will surely be a lively place Friday night.

"A law committee will look after my interests, but I question the right of the organization to act in the matter at all, under the circumstances."

WOMAN SHOOTS FRENCHMAN.

On Paris Boulevard She Fires Four Shots, Two of Which Enter Minister's Leg.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, Nov. 26.—Pierre Merlou, who was Minister of Finance in the Rouvier Cabinet, and who was appointed French Minister to Peru last September, was shot on the Boulevard Des Itallens this evening by a woman named Allemagne.

The woman fired five shots from her revolver at M. Merlou. Two of the bullets struck him in the fleshy part of the leg, but the wounds are not dangerous.

The woman was arrested and declared her act was one of vengeance. The police believe Allemagne is the same woman who attempted M. Merlou's life several years ago, and who created a scandal in the Chamber of Deputies while he was serving as Finance Minister.

Betkouski earns his living, and is splendid type of a man who has worke his way into a prosperous busines through his energy and pluck. He is proprietor of a stucco manufactory a No. 451 East Third street, and own considerable property in the Seventh Ward.

He is 46 years old and is a native o San Francisco. Coming to Los Angele twenty years ago he learned the stone cutter's trade, and followed that for a number of years, finally engaging in business for himself.

As the opponent of the "push" ele ment of the Democratic party in his ward, Mr. Betkouski has been concerned in many a lively political battle, always working for decency in politics; some times winning, sometimes losing, but always coming up smiling and keeping everlastingly at it. He was to have received the Democratic nomination for the Council at the last Democratic City Convention, but the crowd in control of the ward convention outnumbered him and named Kearney.

Two years ago Mr. Betkouski was appointed a member of the Fire Commission. His course on that commission has demonstrated his freedom from boss rule, his independence, and his firm attitude for the good of the people. He stands squarely for the Owens River project, and will tolerate no complications that will deprive the people of one jot of their rights in connection with that great undertaking.

His friends and neighbors who have known him during his long residence in Los Angeles are working earnestly for Betkouski, and his election seems certain.

DR. LINDLEY TALKS TO VOTERS OF THE THIRD WARD.

"Represents All That Is Good and Pure in Politics," Said Speaker Who Introduced Popular Independent Candidate of Republican Party at Bellevue Terrace.

As the guest of the Thirty-third Precinct Republican Club, Dr. Walter Lindley addressed a large gathering of voters in the assembly room of the Bellevue Terrace Hotel last night. For more than an hour the Republican candidate for Mayor talked on the issues of the campaign, and was listened to with marked attention by the Third Warders who crowded the room and overflowed into the lobbies.

Edwin A. Meserve paid a glowing tribute to Dr. Lindley at the opening of the meeting. "Our candidate for Mayor is true and honest," said Mr. Meserve. "He represents all that is good and pure in politics."

Dr. Lindley told his auditors of the interest he has in the youth of Los Angeles. He declared himself in favor of providing more night schools, gymnasiums, playgrounds, and of making special efforts to provide advantages for those whose opportunities are limited.

On the financial situation the speaker declared there is one proposition which overshadows all others. He stated that in his opinion the Owens River water question must take precedence in any discussion of the city finances.

Dr. Lindley repudiated boosism and declared he is free to do as he pleases. He stated that, if elected, he will sit in the Mayor's chair as an independent man without a pledge to keep other than his promise to himself to do his whole duty.

At the close of his address Dr. Lindley was greeted warmly by members of the club and their friends.

Dr. Lindley will address one or more meetings each evening during the remainder of this week.

DR. LINDLEY FOR MAYOR.

BY SIDNEY A. BUTLER.

For some time after the nominations for municipal officers were made I was in a good deal of doubt as to whom I should vote for. I have now made up my mind and am unreservedly for Dr. Walter Lindley for Mayor. I shall probably support more candidates on the non-partisan ticket than on any other, although I shall pick what I consider the best men from all tickets. I think in this way I shall show a more truly non-partisan spirit than I would if I voted unreservedly for every man on the non-partisan ticket without reference to the consideration whether the candidate of some other ticket would not prove a more acceptable man in public office. I have always been in favor of independence in local politics and shall be earnest in checking the action of any corrupt political machine which seeks to control politics for improper purposes. In local government what we want is honest, capable men, and national questions do not enter into the government of the city. I have not changed my mind in this respect a bit from my conviction of former years. I shall vote all down the line for the best men as I think and know the men who are out for each office. It does not matter in what column on a ballot sheet his name appears.

I would not say a word of disparagement of the other candidates, Mr. Harper and Mr. Gates. I know both of the men. They are good, clean men and good citizens. Dr. Lindley is in all respects the same. There has nothing derogatory to his personal character come to the surface. It is confessed by those competing with him and by all but his personal enemies that he is honest, that he has done many things of the greatest usefulness to this community, acts of devotion to the public and acts of beneficence to humanity. He is a man more of action than of words, and all that he has done has been of a public-spirited character. No one questions his executive ability. I think it is conceded by all men of unbiased minds that in this respect Dr. Lindley has few equals in the city and scarcely a superior. This makes him an eminently fit man for Mayor.

But there are even weightier reasons than these for voting for him. This city is naturally a Republican city. The party will vote the nominee of the party where he is preëminently fitted to fill the office. In a general way this might not count for much, but as things are at the moment it does count for much. There are new factors in the situation. Many unknown quantities are found in the political problem to be solved next Tuesday. No one knows how many of the 50,000 registered voters will come to the polls. We do not know how thousands of these will line up.

There is a strong and persistent effort being made to elect a man Mayor whose presence in that office on his own account and on account of the principles he stands for, as well as of the character of the people behind him, make him a most dangerous experiment in our city government.

The one thing to think of is to defeat this man and thus make sure the uninterrupted continuance of our prosperity and peace. Dr. Lindley seems to me to be the only candidate with evident backing to accomplish this.

Why then should we hesitate to support Lindley? He is capable to perform the duties of office. He is honest. Mr. Gates himself says: "Lindley, if elected, will make the best Mayor Los Angeles has ever had." I think he is the only man with assured strength to make the election of Stanley B. Wilson impossible. This seems to me ample reason for supporting Lindley.

By the way, when Dr. Lindley was superintendent of the State school at Whittier, I frequently visited that institution and know of my own personal knowledge how great Dr. Lindley's executive ability is and how thoroughly conscientiously he managed the affairs of the school.

Mr. Butler, who says the words above, needs no introduction to the people of Los Angeles. He is one of the best trusted men in the whole city. Two years ago, when the committee of 200 business men undertook the task of smashing the political machines and securing a thoroughly acceptable government for the city, these 200 business men, not a little clique of seven or eight of them, selected Mr. Butler as their candidate for Mayor. They went about it in a thoroughly business-like manner and tried to have the Republican party take up Mr. Butler as their candidate and thus make his election assured. The attempt might have succeeded had it not been for the narrow interference of the Los Angeles Evening Express. No one knows the real reason why the Evening Express opposed the nomination of Mr. Butler and favored that of Owen McAleer.—[Ed. Times.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

OMAHA (Neb.) Nov. 26.—The officials of the Western Fruit Jobbers' Association, whose headquaretrs are in this city, were notified today that the Rock Island has ordered the reconsignment rates recently inaugurated by that road discontinued.

The order, which went into effect October 1, imposed an overcharge of $2 a car on points east of the Missouri, and $5 on cars on the river and west. This charge did not apply to fruits from California, and the commission men assert, constituted a discrimination in favor of points east of the Missouri River and California fruit growers.

The matter has been submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

CRAPSEY FLOCKS ALONE.

Former Episcopalian Minister Intends to Form New Church of "Religious Freedom."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Indications point to the organization early next year of a movement in the interest of "religious freedom" at the head of which will be the Rev. Dr. Algernon S. Crapsey, who has resigned from the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal Church rather than recant opinions adjudged to be heretical.

SNOW DESTROYS PLANT.

TELLURIDE, Nov. 26.—The bunkhouse, blacksmith shop, boarding-house, boiler, engine and compressor houses, together with all machinery of the Green Mountain mine, located four miles from Animas Forks, were destroyed by a snowslide today, causing damage estimated at $50,000. It is estimated the slide came down Mastodon Gulch, and carried the wreckage of the buildings a half mile away. No one was hurt.

BRITISH LORDS WAVER.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The prospects of a compromise over the Education Bill controversy appears to be improving, although nothing tangible has been effected. There are indications that the lords will revise their own amendments during the report stage of the bill, which will begin next Thursday.

REVIVE GREEK OSTRACISM.

Russian Peasants Expel Bad Men by Ballot.

Plan Is Directed Against Revolutionists.

Country People Send Them to Siberia by Vote.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 26.—A novel use is being made by the peasants of the Smara and Buzluk districts, in the Province of Saratoff, of an ancient privilege enjoyed by the communes, by which a mass-meeting of the peasants of the commune had the right to constitute itself a popular court and expel thieving, besotted, shiftless, dissolute or otherwise exceptionally obnoxious persons from the commune into the hands of the police, who sent them in exile to Siberia.

This rough-and-ready measure was at one time resorted to in extreme cases only, the total of such expulsions not averaging more than a few hundred a year, but latterly the custom has fallen into disuse.

In Saratoff, however, the peasants of several dozen villages are now acting in unison and are using this weapon to fight the revolutionists. They have begun by adopting blank letters of expulsion and threaten to enter the name thereon of all agitators and their supporters. In these same districts the houses of several agitators have been burned, and it is reported that the peasants have appealed to the administrative officials of their districts for permission to reinstate the old system of corporal punishment for the correction of minor offenses.

As a result of these proceedings the revolutionary agitation in Saratoff province is becoming more and more extreme.

DISRUPTION OF COMMUNES.

OPPOSITION TAKEN ABACK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 26.—The great importance of the imperial ukase sanctioning the disruption of the commune is beginning to be recognized by the press, where the matter is receiving much attention. The opposition is taken aback by the wide scope of the measure, and the expected and bold initiative of the government in tackling and solving in this radical manner the problem of communal ownership, which has existed in Russia for centuries, and which hitherto always has been approached cautiously in voluminous reports and by interminable conference of the timorous bureaucracy.

RIGHT OF EVERY HOUSEHOLD.

The ukase takes up the abolition of the peasant payments, which was decided upon December 16, 1905, and which comes into effect January 14, 1907, and establishes a series of categorical articles which shall be the right of every peasant household. In communes where no redistribution has taken place for the last twenty-four years, a peasant may acquire personal property of such portions of the communal land which happen at the present moment to be in his possession, or under cultivation by him.

In communes where there has been a redistribution within twenty-four years, this problem is somewhat limited, and is subject to pro rata calculation, based on the number of members in the household. This inalienable right to acquire title is accompanied by a corresponding duty imposed upon the commune, namely, to decide within a month from the date of application which lots the applicant shall possess and what sum of money he shall pay for the extra communal land desired.

Upon failure to grant an application to the local administrative authority representing the Minister of the Interior is empowered to adjudicate conflicting claims. The ukase aims to discontinue the cultivation of widely-scattered pieces of land, which is considered unfavorable to successful agriculture by giving the householder the right to demand contiguous pieces of land, thus making it possible to consolidate his property.

The ukase further sets forth that whole communes can be broken by a large majority vote.

POLISH RAID BOMB FACTORY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WARSAW, Nov. 26.—The police today charged the house in Pywata street, near the Governor's palace, where a bomb exploded last Saturday, and discovered a plant for the manufacture of bombs. Two human fingers were also found, indicating that the explosion was accidental.

MONARCHISTS DREAD WITTE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 26.—The monarchists and reactionists, finding that their threats have not driven Count Witte out of Russia, held a meeting at Moscow today and telegraphed to the Emperor asking for his expulsion from the empire.

COLLISION KILLS ITALIANS.

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Nov. 26.—Three men were killed and five others were injured very seriously today in a collision of a work car crowded with Italian laborers on the railroad and a string of three gravel cars, in the yards of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

FANNY RICE HEARD FROM.

BOSTON, Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fanny Rice, former comic opera star, wires to the Boston Globe that she is well and was never in better health. The published stories of her being in a sanitarium "broken down, etc.," she pronounces a big canard. She is playing vaudeville in Brooklyn.

Piles Cured

Suffering for Years and Bed-ridden From Piles, a Massachusetts Man is Cured by Pyramid Pile Cure.

Trial Package Mailed Free to All Who Send Name and Address.

"I tried the sample of your cure you sent to me. I used it and then bought a 50c box. The results were immediate and surprising to me. I assure you, I had been to a dozen of the best doctors and paid much money to them with no results whatever. I had this affliction for 20 years. I was in a hospital for a long time, and I left it physically broken down. I have been so bad for months at a time as to be unable to walk. Having a friend who lost his life by an operation, I desisted from ever having that experiment tried on me. I owe you a debt of gratitude. I believe that piles would be banished from humanity and become an unknown thing, were every one afflicted with them to but spend from 50c to $1.00 for Pyramid Pile Cure. Its speedy action also makes it extremely favorable for impatient people. I am yours sincerely, George H. Bartlett, Mattapan, Mass."

Instant relief can be gotten by using the marvelous Pyramid Pile Cure. It immediately reduced all congestion and swelling, heals all sores, ulcers and irritated parts.

The moment you start to use it your suffering ends and the cure of your dread disease is in sight.

The Pyramid Pile Cure frequently renders a surgical operation unnecessary. Don't subject yourself to this except as a very last resort.

The Pyramid Pile cure is put up in the form of "easy-to-use," specially made suppositories. They are soothing, painless, instant and certain.

A trial treatment will be sent you at once by mail, in plain, sealed wrapper, without a cent of expense to you, if you send your name and address to Pyramid Drug Co., 90 Pyramid Building, Marshall, Mich.

After you receive the sample, you can get a regular-size package of Pyramid Pile Cure at your druggist's for 50 cents, or if he hasn't it, send us the money and we will send it to you.

UNDER BRIGHT RADIUM RAYS.

Jack O'Brien and Tommy Burns Meet in the Ring.

Picture Machine Tested by Manager McCarey.

Surprises Await Audience Night of Fight.

Jack O'Brien and Tommy Burns met in the ring of the Pacific Athletic Club last night before a select audience, including many women. The meeting was not a pugilistic affair, but no love was lost between the pair. They greeted each other casually, and that was all, except that each kept his eyes busy in the effort to note the other's condition. But neither could gain much knowledge on that score, for all present were so effectually disguised by the rays of the new radium lights used by the picture men that it was impossible to gain an insight into the condition of the fighters.

It will be a curious sight which meets the gaze of the fight fans on Wednesday night. The boxers will look look like Chinese, or men affected with yellow jaundice. Their features will appear discolored, and their lips and the rosy-tinted portions of their skin will seem purpled as by an aniline dye. If one of the men sheds blood during the battle, the gore will look like a stream of ink flowing from the features. Not a man there will believe he has a friend in the whole world when he looks at those about him—whom once he considered as intimates. There is nothing to compare with the radium ray to show up a fellow in his true colors, for it brings out all his ugliness. The chance to see a man as he is will be one of the features of fight night.

LIGHT IS DECEIVING.

From a survey of the men last night, O'Brien and Burns looked like bums, physically. O'Brien looked thin and drawn in the face, and Burns appeared to have two black eyes and seamed features. They will look worse the night of the battle, and only the glimpses of the fighters as they enter the ring before the pictures are taken will give the crowd an opportunity to see what they look like. Nevertheless, the fight itself will not be marred by the lights. In fact, a part of the audience will be shaded from the rays and will have a better view of the ring. The remainder will not be interfered with, for only when one looks directly at the lights do they appear at all brilliant.

The light is produced by the passage of currents of electricity through long glass tubes filled with some kind of gas or vaporous chemical. The Chemical is fused to an incandescent degree from which most of the spectrum rays are eliminated, leaving the brilliant violet to shine over the ring.

The boxers returned to their respective training quarters at the beach, last night. After a few rounds of moving pictures had been taken to test the machine, O'Brien was dressed in a long gray Prince Albert, cut in the latest fashion, and Burns looked solid as a house in a heavy navy blue overcoat, falling to his ankles, and cut in military style fit the back. The fighters and more than a score of friends were inspired to do the ghost dance in the center of the ring while the picture machine was set in motion. So far as known, the operation was a success.

SEATS SELLING FAST.

The seats for the fight are selling fast and it is believed the house will reach over $25,000. Reservations unsalled for will be sold after tonight. All the $5 seats are gone, and many of the higher-priced seats have been disposed of or reserved.

Charley McHugh returned last night after a four days' advertising trip through Southern California. In an auto. He visited thirty-five towns and covered about 300 miles. He says that interest in the big fight is keen, and that a large number of persons from outside towns will be here to witness the battle.

Abe Attell is imbued with the ambition to become the Spring-street fashion plate. He ordered three new suits of clothes from his tailor last night and expects to sport them after his fight with Jimmy Walsh. After Wednesday's battle Abe will take up the training quarters vacated by Burns at Long Beach.

GANS TO RETIRE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Upon arrival in Chicago, today en route to San Francisco, champion Joe Gans, reiterated the statement that his coming battle with "Kid" Hermann at Tonopah would be his last unless a bout with Battling Nelson may be arranged.

"Why do I retire?" he said. "Simply because I have enough money to start in some business. With me the prize ring has been the means to an end for a decade, and I have prepared for a rainy day."

GANS AND HERMAN.

AGREEMENT IS SIGNED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TONOPAH, (Nev.) Nov. 26.—Articles were signed here today by representatives of Gans and Herman and the Casino Athletic Club for a finish fight for the lightweight championship of the world, to take place at Tonopah New Year's day for a purse of $20,000. Each party agent posted a forfeit of $5000. Should either contestant be overweight he is to forfeit the sum of $2000 to his opponent.

Siler, Graney, Jeffries, Bat Masterson and Jack Welch were suggested for referee. It was finally agreed that the referee be selected later, but to be one of the five named. Herman will start to work Wednesday. Gans is due in about a week.

RIVERSIDE TRIP VERY ENJOYABLE.

BEST ROUTE TO REACH THE BOX SPRINGS GRADE.

Roads in Condition to Make Good Time From Los Angeles—Rains Have Interfered Very Little With Travel—Country People Warming to Automobilists.

Automobilists who intend making the trip between Riverside and Los Angeles on Thanksgiving Day, for the purpose of witnessing or participating in the hill climbing contest at the Box Spring grade, will find the roads leading from Los Angeles to the course in good shape unless conditions change from now until Thursday.

The road was gone over Sunday by E. Bennett, of the Wayne Automobile Company, in a Wayne car in time equalling the record of two hours and twenty minutes made some months ago by J. H. Shroder in a Tourist car which he drove himself and without any extra carrying weight. Bennett's car was driven by A. Sibert, and carried five people. He brought it back to Los Angeles Monday afternoon and the machine was in good condition after the long run. For the most part the road bed proved hard and the water from the recent rains formed in pools instead of spreading over the entire surface.

The best road to follow in making the trip is that through Pasadena, Monrovia, Azusa, Glendora, South Claremont, Upland, Cucamonga and Etiwanda. It follows a comparatively straight line through these points and would be hard to mistake except in one or two places. Just before entering Claremont the main road turns off to the left. By keeping straight ahead over a branch road that leads through the southernmost portion of Claremont, almost a mile can be saved.

The first portion of the road is by far the most difficult to get over. As far as Monrovia fast driving is rendered unpleasant by the condition of the road bed, but once past that point the greater part of the remainder is as good as any road in this section of the State. For several miles along the line past Uplands the road bed has been oiled recently and affords particularly good driving. After crossing the railroad tracks at Etiwanda, the road passes through a stretch of barren plain that has never had a good roadbed put through it, but the number of machines passing through have worn down tracks that gives the drivers a chance to take the cars comfortable along through that section.

FAST TIME POSSIBLE.

With the speed regulations eliminated and the roads in their present condition, the run might be made by a fast car and a good driver in two hours. Taking one's time and running along comfortably it should consume somewhere in the neighborhood of two and a half to three hours. Should the rain continue as at present, it is probable that considerable water will be encountered on the route—but over the hard roadbed not much mud need be feared.

The run is one of the most beautiful in all California. Passing along the northern side of the Azusa-Covina-Glendora Valley it takes in practically all of the beautiful towns that are clustered there with the exception of Pomona and Ontario. It passes along the hill-slopes that present incomparable landscapes, green orange lands with snow-seamed mountains beyond—and then darts suddenly into a long avenue encompassed in pepper trees that makes a splendid vista. The grade is not severe or even troublesome at any point.

The attitude of the people towards automobilists in the surrounding country and especially in the towns seems to have moderated of late. Even at Azusa, where once were the most rabid of the townspeople, the sentiment has changed considerably in the last six months, and drivers who refrain from running under the single tree of every passing vehicle can be assured of a smile, if not a request for a ride, even in the camping grounds of the Dunkards.

Everything now depends upon the continuance or discontinuance of the rainy weather. Should the Box Springs grade be given only a few hours to which to dry, if there be a rain, it would probably be in good shape for the race. The roadbed is built of decomposed granite, which takes moisture well.

McGovern and Corbett.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Following a meeting of their managers here today, it was announced that Terry McGovern and Young Corbett had been matched for a bout for not less than fifteen rounds to take place during the week ending January 31. Each side posted a forfeit of $1000. Tim Hurst will referee the fight.

THROUGH GAVIOTA PASS.

Only Route Not Open and Desirable for Motorist Traveling North of Santa Barbara.

There is enough beauty in Gaviota Pass to repay a motorist for "Whooping the Whoops" along the Gaviota road beyond Santa Barbara. These "Whoops," as H. L. Smith of Pismo calls them, are a series of ups and downs along the coast road between Gaviota Pass and Santa Barbara, sixty-five in number, though there are but forty of the larger ones.

Gaviota Pass is the only route north of Santa Barbara now open and desirable for the motorist traveling north and crossing the Santa Ynez Mountains. Refugio Pass is short in miles, but almost impossible to make by motor car, though several cars have finally got through it the past summer.

San Marcos Pass is still shorter and avoids the "Whoops," but is dangerous and was closed to the automobile and motorcycles by the Supervisors of Santa Barbara county. Although the State automobile law makes this road free to all, but few automobile users go that way on account of having to ford the Santa Ynez River. There is a good bridge on the Gaviota Pass route.

The grade through the Gaviota is very easy and the scenery grand, more so than in any other of the many passes between San Diego and San Francisco.

BREAK IS IMMINENT.

Yale Furious at Alleged Dictation of Harvard in Important Athletic Affairs.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Another athletic break between Harvard and Yale, like that following the annual football game at Springfield in 1894, is thought by many to be close at hand.

Yale men, particularly undergraduates and younger alumni, are furious over Harvard's dictation in matter of officials, practically all of those in Saturday's game being Harvard selection; while among athletic authorities there seems to be a feeling of not caring particularly whether relations are continued or not.

President Eliot is not anxious for their continuance, anyway. He declares today it will do no harm for Harvard to break with Yale. He favors interclass athletic contests only in the future.

Yale men say Bill Reid, Harvard's head coach, assumed the position of dictator, and Yale's athletic leaguers were thoroughly aroused over his attitude, and but for the fact that so many tickets had been sold by the Harvard end for the game, the contest would have been cancelled and Princeton substituted for Harvard. In fact, negotiations had been started with Princeton and suddenly dropped and an attempt made to keep the fact secret.

Emeryville Races.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—With a hard fast track today at Emeryville, there were a number of exciting finishes, notably in the third, when Manzard, overlooked by the talent, beat out Royal Rogue. Results:

POLO TEAMS PLAY BALL.

Riverside Outclassed by Santa Barbara.

Pattee Shines Brilliantly in First Contest.

Los Angeles Team Meets the Winner Today.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] To help them win yesterday's polo game, the Riverside players brought up a brindle bull terrier as mascot. This canine appeared on the field resplendent in a huge bow of red ribbon, the Riverside color. One of the Santa Barbara grooms brought along a large black woolly dog, and after the third period the black dog walked up to the brindle dog and with the utmost good nature bit off the red bow.

The dog told the story. Santa Barbara outplayed Riverside at all points of the game, and won by a score of 8 to 1. The locals had the ball at the visitors' end of the field three-quarters of the time. The local players showed better team work and hit the ball cleaner, and that meant a good deal with the field in the condition it was in. Just enough rain fell during the morning, and while the game was in progress, to cake the dust, and as the result, the ball was covered with mud most of the time, making long shots an impossibility.

Not until the last period was half over did the Riverside team show any really fast play, and then it was only a flash. However, it gave the spectators a few moments of excitement, for the team lined out in beautiful style, and Pattee, taking the ball from Roberts, ran it from one end of the field to the other, and through the goal posts. It was about the best run of the day.

In the first period Santa Barbara rushed the ball down the field, and kept it about round the Riverside goal during the entire twelve minutes of play. In this period the locals missed the posts by narrow margins five separate times, and Riverside was constantly in danger of being scored on. Finally Colby sent the ball through for the first score. Roberts caught the ball on the throw-in and took it the length of the field, only to lose it to a Santa Barbara man, who worked it back again into Riverside territory. Just as the whistle blew, Nave crossed E. J. Boeseke.

Score: Santa Barbara, 1; Riverside, 0.

SNAPPY SCRIMMAGE.

The second period opened with Santa Barbara taking a free shot at goal for Nave's cross, but the ball was stopped in front of the posts. After a short scrimmage around the Riverside goal, R. C. Boeseke crossed the ball in front of the posts, and snapped it through with a beautiful shot under his pony's neck. Santa Barbara got another free hit on Roberts's safety a minute or so later, but the ground was too heavy for sixty-yard hits, and R. C. Boeseke failed to make the goal. Colby and R. C. Boeseke made a good run down the field, and had the ball right in front of the Riverside goal when time was called. In this period, Pattee, mounted on a very fast gray, seemed everywhere at once, and played fine polo.

Score—Santa Barbara, 2; Riverside, 0.

Soon after the ball was thrown in for the third period, Colby hit a fine shot from the east side boards and following at top speed, sent the ball squarely between the sticks with a lofted shot. After a minute or so of play, in which Riverside worked the ball well toward the Santa Barbara goal, the locals again took possession, and R. C. Boeseke narrowly missed the posts. A scrimmage followed the knock-out, and Colby, managed to slip the ball through for another score. Santa Barbara rushed the ball into Riverside territory, and F. J. Boeseke scored.

The next goal came from the stick of Colby, Jr., who brought off a very snappy shot. Colby and J. F. Boeske contributed the next goal, the former catching the ball by the side-boards and straightening it out for Boeseke to slam through the posts ten feet from the ground. Colby, Jr., did some good hitting and narrowly missed scoring again as time was called.

Score—Santa Barbara, 7; Riverside, 0.

RIVERSIDE SCORES ONE.

The locals had the game cinched when they went in for the final period, and seemed well aware of the fact. Santa Barbara had one or two long shots for goal but missed, and then Pattee, on his fast gray, took the ball from Nave near his own goal and took it through the posts. After this until the close of the game, the play was fast and furious, "Little Jack" Colby scoring the final goal just as time was called.

Riverside and Los Angeles meet tomorrow afternoon. The winner of the match will play Santa Barbara for the championship Thanksgiving afternoon.

Final score: Santa Barbara, 8; Riverside, 1.

Santa Barbara: J. L. Colby, Jr., No. 1; J. L. Colby, No. 2; R. C. Boeseke, No. 3; E. J. Boeseke, back.

Riverside: F. Nave, No. 1; W. E. Pedley, No. 2; H. Pattee, No. 3; W. Roberts, back.

Umpire—T. Weiss.

CHALLENGES GALORE.

Young Sprouts of the Diamond Want Flings at Opponents During This Week.

Meyers' Junior baseball team of Pasadena wishes to connect up with some local team of baseballers for a game of the national sport on Thanksgiving Day. Manager Carleton can be communicated with by calling up 1672 on the Home phone.

The Olive team of Orange wishes to hand out a challenge to the local team of Colored Giants in the hope that they will be taken on for a game next Sunday. All the Giants need to do to close the deal is to write out their acceptance of the challenge and send it to Manager McCoy, Olive, Cal.

The local Newsies baseball team is on the lookout for a baseball game. The manager, F. J. Perkins, can be reached by addressing a letter to 612 Wall street.

SEYMOUR WINS EASILY.

Defeats Kenniston in Three-Cushion Billiards in Final Series of Games.

Seymour defeated Kenniston by a score of 40 to 20 in the first game of the deciding series of the three-cushion billiard tournament at Hoffman's Hall, last night. The men played 76 innings and Seymour had all the best of it in the early part of the game. At the end of 20 innings the score stood 21 to 3 in his favor, but Kenniston made wonderful runs of two sixes and four and crept up on his opponent. Seymour's best runs were 4, 3, 3.

Tonight Kenniston and Kennedy will play, and Friday night the winner will meet Seymour for the final game.

IT WORKS AUTOMATICALLY AND DOESN'T WEAR OUT.

But the Device of Durbrow, Los Angeles Man, Seems Better Adapted for Mechanical Application Than to Replace the Much-Abused Human Organ of Filtration.

Seeing that the human kidney of the modern fast-living individual is a much abused, weak and often atrophied member, George W. Durbrow, hydraulic engineer of repute, has invented and patented an artificial kidney of steel and brass and fire clay which can not clog up, can not wear out, and works automatically no matter under what stress.

The beauty of this invention is that it can be applied alike to the filtration system of the human being or of a high steam plant, or to the refining of oils or the rectification of spirits.

This ingenious device, a working model of which may be seen any day operating in the basement of the Huntington building, is simplicity itself in construction. The main casting contains the duct through which the water or other liquids pass, with the composition filtering disks upon which the fluid impinges with a succession of velocity, and with each successive contact with the filtration disk depositing more and more of its solid mineral and other impurities in three corresponding sumps which connect with a common waste way at the bottom of the filter.

In the actual experiments made with the filter in use at the Hunting building, common hydrant water was through the apparatus deposits an unbelievable amount of impurities of various sorts in the settling sumps, which it is easily blown off from time to time through the waste pipe.

It is just this sort of foreign matter in the water which clogs the circulatory system of a steam boiler plant and affects mankind with half the infirmities that flesh is heir to. But a steam boiler, unfortunately, can not take a month off to go to the hot springs.

YOUR THANKSGIVING DINNERS EXPENSIVE.

This bird, if he weighs twelve pounds, will cost ten cents less than four dollars this year's Thanksgiving.

BEHOLD that succulent Thanksgiving gobbler reposing on the snow-white platter; feast your eyes on the beautiful brown carcass; inhale the seductive fumes exhaled in a volume of appetizing steam, curling skyward.

Feel the glands open in your mouth and your "teeth water" at the prospect, and that "all-gone feeling" become uncomfortably aggressive.

Brown, juicy, rich in flavor, that turkey appeals to every sense of a hungry man, as the sweet incense fills his nostrils, floating through the window—from his wealthy neighbor's dining-room.

At thirty-two and a half cents per pound, a good, solid whiff of Thanksgiving-turkey aroma is about all the average householder's stomach can stand.

His twelve-pound turkey this year will cost him within 10 cents of $4, and that is a big hole in the average man's weekly salary. Dressed, it will weigh nine and a half pounds, thus bringing its price up to exactly forty-one cents a pound.

But some way or other, turkey will be on almost every man's table Thursday, even though it prove an expensive luxury. Just as well deprive the boy of his firecrackers on the Fourth of July as to pinch the purse and buy no turkey on Thanksgiving.

Dealers seemingly anticipate a light demand, as none of the retailers were making the usual showing at their stands last night.

When you go in and ask the price, they tell you in a scared-to-death tone of voice, as if to give you a chance to drop dead after you get outside.

The price is far above that asked on any previous year for a long period, and just about double the normal price, even in a big consuming center like Los Angeles. The probable reason for this, or one of the reasons, is the large number of hotels and restaurants in the city that make a great demand for the best, and do not stand at the price, when they have an army of free-spending tourists to feed.

The dealer tells you it is because turkeys are scarce, and the producer tells you it is because turkeys are difficult to raise and therefore very expensive, but none of these reasons appeal strongly to the fellow who buys the goods.

CHICKENS SAME.

Chickens cackle at the same price as turkeys.

There seems to be a larger showing than usual of cottontails, squabs, quail, ducks and other things to take the place of the recognized Thanksgiving bird.

But none of these lighten the poor man's burden to a very great extent, for prices on all kinds of game are high, and even the common things that go with the Thanksgiving dinner have climbed up in price. Cranberries are a notch higher, selling at 15 cents, straight, and very scarce, while even Irish potatoes that make the mash that goes with the gravy that was made from the turkey, are 25 cents higher than last year.

To top it all off, a scarcity of coal has raised the price to a rate of $14 a ton, for small quantities, while the gas supply, unable to cope with the extraordinary demand, struggled like a weakling for several days and yesterday gave up the ghost, thus lending its aid in keeping up the price of the fuel with which the Thanksgiving turkey must be roasted.

Eggs are 50 cents a dozen, if you want fresh ones, or 30 cents if you want to take chances with the cold-storage supply, and many other things might be quoted in the same category.

On the other hand, it is doubtful if ever a Thanksgiving season was ushered in amid such general prosperity, and while wages may be no higher than last year, steady employment is the rule in every line of trade, and even if the Thanksgiving "spread" does reach the topmost notch in cost, it will likewise prove topmost in point of relish, because of the glad surroundings.

BETHLEHEM'S BROAD FEAST.

Among the reminders of the old-fashioned days, when all the people of a neighborhood sat down together to enjoy their Thanksgiving, is the annual custom at Bethlehem Institution. For the past ten years Dana Bartlett has gathered all the people who are willing to come and they have there feasted together.

Mr. Bartlett's invitations to these dinners have always been of the widest possible scope. There is no sorting or sifting process, "free to all" is the unselfish, unequivocal motto, and all who appear there are served with the best in the larder.

There is one marked difference between these Bethlehem dinners and those served by any other benevolent institution. All the well-to-do people who take a special interest in that work, and live near by, carry their provisions to Bethlehem and put them into the general supply for the day, and then with the family of Mr. Bartlett they all sit down together and enjoy themselves as one large family. In order that the common invitation may be carried out to the fullest, and that no person who accepts it may be turned away hungry, people from all parts of the city send in supplies, and on every Thanksgiving Day many hundreds are served with the best dinner of the year. No need to ask what sort of supplies Mr. Bartlett needs, you know what makes a Thanksgiving dinner and that's what he wants. Think of him before Thursday.

INVENTS KIDNEY NOT TO CLOG.

IT WORKS AUTOMATICALLY AND DOESN'T WEAR OUT.

But the Device of Durbrow, Los Angeles Man, Seems Better Adapted for Mechanical Application Than to Replace the Much-Abused Human Organ of Filtration.

Seeing that the human kidney of the modern fast-living individual is a much abused, weak and often atrophied member, George W. Durbrow, hydraulic engineer of repute, has invented and patented an artificial kidney of iron and brass and fire clay which can not clog up, can not wear out, and works automatically no matter under what stress.

The beauty of this invention is that it can be applied alike to the filtration system of the human being or of a huge steam plant, or to the refining of oils or the rectification of spirits.

This ingenious device, a working model of which may be seen any day operating in the basement of the Huntington building, is simplicity itself in construction. The main casting contains the duct through which the water or other liquids pass, with three superposition filtering disks upon which the fluid impinges with a successive reduction of velocity, and with each successive contact with the filtration disk depositing more and more of its solids, mineralsand other impurities into three corresponding sumps which all connect with a common waste way at the bottom of the filter.

In the actual experiments made with the filter in use at the Huntington building, common hydrant water sent through the apparatus deposits an unbelievable amount of impurities of various sorts in the settling sumps, where it is easily blown off from time to time through the waste pipe.

It is just this sort of foreign matter in the water which clogs the circulatory system of a steam boiler plant and affects mankind with half the infirmities that flesh is heir to. But a steam boiler, unfortunately, can not take a month off to go to the hot springs to get back into shape again. Neither probably could the man with a pair of bad kidneys wear a Durbrow filter in his vest pocket and get the desired results. But the steam boiler plant is given a perfect set of kidneys through the introduction into its feed water system of the Durbrow filter, and for the human being the same result is attained through using the filter for the purifying of drinking water, quickly and surely eliminating all of the substances deleterious to the system.

There are hundreds of filters in the market, but engineers who have seen the Durbrow filter say that it is the simplest and most positive in action of any. The idea first came to Mr. Durbrow in a slightly modified form when he invented and patented a clever arrangement for the intakes of irrigation canals. The end to be attained was the separation of foreign matter from the water sent through the irrigation canals in order to prevent the clogging and filling of the intakes.

This device, called a filtration dam, was invented especially for the intake of the California Development Company at the Colorado River. But when the floods came, washing out the canal and flooding the Salton Sink, the proposition of Mr. Durbrow was forgotten in the need of closing the break quickly and saving the valley.

At the same time the rise in the Salton Sea flooded out the salt works which Durbrow had conducted for more than twenty years, and with the destruction of which he was cut off from all of his income from that source. It was at this time that Durbrow, flat on his back from his vain efforts to save his salt works, thought out the details of his new filter.

As soon as he had built a satisfactory working model he organized the Durbrow Filtration Company, of which he, George W. Durbrow, is president; H. C. Brown, vice-president, and Walter M. Brown, secretary. Henry E. Brett is the engineer in charge. The work of the company is the installation of the Durbrow River filtration dams, municipal filtration plants, and the filtration of water for boilers.

The fire which broke out on board the torpedo school-ship Algeiras, at Bologne, France, Sunday night, has burned itself out and resulted in the almost complete destruction of the vessel, which was a wooden line of battleship, built in 1855. The origin of the blaze has not been definitely ascertained. Three sailors were burned to death, six were injured and eight firemen were more or less hurt.

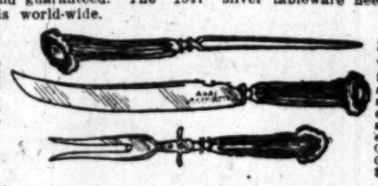
Thanksgiving Reminders

There is just one more day after today in which to prepare for the Thanksgiving and we suggest that you visit our store early.

Judging by the number of purchases made in our store the past week, the people of Los Angeles are awake to the fact that we are offering very decided values in Cutlery and Silverware. Our Cutlery is of the very best English made and guaranteed. The "1847" silver tableware needs no word of recommendation from us. Its reputation is world-wide.

2-Piece Carving Sets

Two-piece carving sets for as little as $1.50. We especially recommend one of our $4.50 sets—fork and knife, with genuine stag handles. They are put up in neat cases—but the implements themselves are what we especially call attention to—they are reliable, high class, good for this Thanksgiving and for many others to come.



3-Piece Carving Sets

We have three-piece sets from $2.50 up. The set illustrated sells at $7.00. Knife, fork and steel, with genuine stag handles bound in silver—packed in a neat case. This is a warranted set, real English cutlery. Come in and have a look at it. Other three-piece sets up to $14.00.

1847 Vintage Silverware

This is one of the latest patterns. The illustration gives you an idea of its general character. Price, per set of six, as follows:

Medium Knives	$5.00
Medium Forks	$3.00
Teaspoons	$1.50
Dessert Spoons	$2.50
Table Spoons	$3.00

1847 Windsor Pattern

This is one of the standard patterns. Plain, simple, in excellent taste—no doubt it will match up the tableware you are now using.

Price per set of six as follows:

Teaspoons	$1.25
Dessert spoons	$2.00
Knives and forks, set of six each, 12 pieces in all	$3.75

For the Thanksgiving Roast

The Savory Seamless Roaster, as illustrated, is the very best on the market. It has no seams or corners, the inside is oval and smooth as plate glass. Needs no water, no attention. Just leave it alone—it does its own basting, retaining all the juices and flavors of the meat, without an ounce of waste. This roaster though priced higher than some others, is really the most economical to use, in that it absolutely prevents waste. We have it in solid sheet steel at $1.50. In steel enamel at $2.00.

L. & H. Roasters

This make is especially good for moderate price roasters. They are well made, have turned corners, raised bottoms and ventilated covers. These L. & H. roasters are thoroughly reliable.

If you want merely a bake pan, they are here in several sizes at 15c and 25c.

In our utensil department in the basement will be found many of the little kitchen necessities so indispensable in lightening the work. These goods are priced at figures that especially recommend them.

We cannot too strongly impress the advisability of shopping early in order to secure the best selection and to make sure of delivery before Thanksgiving.

THE WEATHER.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, Nov. 25.—[Reported by A. B. Wollaber, Local Forecaster.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the thermometer registered 43 deg.; at 5 p.m., 73 deg. Relative humidity, 8 a.m., 66 per cent.; 5 p.m., 49 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., northeast, velocity 3 miles; 5 p.m., west, velocity 7 miles. Maximum temperature, 73 deg.; minimum, 37 deg.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—There has been but little change in pressure over the Pacific Slope during the past twenty-four hours. Cold, clear weather prevails generally in California. The conditions are favorable for fair weather Monday in California, with heavy frost in the morning in the interior. Forecast:

For San Francisco and vicinity: Fair Monday; light north wind, changing to west, possibly light frost in the morning.

Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys: Fair Monday, with frost in the morning; light north wind.

Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair Monday; light frost in the morning; light north wind changing to west.

Arizona: Fair Monday and Tuesday.

Classified Liners.

Times "Liner" Advertisers—Important. Note change in rate for Sunday classified advertisements. Commencing Sunday, October 1, 1905, the rate for Sunday "Liners" was raised to 1¼ cents per word for each insertion; minimum charge, 25 cents, as at present. This slight advance is amply justified by the present Sunday circulation of The Times, which averages over 70,000 copies. (When the 1-cent-per-word rate was established in 1893, The Times Sunday Circulation was only 14,000 copies.) The "Liner" rate for the daily—1 cent per word—will stand as at present.

Telephone your want advertisements. Ring up "The Times" any time of day or night, and secure prompt and careful attention. Rates one cent a word each insertion in the Daily; 1¼ cents per word in the Sunday edition; minimum charge, 25c.

"Liner" (classified) advertisements for Sunday insertion received over the counter or by telephone after 11 o'clock Saturday nights will be inserted under heading "Too Late to Classify."

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephoned advertisements.

Sunday real estate advertisements, to be classified properly, must be in The Times office before 10 o'clock Saturday nights. Rate 1¼ cents per word.

SAN PEDRO ST. VALUES ARE JUMPING.

BUT NOT AS FAST AS THE PRINTER INDICATED IN SUNDAY'S TIMES.

ALTHOUGH WE BELIEVE THAT THIS BLOCK BETWEEN FIFTH AND SIXTH STS. (THE TWO PRINCIPAL APPROACHES TO THE DEPOT,) IS THE MOST VALUABLE ON THE STREET, AND KNOW THAT THIS PIECE IS ESPECIALLY DESIRABLE BECAUSE OF ITS DEPTH, WE INTENDED TO SAY IT WOULD BE WORTH $1000 PER FRONT FOOT IN TWO YEARS, INSTEAD OF "TWO MONTHS."

FOLLOWING IS A COPY OF SUNDAY'S AD., WITH THE NECESSARY CORRECTION, AND WE HOPE THAT YOU WILL TAKE THE TROUBLE TO SATISFY YOURSELF THAT WE ARE NOT WRONG IN OUR PREDICTIONS:

DECEMBER 15.
DECEMBER 15.
DECEMBER 15.

IF NOT SOLD THEN, THE PRICE WILL BE ADVANCED.

WOULD $54,000 PROFIT ON A $12,000 INVESTMENT SATISFY YOU? IF SO, DON'T HESITATE.

BUT BUY 244-250½ SOUTH SAN PEDRO ST., 100x172 FEET, FOR $46,000, BEFORE DECEMBER 15. PAY $16,000 CASH AND THE BALANCE OF $30,000 ON OR BEFORE 5 YEARS, AT 6 PER CENT. THE INCOME FROM THE PRESENT IMPROVEMENTS, CONSISTING OF FOUR COTTAGES AND ONE HOUSE, WILL ALMOST TAKE CARE OF THE INTEREST.

WHEN SAN PEDRO ST. IS OPENED UP NORTH OF SECOND ST., AND WIDENED NORTH OF FIFTH ST., IT WILL BECOME A FAR MORE IMPORTANT THOROUGHFARE THAN MANY NOW REALIZE, AND THIS FRONTAGE WILL BE WORTH AT LEAST $4000 PER FOOT IN TWO YEARS, OR $400,000, THEREBY GIVING A PROFIT OF $54,000.

REMEMBER THAT THE STREET IS NOW BEING PAVED, SO TAKE IT BEFORE DECEMBER 15, AND DON'T WAIT UNTIL WORK IS ACTUALLY BEGUN IN THAT BLOCK.

THE PRICE QUOTED IS $40 PER FRONT FT. CHEAPER THAN ANYTHING ELSE IN THE BLOCK, AND IT IS BY FAR THE LARGEST AREA TO BE HAD THERE.

DECEMBER 15.

FLOWER ST.—CORNER—FLOWER ST.
N.E. CORNER 8TH AND FLOWER ST.
$75,000—$75,000—$75,000
Splendid corner of 165x165 feet at about $577 per foot; this beyond all question is the finest, cheapest and best property on the market today; for a hotel, apartment or a site to cover with a large building this is ideal; 150-foot corners are very scarce, hence the size makes it especially desirable; this corner will make the investor independently wealthy if he holds it 5 years and the income from proper improvements will furnish an annuity for life. Compare this price with the prevailing prices for front foot on other properties within this district. Corner of 7th and Flower sold for $1000 per foot; corner 7th and Flower is held at $1100 per foot; corner 9th and Olive sold for $1500 per foot, and corner 8th and Hope $820 per foot. In fact a fact that the N.E. corner of Ninth and Flower is the best investment on the market? Investigate.
FLOWER ST.—$17,500—FLOWER ST.

RUMMY CHUCKLE, MANAGER BUSY.

W.C.T.U. HAS STRUGGLE WITH SUNSET 'PHONE.

Liquor Advertisement on Last Page of Directory Stirs Up the White Ribboners and They Try to Tell the Company to Leave It Out Next Time.

The next issue of the Sunset Telephone directory will be awaited with burning eagerness by the ladies of the W.C.T.U. For a week past they have been trying to reform and purify that refractory volume.

Incidentally, they have all but thrown the hello girls into spasms and driven the manager to distraction. To this cause may be attributed the bad telephone service of the past few days. It is usually one of the best-managed telephone systems in the United States. For three days the task of trying to get a telephone number has driven strong men to tears—and worse.

Listen to the cause.

The recent W.C.T.U. federation adopted vigorous resolutions calling attention to the fact that the back page of the Sunset telephone directory is adorned with a big liquor advertisement of a Spring-street wholesale house. The W.C.T.U. hold that this endangers the morals of the young, and tempts the old.

Various methods of practical reform were suggested. It was finally agreed that each lady of the W.C.T.U. should ring up the manager of the telephone company and request him in no uncertain terms to remove the offensive advertisement.

Since that time the manager of the telephone company has led a busy life. Literally a "busy" life.

The first lady who rung up lives on the East Side; she took down the receiver, and the silvery voice of central said, "Number?"

"I want to call your attention to the liquor advertisement ——"

"Number?" repeated central, who does not encourage any persiflage.

"I want to call your attention ——"

"Do you want chief operator?" asked central, shortly.

"I want you to take the whisky advertisement off the back page," called the W.C.T.U. lady, excitedly.

A profound silence, broken only by the singing buzz of the wires. Then a quick, sharp voice: "Chief operator," is said.

"I want to have that liquor advertisement ——" began the lady reformer, severely.

"What's the name of the liquor house you want to telephone to?" said the chief operator, sharply.

"Me! Liquor house!" gasped the W.C.T.U. lady.

"What number is it you want?"

"I don't want any number."

"I'll give you the traffic manager." Ping!

After a while a gruff, short voice rang in and said "Hello." The traffic manager gave her the wire chief, and the wire chief gallantly handed her over to the district superintendent, and the district superintendent then switched her over to the advertising department. The advertising department listened patiently to her trouble until a soothing voice said: "I'll tell you the one you want to talk to; you want to talk to the manager."

This time there was a long silence. At last, when she was just getting discouraged, a formal voice said, "Hello, this is the manager."

Once more she related the story of her troubles; the voice said: "You will have to talk to the manager himself; I am only the secretary."

"Give me the manager please," said the W.C.T.U. lady, who was ready to take the count.

"Very sorry," said the voice, "but the manager is busy now, and can't be disturbed." The W.C.T.U. lady fainted. (Chuckling noise from the Demon Rum.)

Since then there have been so many telephone calls that the sight of a beer wagon going by on the street causes a shudder to run through the telephone building. Several of the ladies have actually run the gauntlet and have got to the manager's ears; at least they are led to believe so.

"He has been so polite," said one of the ladies, yesterday.

"Did he say he would take out the offensive ad?" she was asked.

"Well—he—he didn't exactly; that he didn't say—the fact is, he just listened, and was polite, and we don't know whether he will or he won't."

Kindess of Dr. Lindley.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Believing it to be the duty of every citizen, black and white, to support the best men for municipal office, I desire to say a word in behalf of Dr. Lindley's candidacy. I have known him personally for more than twenty years, and know that he is very friendly and especially considerate toward every honest, industrious and respectable colored man. I have frequently known him to render his professional services as a doctor to colored people of limited means and to give them those services free of charge.

When Dr. Lindley was connected with the Whittier school, I was closely associated with him, and know that as superintendent, he put the very best efforts of his lifework into that institution, that it might serve the purpose for which it was intended. He was kind and considerate to all, and saw to it that the colored children were treated with even-handed justice. When the school was in its infancy, in one of the holiday seasons, a Christmas tree was arranged, upon which was placed the gifts for white children sent by relatives and friends. There was nothing for the children, black and white, who had no one to remember them. Dr. Lindley came to the city and out of his own pocket bought a present for every neglected child, and when the presents were given out, there was something for each one. This incident came under my personal observation at the time, and he has been doing numerous acts of kindness to the needy in a thousand ways for the past twenty years. In all his dealings at Whittier he occupied the high position of love and kindness to the helpless and unfortunate inmates that a father would to his family of children.

Dr. Lindley is a successful business man, which proves that he is qualified to attend to the business of the public, and when he is elected Mayor of this great and progressive city, he will be a representative Mayor of all the people, high and low—a Mayor capable of representing the industrial, commercial, financial and every other interest of this city. The colored people of this city can well afford to support Dr. Lindley, for he is in every way entitled to their favor; and he will do all he can for them. He has no prejudice on account of color. R. C. OWENS.

SCHOOL CHANGES.

Many Are Made Among City Teachers and Other Matters of Interest Discussed.

The Board of Education last night decided to remove the two temporary buildings of the Seventh-street school to the rear of the lot and to use one as a bathroom and the other as a class room; also to take one of the temporary buildings from the Fortieth-street school and remove it to the Vernon-avenue school, where the crowded conditions make more room a necessity.

The following-named buildings were accepted: Seventh-street, Fifty-fourth avenue, Euclid-avenue, Utah-street, Second-street, Cornwell-street, Fifty-second-street, and Main-street structures.

The resignations of the following-named teachers were accepted: L. May Petrey, F. Edith Booth, Mrs. Minnie L. White, and Adelaide Harris, and a leave of absence was granted to Edith Miller and Sudie E. Phillips until the end of the first term.

The following transfers and assignments were made:

Lucile E. Dickson from Seventeenth-street school to High School, department of music as assistant.

Florence Fitch, from Jefferson-street to Seventh-street, in music, kindergarten department.

Florence Maxfield, from Jefferson-street to Grand avenue.

Elsie M. Reynolds, from Jefferson-street to Miss Dickson's place, Seventeenth-street school.

Margaret Buell, from seventh grade, Washington street to ungraded room, Washington street.

Miss Carrie Fish was elected substitute teacher in domestic science, and Bernice Cheney, substitute teacher in the kindergarten department.

The following-named were transferred from the substitute to the regular list: Marion S. Barhour, Abbie E. Brown, Belle Burns, Annie E. Callaghan, Florence Chase, Ruth B. Colborn, Nellie M. Himebaugh, Edith C. Leisk, Gertrude Leland, Nora V. Lindsay, Elizabeth Miller, Alys Mildred Mitchell, Clare Schweizer, Millie Theal, Maude M. Wrinck, Olga Wunderlich; that the following be also transferred to regular list, such transfer to date from November 12, 1906: Anna May Bell, Mabel A. Gilbert, Agnes E. O'Connell.

Lebaudy's dirigible war balloon La Patrie made another flight yesterday at Mantes, Department of Seine-Et-Oise, covering nearly sixty miles.

Real Works of Art.

A visit to the Parmelee-Dohrmann art rooms at 436-44 South Broadway reveals some rare works of art in Italian marbles, genuine bronzes, brass goods, paintings on porcelain and the higher grades of potteries. Since these rooms have been newly decorated and draped they are a wonderful sight to see—nothing like it anywhere on the Pacific Coast. It's safe to say that this great store, filled with fine china, cut glass, art goods, beautiful lamps, silverware, etc., will be a busy place during the gift-buying season.—[Adv.

MEN

I Will Cure You

You Pay When Cured

When I have accepted your case for treatment you may look forward to a complete and permanent cure, and with the very first treatment the curing will begin. This is pretty definite talk upon what is commonly regarded as an uncertain and speculative matter. But I am in a position to speak definitely and positively. With me the cure of men's diseases is not uncertain or speculative at all.

DR. TAYLOR
The Leading Specialist

I have treated so many cases that I know just what I can do and what I cannot do, and I never promise or attempt too much. I accept no case in which I have doubt as to my ability to cure, and results are always equal to the claims I make. Following are some of the diseases I cure, and reasons why my cures are certain:

Contracted Disorders

In no other ailment peculiar to men is a prompt and thorough cure so essential. Contracted disorders tend to work backward until the most vital nerve centers become involved in the inflammation. Then follows a chronic stage that stubbornly resists all ordinary treatment. Safety demands that every vestige of infection be eradicated at the earliest possible moment. My treatment is thorough. The remedies employed have a more positive action than has ever before been attained, and as perfected in my method of application that even chronic cases yield completely.

Varicocele

This most prevalent of all diseases of men is also the most neglected, either through dread of the harsh methods of treatment commonly employed, or, through ignorance of the grave dangers that accompany the disease. As varicocele interferes directly with the circulation and process of waste and repair throughout the generative organs, the necessity of a prompt and thorough cure cannot be too forcibly emphasized. I cure varicocele in one week by an absolutely painless process. My cures are permanent, and are accomplished without the use of knife, ligature or caustic.

I also cure to stay cured "weakness," hydrocele, specific blood poison and all men's diseases.

"Weakness"

Affections of men commonly described as "Weakness," according to my observations, are not such, but depend upon reflex disturbances, and are almost invariably induced or maintained by appreciable damage to the reproductive system from either a contracted disorder or too long or too often repeated excitement, and, as these may not be perceived by the patient, are very frequently overlooked by the physician.

Contracted Disorders

From statistics compiled from my practice, covering over 8500 cases, 90 per cent. have recovered in seven days or less, many of these cases being those who had been treated by others for much longer periods without any apparent decrease of the disorder.

CONDUCTOR NERVY TR

Although Sixty Y tures Nervy Rob Break of Stowing at Work on Dead

[BY THE ASSOCIA

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26.—Conductor Everett B. Heywood, who, single-handed, overcame a train robber on the Alton-Burlington fast train, landed St. Louis today. The man admitted to him that he had robbed the Rock Island passenger train at almost the same place on November 7.

A passenger on the robbed eastbound Alton-Burlington train who returned to Kansas City this morning from Glasgow, said:

"The robber was one of the nerviest proposition. He only weakened when Conductor Heywood and a number of passengers literally jumped upon him after the conductor had pinned him to the floor. Then the robber, as the passengers kicked and struck at him, cried: 'Oh, my mother,' and gave in.

"The robber covered the trainmen and the colored porter in the chair car and made them all aid him rob the passengers. Conductor Heywood got the upper hand when the robber, while operating in the sleeper, stopped momentarily to put away securely some of the booty he had just secured. Heywood, although 60 years old, grappled with the man, wrested his revolver from him, and then as the robber ran down the aisle, fired a shot at him. Unstopped the revolver a second time but it did not fire. Then Conductor Heywood literally bore the man to the floor and the passengers jumped upon him."

The bandit who held up the Chicago and Alton train last night between Glasgow and Slater, Mo., was brought to the county jail this afternoon and at once opened negotiations with the prosecuting Attorney, offering to make a full confession if the charge against him was made burglary. The extreme penalty for train robbery is death, the minimum ten years imprisonment. The prosecutor refused any concession and the bandit then volunteered a statement as follows:

"My name is Claude Randall, my age 29 years and 9 months. I came from St. Louis to Mexico, Mo., on the Wabash, and from Mexico to Slater on the Chicago and Alton Railroad yesterday. My brother was the man who boarded the Golden State Limited and told me that the Golden State Limited did not stop between Slater and Marion, and for that reason I came to Slater to get on the train. I got in the smoking car and went through it and robbed two or three other cars. I did not take any money from workingmen or ladies, as I only wanted to take money from those that had made it easy and could afford it. One man on the train, when he heard me and another passenger that I did not get any of his money because he was a laborer, said he was a laborer, too. I did not believe him and asked him to show me his hands. Upon looking at them I found them as soft as a woman's.

"I made him dig up, taking from him $45, watch which I told him I would send to the St. Louis Republic when he could get it, as I only wanted to keep time by until I got to my destination.

"When the train reached Glasgow I got off on the platform and as the train started to move I mounted it again and commenced to go through the passengers in a sleeper where I allowed the conductor to get too close to me. He grasped my revolver and my throat. He then wrenched the pistol from me and I broke and ran to the back of the train. Many of the passengers and all of the train crew looked upon me while the train was in motion, he struck me upon the head with the pistol and tried to throw me overboard while the train was running thirty miles an hour.

"The train soon stopped and I was captured and put off at Armstrong and brought from there the next morning to Glasgow and from there to this place today.

"I was born near Grant City, Mo., but was out in California and came back to Missouri, about six months ago. I got about $1500, and about eight or ten watches from the passengers on the train. I did not want the jewelry but they forced me to take it."

The prisoner is now awaiting a preliminary hearing.

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Nov. 26.—Deaths and narrow escapes from bears are beginning to be reported here. Last night a party of hunters arriving from Elk county brought in the account of the death of John Dicht, eighteen years old, who was killed by a bear on Saturday. From Tidioute, in Warren county, a thrilling encounter with a large black bear was reported in which the hunter narrowly escaped.

Henry Bradley of East Pittsburgh, who is connected with the Westinghouse Electric Company, while hunting shot a bear in the flank, maddened by the pain, the bear rushed toward the hunter and Bradley emptied his repeater at the animal as it descended upon him, five of the bullets taking effect but only tending to increase its fury. Just as the enraged bear reached him, and prepared to strike him down, Bradley threw away his gun, which was now useless, and drew his hunting knife valiantly. Plunging it into the animal's side to the hilt, he reached the heart and had the satisfaction of seeing the animal drop dead at his feet. Bradley escaped with few scratches.

CONDUCTOR SUBDUES NERVY TRAIN BANDIT.

Although Sixty Years Old He Captures Nervy Robber at First Bad Break of Stowing Booty Away While at Work on Deadly Enterprise.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26.—Conductor Everett B. Heywood, who, single-handed, overcame a train robber on the Alton-Burlington fast train, into St. Louis today. The man admitted to him that he had robbed the Alton-bound passenger train at almost the same place on November 7.

The messenger on the robbed eastbound Alton-Burlington train who returned to Kansas City this morning from St. Louis said:

"The robber was one of the nerviest men I ever saw. He only weakened when Conductor Heywood and a number of passengers literally jumped upon him. The conductor had pinned him to the floor. Then the robber, as the passengers kicked and struck at him, cried, 'Oh, my mother,' and gave in. The robber covered the trainmen and the colored porter in the chair car until each of them all still had him rob the express car. Conductor Heywood got the upper hand when the robber, while engaging the sleeper, stopped momentarily to put away securely some booty he had just secured. Heywood, although 60 years old, grappled with the man, wrested his revolver from him, and then as the robber ran down the aisle, fired a shot at him. He dropped the revolver a second time and did not fire. Then Conductor Heywood literally bore the man to the floor and the passengers jumped upon him.

"The bandit who held up the Chicago & Alton train last night between Slater and Slater, Mo., was brought to the county jail this afternoon and soon opened negotiations with the Prosecuting Attorney, offering to make a full confession if the charge against him was made burglary. The extreme penalty for train robbery is death, the maximum ten years imprisonment. The prosecutor refused any concession and the bandit then volunteered a statement as follows:

"My name is Claude Randall, my age 29 years and 9 months. I came from St. Louis to Mexico, Mo., on the Wabash, and from Mexico to Slater on the Chicago and Alton Railroad yesterday. My brother was the man who told me the Golden State Limited and told me that the Golden State Limited did not stop between Slater and Marshall, and for that reason I came to Slater to get on the train. I got in the smoking car and went through it and robbed two or three other cars. I did not take any money from workingmen or ladies, as I only wanted the money from those that had it easy and could afford it. One man in the train, when he heard me tell another passenger that I did not want any of his money because he was a laborer, said he was a laborer and I did not believe him and asked me to show me his hands. Upon looking at them I found them as soft as a woman's.

"I made him dig up, taking from him his watch which I told him I would send to the St. Louis Republic if he could get it, as I only wanted to keep time by until I got to my destination.

"When the train reached Glasgow I got off on the platform and as the train started to move I mounted it again and commenced to go through the passengers in a sleeper where I also met the conductor to get too close to me. He grasped my revolver and my throat. He then wrenched the pistol from me and I broke and ran to the rear of the train. Many of the passengers and all of the train crew followed upon me while the train was in motion, he struck me upon the head with the pistol and tried to throw me overboard while the train was running forty miles an hour.

"The train soon stopped and I was captured and put off at Armstrong and brought from there the next morning to Glasgow and from there to this city today.

"I was born near Grant City, Mo., but was out in California and came back to Missouri, about six months ago. I got about $1500, and about fifty or ten watches from the passengers on the train. I did not want the jewelry but they forced me to take it.

"The prisoner is now awaiting a preliminary hearing.

SPOKANE, (Wash.) Nov. 26.—"Sydney Evans, told me that while at school in California he was engaged to thirty-two women at the same time. At another time he told me of a plan to raise Angora goats on his mother's ranch and stated that he would be worth $10,000,000 in three years. Again he offered me $100,000 to go on the stage under his management in any play."

Such is the testimony offered today at the murder trial of Sydney Sloane by Herman K. Smith, formerly a bookkeeper in the Sloane-Payne store. An attempt is being made to prove that Sloane is insane.

FOOLS EVEN HIS FRIEND.
INSUREE SWIMS AWAY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

DECATUR (Ill.) Nov. 26.—Chief of Police Albert stated that information had just come to him tending to prove that J. Mont Schultze, who was believed to have been drowned October 26, in the river here, was not drowned but had left the country. It appeared that Schultze had taken off his clothing and gone into the river late at night to disentangle a fishing line. All his money and clothing seems to have been left on the river bank. It is now said that he had money with him and procured other clothing deceiving even the friend at the river with him. He was a prominent member of several secret societies. He had $7000 life insurance.

JUSTICE REFUSES RESPITE.
WOMAN'S HOPE IS BROKEN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Justice Brewer, in the Supreme Court of the United States today, refused to allow the attorneys for Mrs. Agnes Myers, under sentence of death for murder in Missouri, more time in which to file a complete record in the case. The time as originally fixed will expire on Wednesday next.

Mrs. Agnes Myers and Frank Hotman, her lover, are under sentence of death for having murdered Clarence Myers, the woman's husband, who was a printer in Kansas City. The woman is in jail at Liberty, Mo., and Hotman is in the county jail here. Some time ago Gov. Folk granted them a respite until December 10. Unless he now grants them a reprieve, the sentence of death must be carried out.

SHE WANTED TO DIE.
WOMAN TAKES HER CHILDREN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PROVIDENCE, (R. I.) Nov. 26.—Mrs. Charles G. Scheckley and her two children, a girl of 5½ years and one of five months, were found dead in their home tonight. The woman had turned on the gas and taken her two children in her arms and lay down with them. She left a penciled note, which read as follows:

"To the dearest man on earth: I am unhappy, and want to die, so I might as well go now. You will find my pin and ring on the little girl's heart. I love my husband, my home and my children. Don't blame me. In want of thought we may do harm when we mean to do good."

BEARS BOLD NEAR CITIES

And One of Them Lifted His Paw Like Jack O'Brien and Was Knifed.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Nov. 26. Deaths and narrow escapes from bears are beginning to be reported here. Last night a party of hunters arriving from Elk county brought in the account of the death of John Dicht, eighteen years old, who was killed by a bear on Saturday. From Tidiouta, in Warren county, a thrilling encounter with a large black bear was reported in which the hunter narrowly escaped.

Henry Bradley of East Pittsburgh, who is connected with the Westinghouse Electric Company, while hunting shot a bear in the flank, maddened by the pain, the bear rushed toward the hunter and Bradley emptied his repeater at the animal as it descended upon him, five of the bullets taking effect but only tending to increase its fury. Just as the enraged bear reached him, and prepared to strike him down, Bradley threw away his gun, which was now useless, and drew his hunting knife valiantly. Plunging it into the animal's side to the hilt, he reached the heart and had the satisfaction of seeing the animal drop dead at his feet. Bradley escaped with few scratches.

CRIME BRIEFS.

Pardons Charles Anderson.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 26.—Gov. Pardee this evening issued a pardon to Charles Anderson, who was sent to San Quentin from Monterey in 1901 on a twenty-year sentence for robbery. Anderson has consumption.

Murderer Gets Seven Years.

SANTA ROSA, Nov. 26.—Superior Judge Seawell this morning sentenced Jack Meesa to imprisonment in San Quentin for seven years for killing L. Mora at Occidental. Meesa was convicted of murder in the second degree.

Patrick's Mercy is Fake.

ALBANY, Nov. 26.—"The statement that I have promised or intimated to anybody that I will commute the sentence of Albert T. Patrick is absolutely and unqualifiedly false," said Gov. Higgins this afternoon.

Patricide is Caught.

PEORIA (Ill.) Nov. 26.—Edward Clifford, who yesterday shot and killed his aged father, a fisherman living near Glasford, was captured here early this morning. It is believed the father and son quarreled over money matters. The son will not talk.

Chivalrous Youth Stabbed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—For resenting an insult to the young lady who accompanied him, James D. Krill, 22 years of age, was fatally stabbed last night by an unknown man in front of the Novelty Theater, at O'Farrell and Steiner streets.

Mutineer Gets Five Years.

PORTSMOUTH (Eng.) Nov. 26.—A first-class stoker named Moody, one of the ringleaders of the outbreak at the naval barracks, here November 4, was sentenced by a court-martial today to five years' penal servitude, on the charge of participating in a mutinous assembly and inciting others to participate.

Italians Fight, One Dies.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—In the presence of half a hundred frightened men and women in a trouser factory at No. 67 Spring street, today, Guiseppe Figlia, an Italian, 20 years old, shot and killed Antoinette Macioce, 19 years old, and seriously wounded Vincenzo Lavora, the man she was to marry, and then turned the gun on himself. A quarrel over a drinking cup, or over precedence at the wash sink, according to the police, led to the tragedy. Figlia was beaten almost to death by the men in the factory after he had been disarmed.

Escapes Through Mine.

LINTON (Ind.) Nov. 26.—A search of the Tower Hill mine here late today disclosed the fact that Louis Schuley, who shot and fatally wounded W. A. Watson, had gone through a passage connecting the Midland mine and had then escaped through a manhole. Schuley, it is reported, was seen about two miles west of here. It is thought he intends to escape into Illinois. A posse is being organized here and the surrounding country will be scoured.

Two Shooting Scrapes.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Nov. 26.—A man arriving here tonight from Kelvin, Pinal county, brings news of two shooting scrapes. No names were learned. One was the shooting of a Mexican at Troy Camp, but not fatally. The other incident was in a Kelvin saloon. Two Mexicans assaulted an American cowboy, one shooting without effect. The cowboy drew and shot prematurely, killing a Mexican bystander. The second shot killed his opponent in a duel

Wine for Thanksgiving

But a few more days intervene before the annual Thanksgiving feast. If you have not already secured your wines, we suggest that you do it today. We offer three suggestions for dry wines, especially suitable for this occasion. Our many other brands of California wines will be found to be of the highest quality. If it comes from Germain's it's all right.

Claret

This excellent table wine is of particularly fine flavor and extra dry. Especially suitable for the occasion. We have it in several grades at from 50c to $1.50 a gallon; dozen bottles, $2.50 to $6.00.

Riesling

We can especially recommend the Riesling wine as being particularly suitable for Thanksgiving use. It has a very fine flavor and is extra dry. We have it at 75c per gallon, and up to $1.50 per gallon; dozen bottles at from $3.00 to $6.00.

20 Year Old Wines

California's choicest vintages—four International awards. Very widely known and of exceptional quality—Port, Angelica, Muscat and Sherry are included in the variety. Price $1.50 per gallon.

Sauterne

This line of wines is worthy of special mention, being particularly dry and fine flavored. Priced at from $1.00 to $1.50 per gallon; dozen bottles at from $4.00 to $6.00.

Brandies

We have extra fine brandies particularly suitable for the plum pudding. Priced at 80c per gallon and up.

Very Old Port

Especially suited for medicinal purposes — recommended by physicians generally as a tonic and blood maker. The oldest in the State. None better in flavor and quality. Price $1.00 per bottle.

We make a specialty of fine family trade and carry only reliable goods.

THE CITY IN BRIEF

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Kern Qualifies as Chief.

Councilman Kern of the Seventh Ward yesterday filed his resignation as a member of the City Council. He filed his bond as Chief of Police, which was approved. He is to take command of the police department today.

Operatic Luncheon.

A number of grand-opera principals entertained at luncheon for several American friends yesterday at the Café Delmonico. Signor and Signora Lambardi, both of whom were unable to be present, were represented by Angelo Antola, premier baritone.

Lawsuit About Bed.

In the United States Circuit Court the Postal Bed Company of Milwaukee yesterday appeared as complainant in an application for an injunction against Frederick W. Abbot and William Maeder of Los Angeles. The concern avers that it owns the exclusive rights to the manufacture and sale of a certain folding bed, and that Abbott makes the bed and Maeder sells it. The bed company asks damages, and a permanent injunction.

"Hiawatha" in School.

The B sixth and fifth grade pupils of Miss Ball's and Miss Pinto's rooms of the McKinley-avenue school, are making elaborate preparations for the celebration of Thanksgiving on tomorrow afternoon. They will give the play of "Hiawatha," and a beautiful forest scene has been arranged, and a wigwam built. The pupils taking part will dress in Indian costume and walk over real leaves as they pass through the forest. Hiawatha's "brothers," the birds and animals, will be there.

Pinkerton Here.

W. A. Pinkerton, one of the chiefs of the Pinkerton Detective Agency, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday from Chicago accompanied by L. J. Maur, one of his chief assistants. Mr. Pinkerton is quartered at the Angelus and last night stated that he plans large additions to the Los Angeles office which has been established but one year. He said that the winter time is conducive to a number of crooks coming from colder climes to Los Angeles, and especially during the height of the racing season. Pinkerton will remain here a week or so.

Sues Colorado Company.

Victor Davis, a teamster of Madera county, has sued the McGillvray Stone Company of Colorado for $25,519 damages for injuries received last April. Davis says that as he was driving past a stone quarry owned by the company, a blast was set off without warning, and both arms were broken and his hips crushed by flying rock. The action was primarily brought in the Superior Court of Madera county under the supposition that the McGillvray company was a California concern. The company was organized under the laws of Colorado, and as such appealed, and had the case transferred to the United States Circuit Court.

Golden Dream a Fake.

Reports having appeared in the newspapers of this city that a delegation of the Paris Chamber of Commerce was about to arrive in Los Angeles for the purpose of investigating the prospects for profitable investment of great sums of money, A. Fusenot, French consular agent, addressed a letter of inquiry to the president of the Paris organization. He received reply, under date of October 10, in which C. Lesieur, president of the Chamber of Commerce, says: "It never entered our minds to send such a delegation to Southern California." He denounces it as "false information," and discredits Amaury Mars, editor of L'Avenir, who gave out the information.

Want Our Contractors.

E. C. Alsop, general manager of the Alsop Engineering and Construction Company, left last night for San Francisco, where he will submit figures on several large construction enterprises. He will also figure on one piece of street work in one of the Northern California cities which will require an outlay of at least $150,000. San Francisco and other California cities devastated by the earthquake and fire are making constant calls upon Los Angeles contractors, says Mr. Alsop. He declares that northern contractors are working to the full extent of their capital and capacity, and that the Northern field is likely to entice several Los Angeles firms as bidders on large contracts in the near future.

Mrs. Potter Palmer Comes.

Mrs. Potter Palmer of Chicago, New York, London and other places on the Globe did not come up town in Los Angeles last night, as was expected. She was traveling in her private car, accompanied by Prince and Princess Cantacuzene, Mr. and Mrs. Honore Palmer and Potter Palmer, Jr. The party has been touring the Pacific Coast for the last month or so, and was due in Los Angeles over the Southern Pacific last night at 11:45. A telegram received at the Alexandria, where reservations had been made, stated that Mrs. Palmer planned to spend today with friends in Pasadena, and as a result would remain in her car over night and leave for Pasadena this morning. Tonight the plans of the party are to proceed to the Grand Cañon, and thence to Chicago.

Our Exchange Proposition

If you have a Talking Machine that is not satisfactory, or desire to exchange a cylinder for a disk machine, you will be interested in this proposition of ours. We will make as liberal an offering as the condition of your instrument will allow, crediting you with its value on a new machine—a Victor or any of the other machines we carry. If you already own a small Victor and would like to exchange it for a larger Victor or a Victor-Victrola, we will make satisfactory terms.
See us about it.

Self-Playing Pianos for Gifts

Self-playing pianos are expensive, but the cost is small when judged by the pleasure they give. Anyone, whether he has musical training or not, can play the Sophmer-Cecilian Piano or the Farrand Cecilian Piano — both high grade upright pianos with the mechanism of the Cecilian Piano Player built inside the case. We make most advantageous terms to all, and will take your old piano in part payment.

TOWN IS HOT GASLESSLY.

Too Many Complaints for 'Phones to Carry.

Company Says Didn't Look for Cold So Soon.

Three Days of Suffering. Candles in Use.

"What's the matter with the gas?" That's the burning question that for three days has made the wires of a hundred thousand telephones sizzle with a million complaints, and drawn with vengeful eye and direly ominous mien practically the whole of the city's able-bodied population with a common solemn purpose to the offices of the gas company.

But not all the vituperative warmth of freezing householders, nor the torrid communications of chillingly haughty cook ladies brought a single gladdening spark of life to the pale, cold, gasless kitchen range.

"They ain't no gas nohow." Los Angeles is in the throes of a gas famine. There is an awful trust on between the supply of gas, the cold weather and the existing stock of sunless days. The city uses large quantities of gas at best. It uses more in cold weather, and it uses still more when it is not only cold, but cloudy and dark. Therefore it develops that the existing gas supply of Los Angeles has been consumed. It is gone. You couldn't asphyxiate a cat in the biggest gas main in town, and at the low ebb of the supply you might have given a dinner party in the huge receiver down on East Seventh street, and not even the most fastidious would have complained of the odor of gas.

It has been a period of awful privation and suffering, this gaslessness of a wretched city. It began Thursday of last week with the first dash of rain and snap of cold. It was bad then. It has grown worse since, and yesterday capped the climax, and froze the last drop of the milk of human kindness.

The first cold, dark day practically exhausted the surplus supply of gas with which the company complacently regarded the approaching cold season. The next day brought more cold and darkness, more need for plenty of gas, and the supply dwindled alarmingly.

"KICKS" BY TEN THOUSAND.

Then came the first consignment of insistent complaints. By telephone, by messenger boy, by Biddy, the cook, and Norah, the second maid, by the Missus herself, and by every other member of the family the combined roar of "no gas" centered about the company's office at Seventh and Hill streets. Kicks came by tens of thousands. In twenty-four hours the complaint department became the most important feature of the business organization. From the president to the janitor every one in the employ of the company was put to answering complaints. The personal complainants filled the lobbies of the office to overflowing. The telephones were all removed to an upstairs room, where a special force was kept busy apologizing and promising gas in fifteen minutes by the clock, until the rush on the wires became such that the operators on the central exchanges informed the clamoring public that they could no longer connect any one with the complaint department of the gas company.

In other words, according to the company, you can't warm your bath today with the gas you made your coffee with yesterday morning. Nor can you cook your dinner tonight with the gas you are going to use tomorrow to heat your curling tongs.

The stories of individual suffering are the sum total of all the gas burners of the city, and, according to a well-known official of the company, Los Angeles uses more gas than any other city of its population in the United States. Gas here is the domestic necessity, especially in view of the fact that there is a famine of coal and wood.

HOT OVER GASLESSNESS.

No imagination is required to picture the situation which reached its climax yesterday. More than 200,000 people were heatedly discussing it last night in the darkness of their unlighted homes, sitting in the chill of their unheated parlors after their uncooked suppers, as they shivered in contemplation of the clamminess of the sheets in their gasless bedrooms.

All day yesterday housewives tried in vain to cook. Sometimes they could get a "color" of flame in the burners. The next moment it would go out with a sullen puff. Others in their ignorance of the situation put nice Thanksgiving cakes away to bake, only to take them out in an hour, stone cold

HEAT PLANT NOT HEATING.

Six Hundred Fourteenth-Street School Pupils Shivering. May Be Adjourned.

Six hundred boys and girls of the Fourteenth-street school are shivering from cold. The heating plant installed two years ago has suddenly failed, and school will be adjourned unless something can be done at once to alleviate the conditions.

Principal F. A. Bouelle appeared before the Board of Education last night and declared it will be necessary to close the school unless relief is afforded. The subject will be taken up today by the Building Committee, whose members have been invited to spend an hour this morning in the school building. This afternoon at 4 o'clock they will take action.

There is a possibility that some one will be blamed for the construction of the heating system, which doesn't heat.

RECEPTION TO I. LINDLEY.

Business Men Will Hold Noonday Meeting at Courthouse Grounds Tomorrow.

A very active committee of business men is pushing preparations for the business men's reception to Dr. Lindley at the Courthouse grounds, Broadway and Temple-street entrance, tomorrow (Wednesday) noon.

The meeting will begin at 12:15 sharp, and last not over thirty minutes. Dr. Lindley will speak, and one or two others, whose names will be announced tomorrow morning.

A band will be in attendance and the greeting to the doctor will be cordial, as no man has made more or warmer friends or extended a helping hand to a larger number of people in Los Angeles. All the doctor's friends are invited.

Hon. Russell J. Waters, the original treasurer of the Non-Partisan Committee, is president of the Lindley Business Men's Club.

The following gentlemen have accepted invitations to act as vice-presidents of the meeting: W. D. Stephens, Dr. West Hughes, J. M. Schneider, S. G. Marshultz, A. B. Cass, W. H. Allen, C. Leonardt, H. G. Brainerd, A. W. Skinner, Reese Llewellyn, B. Forer, Kaspare Cohn, E. F. C. Klokke, I. N. Van Nuys, O. C. Mueller, S. A. Butler, George L. Cole, Hancock Banning, N. Bonfilio, John Lopisich, J. G. Baruch, Victor Harris.

EVEN BLIZZARD ON THE MENU.

EXPERT ENGINEERS ENCOUNTER LOT OF CLIMATE.

On Owens River Trip Find Probably Greatest Collection of Weather Samples Ever Made Here in Ten Days—May Shorten Conduit Route Two Million Dollars.

Engineers Frederick P. Stearns and John R. Freeman probably have some views of their own on the subject of Southern California's celebrated climate. They returned last night from their Owens River trip with more unassorted samples of weather than any one ever accumulated before in ten days in this part of the world. They picked up some good specimens of desert weather at Mojave; faced a howling north wind in Red Rock Cañon; navigated Owens Valley in a frigid gale; explored Long Valley at an elevation of 7000 feet when the mercury was away below freezing point, and got out of that region just in time to avoid being snowed in for the winter; came down Owens Valley again in a gentle snowstorm and emerged into balmy sunshine on the Mojave Desert; and wound up the trip by coasting down the San Francisquito in a blizzard that would have been a credit to Dakota.

Sunday night at Elizabeth Lake was clear and still, but toward morning snow began falling, and when the engineers of the Owens River project left Haffner's in automobiles the snow was six inches deep. The first two autos got an early start and were well over the divide and down the grade when the storm reached the rampageous stage, but the third machine was delayed by frozen pipes and got the full force of the raging wind. The occupants of the third car shoveled snow with a piece of plank for three hours to get up a mile of steep hill and over the crest, and they ran and slid and skidded down the San Francisquito grade in a furious blizzard of snow and sleet. There were no indications of early cessation of the storm and by 3 o'clock in the afternoon the snow was a foot deep at the summit.

The eastern engineers took all the hardships and discomforts of the trip cheerfully, and made a careful reconnoisance of the proposed aqueduct lines. More than one route has been surveyed, and it is more than probable that the line chosen by the advisory board will be one that will shorten the conduit to a length of less than 200 miles and reduce the cost of construction by about $2,000,000. While the advisory engineers are reticent at this stage of the examination and cannot be quoted as expressing opinions on the plans of the aqueduct engineers, it is a fact that they have discovered no engineering difficulties in the construction of an aqueduct to bring the waters of Owens Valley in vast volume to the city of Los Angeles. It can be predicted safely that the report of expert hydraulic engineers will show that the construction of the Owens River conduit will be surprisingly simple and easy.

EIGHT HUNDRED AN ACRE.

Large Amount Paid for Land Near Newly-annexed Territory to be Had for Subdivision.

Wright & Callender Co. and S. J. White & Co. have just sold for Mr. Wagner to a syndicate of local investors, 160 acres lying between Vermont and Western avenues, adjoining La Hebra Way on the north, for a consideration of $128,000. The property is looked upon as a very desirable piece, commanding a beautiful view of the city and surrounding country, and reached by the San Pedro and Redondo car lines.

Since the election, annexing to the city a strip of land half a mile wide running to San Pedro from Los Angeles, acreage in this section has greatly enhanced in value, and is in brisk demand. This piece of acreage lies but a few blocks from the city limits as extended. The purchasers say they will not subdivide at present, but possibly in the near future.

Women agitators of the Union Label League making house-to-house canvass for Stanley B. Wilson for Mayor.

DANGEROUS ZEALOTS ARE WILSON'S WOMEN BOOMERS.

ABOUT 100 women belonging to the "Union Label League" are aking a house-to-house canvass in behalf of Stanley B. Wilson, the Public Ownership candidate for Mayor.

By their very earnestness and zeal these women complicate the situation—and gain votes for Wilson.

By nature nearly every woman is a blind partisan. And there never was a blind partisan who did not multiply his or her kind.

Given the same earnestness and faith in any cause, however ugly and insane, these women would inevitably gain a following.

Their enlistment shows to what contemptible means Pinhead McCarthy's gang of strike agitators will descend. Not that the women are mean and contemptible—far from it.

The contemptibleness lies in McCarthy's dragging them into what he knows to be an evil cause. These San Francisco labor-union men, whose sole purpose is graft, must know that they are working in a plot to ruin a city. Even if they could be given the credit of not realizing the logical result of their acts, they must be convicted of bad faith. They know from their own example in San Francisco that such a government as they plan to put in power here can only result in frightful disaster and misrule.

Pinhead McCarthy is like some evil ghoul, who having devoured and wrecked one city, comes to ruin another.

McCarthy might even profit by the story in yesterday's Times of the captured hold-up man. He beat his wife; but he didn't get her to help in his hold-ups. McCarthy might more decently beat than deceive these women.

The spectacle of these women working their heads off for this cause would be pathetic were it not so fraught with danger. They think they are working for some mysterious thing called a "cause."

If it should fall out that their efforts should elect Wilson, they would shortly find out—as did the workingmen of San Francisco—that Stanley Wilson had about as much to do with the Mayor's office as the wooden Indian has to do with a cigar store.

An exact parallel of this bunco was seen in the last election of Schmitz in San Francisco. Every newspaper in San Francisco was filled with warnings of what must surely follow—of what has actually followed. The only result was to embitter the unions against the source of the warnings.

One peculiarity of a woman is that she will not take warning. If she did the husband job would go into a swift decline.

The women show now the same breathless devotion to Wilson that they did to Schmitz. Every meeting at which Wilson speaks is filled with women. At the famous parade of Mayors at the Liberal Alliance mass meeting, there were whole rows of women who evidently came there for the express purpose of hearing Wilson talk.

You know the signs—brightening of the eyes, wetting of the lips, instinctively drawing together, belt adjustment, which signifies in lady language "THE man is coming."

They fairly glowed while he talked and exchanged giggled and flushed side remarks after he had gone.

If you can imagine what the matinee girls who haunt the Burbank Saturday afternoons would do as a test of their devotion to William Desmond, you have an idea of the zeal these "Union Label" women are displaying in behalf of Stanley Wilson.

And their work is not a joke. By one of those charming contradictions in the character of womankind, they are foolish in their cause but unearthly shrewd in carrying out their misguided purposes.

These women are vote getters. They know how to work on men's gallantry. They extract definite promises when men politicians are rebuffed by the mere agreement of a voter to "think it over."

They are more persistent and, without offense, it may be said that they have more "nerve" than men canvassers.

A man canvasser is painfully apt to retire to the congenial shelter of a neighboring saloon and play cards and tell fairy tales about his canvassing. These women canvass as though their lives depended upon the success of their efforts. They are one of the most dangerous elements in this campaign. They are the more dangerous because they think they are right. They know they are right, because Stanley Wilson told them so.

"Dozens of men have made me their solemn pledges to vote for Stanley Wilson," said one of the women yesterday, as she was calling at a house in the Sixth Ward.

What do I tell them? Why I tell them that he represents the cause of the working man and that the unions are all for him; that he is for Owens River; that he promises to give union men and union contractors preference in all city work. I just tell the wives of the men, too, that they ought to vote for Mr. Wilson; I tell them what a fine fellow he is and how good he is to his family and all like that. I tell the women to make their husbands vote for him, and they nearly always promise that they will.

"What do I say about who? Harper? Oh, he's that other man. Oh, I just talk about Stanley Wilson."

WATROUS HEADS TROOP D.

Business Man of Hollywood Takes Command of Local Cavalry Organization of Natnoial Guard.

Thomas C. Watrous, insurance broker and golf player, has entered the much-abused National Guard; he has been elected captain of Troop D of this city, and assumed command yesterday.

This is not his first military service. He was for some years connected with the National Guard of Connecticut, entering an infantry regiment as private, and earning promotion. He was afterward in one of the troops in the militia of that State, and eventually became an aide-de-camp on the brigade, there being only one brigade in Connecticut.

He now lives in Hollywood, and is a well-known figure in the business world.

Strenuous, hard work awaits him in bringing the troop back to the standard. For some time that organization has been without a captain, and the attendance has fallen off.

Immediately after the troop returned from Oakland earthquake duty Capt. O'Banion resigned. O'Banion was an ex-regular who had won his spurs with one of the crack troops of the United States army, in which he had the first sergeant's lozenge in a remarkably short time. O'Banion is said to have been displeased with the adherence to the methods of the regular army and the militia. He made a splendid commanding officer while he stayed with the troop.

Capt. Watrous has many interesting plans for the development of the organization.

WIFE FEARS TREACHERY.

Husband Visits England to Get Fortune Bequeathed Under Romantic circumstances and Disappears.

Francis Frederick Beaumont of this city went to England some time ago to receive a fortune which was bequeathed to him by a woman whom he rescued at the risk of his life when he was a young man. He is now 75 years old.

Since his arrival in England, nothing has been heard from him and his wife, who is in Los Angeles, is very much worried. She fears that her husband has met with treachery.

It seems that when it became known that the English woman had left nearly all her estate to Beaumont, her relatives in Great Britain were very angry and determined, if possible, to keep the fortune in their own hands. The will of deceased, it is said, was so carefully drawn and the witnesses, among whom was a doctor, were persons of such unimpeachable character, that it was useless to appeal to the courts. Deceased's attorney and the witnesses to the will were all ready to testify to the soundness of mind of the testator at the time the document was drafted.

Finding legal means of securing the property out of the question, the English relatives, it is said, are trying to gain their ends in other ways. Some hint of this was obtained by Mrs. Beaumont, who fears that her husband has been captured and is being held a prisoner in some safe place of concealment. She has cabled to Scotland Yard to ask detectives to find the missing man.

MOVING CAR; INJURED MAN.

G. W. Darlington, proprietor of the Pacific Screen Company on West Jefferson street, was knocked down by a Grand-avenue car which he was trying to board, at Grand avenue and Thirty-second street, yesterday afternoon. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital with a severely cut head. His injuries are not regarded as serious. He was trying to climb on the car step and slipped and fell. The corner of the vestibule is said to have struck his head. Darlington lives at No. 1065 West Thirty-second street.

RURAL DELIVERY FROM COVINA.

The Postoffice Department yesterday ordered the establishment on February 1, next, of a new rural free delivery route in Los Angeles county extending from Covina. Its length will be eleven miles and the population to be served 111 members of forty-one families.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The City Council yesterday instructed the Board of Public Works to proceed with plans for the construction of a storm drain on Main street from Third to Sixth. The board was also instructed to proceed at once with the details for the erection of the Arroyo de las Posas bridge.

The old Hazard reservoir site on Brooklyn Heights is to be turned into a children's playground, and a portion reserved as a site for a new public school.

Yesterday closed the ingathering of the first half of the city's taxes without the addition of penalty. There has been received $1,141,820 on the total assessment of $2,219,000. The Tax Collector received $110,000 yesterday, breaking all records.

The city's building ordinance is to receive another amendment providing for the use of artificial stone. This was presented at the City Council yesterday, and referred to the Building Committee.

Judge James yesterday sustained the demurrer to the suit brought by Walstein Root and others to restrain the City of Pasadena from using tax moneys in the establishment of a lighting plant, and refused an injunction.

The Southwestern Packing Company is suing the Southern Pacific for damages, alleging that cattle were injured while being shipped to this city.

H. M. Daniels, brother of Mrs. Nellie E. Cressey, gave his testimony yesterday in the matter of the petition for a guardian for her. The case was continued until December 10.

AT THE CITY HALL.

PUBLIC WORKS WILL PROCEED.

BRIDGE AND STORM SEWERS TO BE BUILT AT ONCE.

Despite Sixty-Thousand-Dollar Deficit in Storm Sewer-Bond Fund, City Council Instructs Board to Go Ahead With Improvements Planned. New Park Created.

A storm sewer is to be constructed on Main street, from Third to Sixth streets. The City Council yesterday instructed the Board of Public Works to proceed with the advertisement for bids. This storm sewer will connect with the new storm sewer on Sixth, extending to the Los Angeles River.

The Board of Public Works asked for this instruction at this session, and in connection with its request made a statement that a different status was shown on the storm sewer bond fund of 1903 by a report from the City Engineer made yesterday.

City Engineer Hamlin states that during preceding administrations of that office no books were kept showing total expenditures from this fund. An estimate on this fund was made by City Engineer Hamlin on November 5, based on figures furnished by the City Auditor, October 12. Since that date it has been ascertained that the figures from the Auditor's office did not include expenditures prior to December 1, 1904, amounting to $28,725.03, and the deficiency in the storm sewer fund will therefore be increased that amount.

Despite this condition, City Auditor Schwaebe made a report to the City Engineer yesterday, stating that the deficiency can be "taken care of" if other expenditures are made economically and judiciously throughout the whole city government. Auditor Schwaebe states that there will be a deficit in the total storm drain fund this year of about $60,000.

ARTIFICIAL STONE.

ANOTHER AMENDMENT DESIRED

The city's building ordinance has been so patched up and amended that it is worse than a crazy quilt; but the end it not yet. There are now in the hands of the Council's building committee several proposed amendments, and yesterday another was added to the list. This has to do with artificial stone, over which there has been much contention by architects and builders the past few weeks. The proposed amendment was introduced at yesterday's meeting of the City Council. It is as follows:

"Artificial stone, made of Portland cement and incombustible and fireproof material, may be used as a substitute for any natural stone; but no artificial stone containing more than 15 per cent. of lime or limestone as an ingredient shall be used in a lintel or bearing part in buildings over three stories high, provided that in all cases under this section the factor of safety shall be ten.

"When hollow concrete blocks are used for any interior of exterior exposed walls, the crushing and tensile strength shall also have a factor of safety of ten."

An attempt was made to secure the immediate passage of this amendment; but through the efforts of Councilman Blanchard it was referred to the Building Committee.

TUNNEL FRANCHISE.

MUST GO TO HIGHEST BIDDER.

The City Attorney yesterday made a report to the City Council in reference to the ordinances submitted on behalf of the Los Angeles-Pacific Railway Company, providing for a franchise through the proposed Hill-street tunnel from First to Temple street, and the additional proposition to allow the company permission to construct and maintain a tunnel under land belonging to the city between California street and Sunset boulevard.

He declares that this franchise must be offered for sale in the usual way under the provisions of the Broughton law, and granted to the highest bidder at competitive sale for cash. An ordinance of this character will be presented at the next meeting of the City Council.

"As to the other ordinance," says the City Attorney, "I understand that it goes with the ordinance first mentioned, so that the privilege of building a tunnel under the city's property shall be awarded to the person obtaining the street railway franchise in First and Temple streets."

MORE IMPROVEMENT.

BIDS ON STREET WORK.

Six contractors submitted bids for constructing the sewer in Lucas avenue, from First to Arnold streets. Bids were opened yesterday by the Board of Public Works, and they ranged from $1161, submitted by C. Ukropina, to $1998, the bid of Parks & Healey.

The lowest bidder for the improvement of Guirado street, from Euclid street to Euclid Heights, was the Hall Construction Company. Its figures are: $6.47 per lineal foot for grading and graveling, 36 cents per lineal foot for cement curb, 16 cents per square foot for gutter, 13½ cents per square foot for sidewalk.

There were six bidders on the contract for the improvement of Allison avenue, from Sunset boulevard to La Veta place. The lowest bidder was C. W. Shafer, who proposes to do the works as follows: $2.55 per lineal foot for grading and graveling, 33 cents per lineal foot for cement curb, 16 cents per square foot for cement gutter, 14 cents per square foot for gutter, 12½ cents per square foot for sidewalk.

Tax Gathering.

Last night at 5 o'clock the limit for the payment of the first half of city taxes without penalty expired. Yesterday was a record-breaking day at the City Hall. All day there was a long line of taxpayers awaiting the opportunity to hand over their tribute money. There was collected for the day $110,000, the largest amount ever collected by the city in a single day. The total assessment for this year amounted to $2,219,000. At the time of opening the office of the City Tax Collector this morning, there had been collected $1,031,820.80. The delinquents at the time of adding the penalty on the first half of taxes annually run up to between $700,000 and $800,000. This year the delinquency will be cut down fully $200,000. There has been received through the mails taxes which have not yet been credited, amounting to between $300,000 and $400,000. The office force of City Tax Collector Johnson worked on this pile of mail matter last night. There is now attached to the delinquent taxes a penalty of 10 per cent. On the first Monday in April the last half becomes due, and all unpaid taxes at that time will have a 5 per cent. penalty added.

Abandon Street Opening.

A large delegation of East Side people appeared before the City Council yesterday afternoon to protest against the assessment district for the proposed opening of Darwin avenue from Douillard street to East Main street. The Council decided to abandon all proceedings for opening the street, with the provision that the property holders should pay all costs accrued by December 18. The principal objection of the property owners was that the assessment placed most of the burden on owners on the north side of Darwin avenue, leaving only a small strip liable to assessment on the south side of the street.

Arroyo de las Posas Bridge.

The City Council yesterday instructed the City Engineer to proceed with the completion of the plans for the Arroyo de las Posas bridge, and requested the Board of Public Works to advertise for bids for constructing the same without delay. The bridge is to be of concrete, sixty-seven feet wide, with a roadway fifty-six feet. The Huntington interests will stand a proportion of the costs. This action was taken through the activities of Councilman Blanchard, who declared that the City Auditor had informed him that the city's finances would permit of the building of both this bridge and the one across the Los Angeles River at Seventh street.

More Street Work.

Ordinances of intention were passed by the City Council yesterday for portions of the following streets and avenues: Hemlock street, Los Angeles street, Temple street, Thirtieth street, between Normandie and Western; sewer on Mignonette street, Castelar street, Fremont avenue, Alta street, Colton street, Court street, Douglas street, Vizcano street, Leeward avenue, Alvarado street, Jefferson street.

New Playgrounds.

The City Council by unanomous vote yesterday determined to make of the portion of the Hazard reservoir site not used for reservoir purposes by the city water system, a public childrens' playground and a public school site. For several weeks this project has been before the Council, the Board of Public Works, the Park Commission and the Water Commission. While the people of Brooklyn Heights petitioned for the opening of the grounds as a public park, it is understood they will be satisfied with the disposition made of the subject by the City Council. There are extensive developments in progress and planned for the vicinity of this new-made park, and it is thought desirable to make provisions for a schoolhouse site in what will soon be a populous district. The land has been lying idle since the city acquired the water system, only one acre out of the tract of thirty-seven acres being used by the reservoir.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

TAX MONEYS MAY BE USED.

PASADENA CAN NOW HAVE HER LIGHTING PLANT.

Judge James Sustains Demurrer to Complaint Filed by Walstein Root and Others, Denies Injunction and Dissolves Restraining Order—Another Action Pending In Circuit Court.

Judge James yesterday sustained the demurrer to the complaint filed by Walstein Root and sixty-five others against the City of Pasadena, the Mayor and City Council, to restrain the use of municipal tax moneys in the erection of an electric lighting and distributing plant.

No opinion was handed down, the court merely having an order entered sustaining the demurrer. The injunction asked for was denied, and the restraining order dissolved. It was contended during the trial that the suit was instigated by the Edison Electric Company to keep the City of Pasadena from owning its own plant.

Another action of almost identical character is pending in the United States Circuit Court, and it is stated that probably still another suit will be begun to tie the hands of the city until after the election, in the hope that a new administration may make terms with corporation interests.

MEAGRE TESTIMONY.

OF MRS. CRESSEY'S BROTHER.

Testimony in the matter of a guardian for Mrs. Nellie E. Cressey will be taken on December 10, before Judge Gibbs. Some of the testimony, it is stated, may be heard behind closed doors.

Mrs. Cressey is expected to be present and give evidence. She has been removed from the sanitarium, where she had been taken by direction of Dr. Brainerd, and is now under his immediate care.

H. M. Daniels, brother of Mrs. Cressey, gave his testimony yesterday because another sister, living in the East, was stricken with paralysis about a week ago, and he may have to return at once to his home at Waterloo, Ind.

His testimony was very meagre. When he came to Mrs. Cressy's relief on the understanding that she was being neglected and abused by Capt. Cressey, he said he acted on reports conveyed to him. He stated that when he first saw his sister, though she recognized him, she talked in a rambling way, and as if she were living at her old home in the East. The witness said that after the decease of her first husband, his sister had shown a weakening of the mind in some respects.

PACKING COMPANY SUES.

INJURY TO CATTLE CHARGED.

The Southwestern Packing Company has brought suit against the Southern Pacific Company to recover $2980.55 for alleged loss and damage to cattle shipped to this city.

At the time the transaction referred to took place the plaintiff was carrying on business as the Sentous Packing Company, and on December 1, 1905, made a shipment of cattle from Douglas, Ariz., including a beef steer weighing 1050 pounds, which escaped from the stock corral at Yuma, where the stock was unloaded for rest. For the steer, $35 damage is claimed.

On December 20, of the same year, a carload of cows from El Paso was shipped to the plaintiff, and the car was placed on the rear end of a fifty-car freight train. It is alleged that the train started with such sudden jerks that the cows were knocked around and trampled each other, and that four died, the rest being badly bruised. For loss, $90 is claimed, and for damages $290.85.

Again, on December 29, the railroad company brought 133 head of cattle from Calexico to this city, loaded into fifty-five cars. The train was delayed en route, the delay in some instances amounting to twelve hours. The cattle kicked and bruised themselves to such an extent that it was necessary to unload the animals at Colton to rest them. It is claimed. Nine cattle died, for which plaintiff asks $450, and 124 were said to be injured, causing a loss of $1300. In all $2180.85 are asked.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

HEALTH OFFICER RESIGNS. Dr. E. N. Mathis, the county health officer, yesterday placed his resignation in the hands of the Board of Supervisors, to take effect on December 7. Simultaneously a petition was filed by Dr. O. R. Stafford of No. 3724 Vermont avenue, asking that he be appointed to the vacancy.

WANTS ANNULMENT. Florence Janet Warr was married to William R. Warr on September 21, 1905, in this city, and three weeks later, separated from him, though she occupied the same house. She asks annulment of the marriage, alleging that her husband was not of sound mind at the time of the ceremony, and that he makes it a hardship for her to live with him. She also asks that she be allowed to resume her maiden name of Florence J. Drinkwater.

WATTS DENIED. The residents of the district of which Watts is the center, desire to incorporate, and filed a petition with the Supervisors. Yesterday the petition was denied because of a defect in the description of the boundaries.

CLAIMS DAMAGES. Martha B. Zeller is suing the Pacific Electric Company to recover $10,500 as damages. On March 26, it is alleged, the plaintiff was on a car that collided with another on Pasadena avenue, near Avenue 35, and suffered a broken rib and cuts and bruises.

USES BED SLAT. Mrs. Florence Bullock was granted a divorce from George I. Bullock yesterday on the ground of cruelty. The husband filed a cross-complaint, also charging cruelty. The parties were married in this city on May 1, 1901, each having two children by previous marriages. It was shown that the husband abused his wife, and once undertook to discipline her with a bed slat.

MITCHELL DIVORCE. Eliza Mitchell was granted a divorce from Allen Mitchell, on the ground of desertion. The parties were married about twenty years ago in the East, and in 1903, the husband deserted while they were living at Cincinnati.

BAD COMPANY. David Lee Holsinger was divorced yesterday from Myrtle M. Holsinger on the ground of cruelty. The parties were married in Los Angeles in May, 1904, and soon afterward the wife got into bad company.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

DR. FREEDMAN AS A WITNESS.

CITY DOCTOR TRIES TO FREE DRUNKEN MAN.

Del De Queen Convicted in Justice Austin's Court After Somewhat Remarkable Trial—Boyle Case Comes Up December 7—Fender Cases Set for Tomorrow.

Del De Queen paid $5 fine for drunkenness yesterday. The trial in Police Justice Austin's court was unusual. Among other things, it included remarkable testimony and interesting developments, considering it was only a "plain drunk" case.

Dr. Charles Freedman, a city doctor in the Receiving Hospital, and a lawyer defended the prisoner. The doctor, contrary to civil service regulations, had bailed the man out two hours after his arrest. The testimony showed that De Queen, who had gone to the Central Station to ask about a lost boy, had struck a Times reporter. The latter at the time was explaining to a patrolman that De Queen in leaving the station was not escaping from a number of prisoners at the desk. When De Queen struck the reporter placed him under arrest, and later took him to the jail door.

Eight officers testified to these facts. Freedman, who had been loafing about the office of the desk sergeant, took the stand. He swore that the prisoner was not drunk, and intimated that old officers who had testified had lied. In summing up the case the court remarked on the discrepancy in the evidence and the corroboration on the part of the prosecution. He found De Queen guilty.

In connection with the case of De Queen came up yesterday the case of The Times reporter, whom De Queen charges with battery in a complaint issued by William Frederickson, assistant city prosecutor.

According to the complaint, the reporter struck De Queen. In the drunk case the defendant, De Queen, testified that this had happened, and the reporter, who is an officer, stated that this was true. He had slapped De Queen when the latter was using obscene and profane language in the hearing of a little girl, who stood near the desk. Sentence will be passed today.

Freedman, the doctor in the case, is now under indictment for manslaughter.

"Scotty" Allen Again Arraigned.

"Scotty" Allen was again arraigned in Justice Austin's court yesterday, charged with operating a pool hall without a license. Allen was convicted in the lower court some weeks ago of this same offense. He had appealed his case, and pending appeal is said to have agreed not to run the place until the case was finally decided. Meantime officers found the poolroom doing business as it had in days of old.

Allen claims that he had sold out the poolroom and that the new owner was running it. The defendant has been making a hard fight to prove invalid the ordinance, and the police say has been in the habit of running in direct violation of the law at different times.

Boyce's Hearing Postponed.

Edward Boyce, who shot James Bevin in the Ramona Bar, appeared in court yesterday morning. His hearing on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon was postponed until December 7. Boyce and Bevin, who had been good friends, had quarreled about a real estate deal. Two bullets struck the latter in the neck, inflicting ugly wounds.

Fender Case Tomorrow.

The "fender cases," in which T. R. Gabel, general manager of the Los Angeles-Pacific Railway Company, and Horace Clark, motorman of a Santa Monica car, are defendants, will be tried in Justice Rose's court tomorrow. Postponement until that date was made yesterday.

In these cases the defendants are accused of violating the city's fender ordinance, which requires the newly approved safety equipment on all cars run inside the limits. The car which Clark was running had no fender, according to the complaint. The cases are rousing considerable interest because regarded in the nature of a test of the ordinance.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

From Current to Flood.

Current Thought, at the Ebell Club yesterday afternoon, soon ceased to be a current, and took on the nature of a flood. The faithful few who braved the weather to attend the session enjoyed the first part of the excellent programme to the full, but so many subjects were presented that a bewildered, helpless look, as of a drowning victim, was seen on most faces ere the end, and if brain fag does not result from such mental gymnastics it will be because the average capacity for current thought is limited. Brilliant speakers had been chosen, but any one subject presented would have afforded a profitable afternoon. Each had its unique point of view and revealed cleverness and original perception in the speaker presenting it.

The first subject alone, "Civil Service," set forth by William A. Spalding, secretary of the local Civil Service Commission, would have been sufficient food for thought, giving as it did a comprehensive view of civil service in general and the workings of the system —theoretically, perhaps—in Los Angeles.

"Civil service does not pretend to be perfect," said the speaker, "and that is one of the best things about it."

It is, however, in his mind a great step forward, a means of purification in politics, and of getting better men in public positions.

"There is a great deal of misapprehension abroad," said Mr. Spalding, "in regard to civil service, and disgruntled politicians who believe in the principle that 'to the victor belongs the spoils,' are largely responsible for this misunderstanding on the part of the public."

The examination of men for the positions of firemen and policemen was carefully explained to the club members, Mr. Spalding saying that the examination in other than physical qualifications is most essential.

The probability of getting efficient men in public service, Mr. Spalding thinks, is much greater under civil service than otherwise.

Mr. Spalding was succeeded by Mrs. W. S. Bartlett, who brought up several pertinent questions in regard to current music and current art, delightfully stated and worthy of discussion, but there was no time nor apparent inclination to discuss anything.

"I wanted the women to pass some resolution and get something done about the gas," said one of the Ebell members after the meeting, "but there wasn't any time."

Mrs. Abraham L. Brown said a number of clever things anent the new spelling, as she selected that subject for reflecting the live current thought on literature. She brought up a number of interesting aspects of the question, but it was soon time to take up domestic affairs of the country, which Mrs. R. W. Burnham treated, finding loopholes for discussion in the nation's affairs with an acumen which showed a broad and brainy comprehension.

The last speaker, Mrs. Burt E. Howard, was charming. She spoke of foreign affairs that came under the head of current thought, speaking especially of Germany and its attitude toward the United States in regard to the tariff.

Woman's Alliance.

The Woman's Alliance served their annual dinner on Friday evening when about two hundred guests were present. Softly-shaded candles were used to adorn the tables, while swinging baskets and quantities of smilax and ferns formed a background for many-hued flowers.

The following ladies were the hostesses at the different tables: Mmes. W. H. Fox, Fred E. Fay, Boynton, Baurhyte, S. B. McLenegan Ware, Fuller, Calvert Wilson, Frank B. Long, Niles Pease, Dillon, Belle Smith, William Barnard, Newell B. Mathews and Eliza Tupper Wilcox.

TO SAVE SELF OLD MAN CUTS.

PITIFUL STORY OF WRONGS TOLD BY WAR VETERAN.

Claims "Real Estate Broker" Got His All on False Representations and Then Tried to Throw Him Out of Window—Defends Himself Desperately With Pocket Knife.

The old-time "half-partnership" swindle is blamed by the police for H. B. Gerhart's stabbing Adolph M. Green in an office at No. 355 South Hill street yesterday morning. Green went to the Police Station with a number of slight lacerations on his shoulder. Gerhart later gave himself up, saying that he did the cutting in self-defense. Police officers say that if Green prosecutes the case, they will bring up his eastern record as a swindler.

Gerhart's is a pitiful story. Sixty-eight years old, a veteran of the Civil War and once a rich man, he saved $500 from his business several years ago, and was induced, he says, by Green, to invest this, his all, in a half-interest in the latter's "real estate business." According to the police, the investment was a pure swindle.

The "half-partnership trick" is well known to police departments in many cities. It consists in selling to a man an interest in a business which does not exist. Gerhart, who has an aged wife at No. 129 Griffin avenue, accepted Green's word. When he found that there wasn't any business, he wanted his money back. Green offered him a lot in Argentine, Kan. Yesterday Gerhart learned that the lot was covered with water.

In Green's office there was a quarrel yesterday morning. Gerhart says that Green started to throw him out of a window. Green claims that he had his back turned to Gerhart. Gerhart used his pocket knife, and Green fled. Whether there will be any prosecution of Gerhart will be decided today.

Mayor McAleer bailed out H. B. Gerhart early last night. Upon learning that Gerhart was in the City Jail the Mayor went to the Central Police Station and investigated personally. After hearing the evidence against the old man, the Mayor called up Police Justice Austin and Gerhart's bail was fixed at $60. The Mayor produced the money and took Gerhart away.

An Ideal Present for a MAN
The Novels of PAUL DE KOCK

ajor Pendennis's remark that he had read nothing of the novel kind for thirty years except Paul de Kock, "who certainly made him laugh," is likely to remain one of the most durable of his testimonials. And Bulwer wrote of De Kock as being "more racy and powerful than any other writer I am aware of." He was one of the most fertile and most charming of contemporary novelists, one of those, also, whose fame will never die.

"De Kock kept France laughing for more than fifty years."—The New York Herald.

"One of the most amusing writers of the century."—The Outlook.

"Light and bright—I recommend you to Paul de Kock."—Truth.

"Lively and amusing sketches of life."—Professor George Saintsbury.

"The pen pictures that he drew around his characters, from first chapter to last, simply were delicious."—The North American, Philadelphia.

"No one of his contemporaries was as well known. The names of Balzac, George Sand, and even the elder Dumas, seemed obscure beside his."—The Bookman.

The masterpieces of the writings of Charles-Paul de Kock are now for the first time completely translated into English and printed only for distribution among bona fide subscribers. They will be printed solely for such private distribution, and no copies will be procurable through the ordinary trade channels or otherwise as above indicated.

LUMBER FIGHT IS PRESAGE

Battle Royal Likely Again Northwest Loggers.

Pacific Lumber Compa to Force Down Prices.

Has Ordered New Vessels First Move.

A titanic battle between the gr logging associations of the Northw and the Pacific Lumber Compa commonly known as the "Lum Trust," is said to be presaged by meeting yesterday in this city of Executive Committee of the lumb company. The meeting was held in t offices of the Blinn-Robinson Lumb Company, which the Pacific conce owns.

The principal fact gleaned from t members of the Executive Committe after the meeting, is that the conce is in no way connected with logg associations and that as it has to b all of the lumber it sells, it is in difficult a position as the consume because of the present high price lumber.

The meeting was attended by Se ryn Eddy, president, of San Fran cisco; T. E. Dorr of Saginaw, Mich T. M. Murphy of Prescott, Ariz.; E. Kenna of Chicago, and H. M. Robi son of Pasadena. In addition to thes members of the Executive Committe there were half a dozen of the lo local stockholders. Prominent amon these stockholders was E. B. Gage Tombstone, Ariz. The meeting wa held quietly and few people in th city knew of it. The high price of lum ber is given as the cause of the meet ing.

President Eddy says that the pres ent price is partly due to excessive freight charges, but to a greater de gree to the logging associations of the Northwest, which have strangle-hol upon the lumber districts.

In an attempt to reduce the price the Executive Committee yesterday decided to order the construction o two new vessels for the lumber trade These, with the three now in commis sion, will give the concern five ships.

The logging associations of the Puget Sound district are accredited with most of the responsibility for the advance in lumber and the statement is freely made that as practically every stick of timber is controlled by these associations and as they have been running up the price for the last six months, a large number of the mills will be compelled to cease operating before the spring months.

President Eddy said: "The law of supply and demand has been also a cause of the present high prices. Then, too, there have been excessive freight rates. The Pacific Lumber Company buys all of its lumber and it is placed in the same position as the small dealer. Almost every piece of timber land is controlled by the logging associations and they make the rates, and what is more, they get them. I expect that a number of mills will be put out of commission before the winter is over. This will mean a further shortage in the lumber supply, I do not look for any drop in prices, and while I do not say that there will be an advance, I expect to see one."

Rumors concerning the purpose of the meeting were flying about the lobby of the Alexandria and of the Van Nuys, where the lumber barons gathered during the evening. A number of Englishmen who are said to be interested in the company were present, as also were several lumber dealers from Michigan. It was whispered about that there was a combination on foot of the Michigan and western lumber men in the way of a "gentlemen's agreement," whereby they would be able to call the naughty loggers to time and obtain logs at a lower price.

A second meeting of the Executive Committee will be held today at the same place.

WOODMEN JOLLIFY.

Eight Hundred Make Merry in Honor of Four Members of Order Elected to Office.

Eight hundred Woodmen of the World gathered at Woodmen's Hall, Mercantile Place, last night at a combined initiation, banquet and reception, the latter being tendered to four prominent members of the order recently elected to public office. The three local Woodmen honored by the call to public service, and who received the congratulations of their brotherhood last night, are: Fred Pierce and J. P. Transue, all elected to the Legislature from the Seventy-second and Seventy-third districts, respectively; Albert Lee Stephens, elected Township Justice, and Mark Keppel, County Superintendent of Schools.

Much of the strength of the Woodmen of the World in this section was at the gathering. The meeting was held under the auspices of the local lodge of the order, La Fiesta Camp No. 63. A special train brought the members of the lodge outside camps from Redlands, Riverside and San Bernardino.

Dan H. Foley, clerk of La Fiesta Camp, made the address of welcome, and was followed by Mark Keppel, Fred Pierce, J. P. Transue, Mr. Stephens, M. L. Levering of Redlands, and Henry Rammel, postmaster of Pasadena. After the speeches refreshments were served and a musical programme was rendered by numbers of the order.

The following officers were elected: Dr. Curtis M. Beebe, council commander; G. W. Goode, advisory lieutenant; J. Cosens, escort; F. C. Bental, watchman; L. D. Swartwout, banker; and George Buffington, manager.

COPPER IN OREGON.

Report of Big Strike in Southern Part of State—Los Angeles Capital Interested.

News comes from an authentic source of a great copper strike in Southern Oregon. The definite location cannot yet be made known. This may seem rather vague, but samples from the ledges on the land are anything but that.

John Potter of Los Angeles and Butte, Mont., is the locator of the claims, although he is not the sole discoverer. Mr. Potter says that the outcroppings lie in the great Klamath Lake upheaval, which extends from the Cascade Mountains to the Coast range.

Negotiations are now under way for the formation of a company, to be known as the Joseph Ball Copper Company, and taking its name from the deposit, and backing the greater part of the development work.

Mr. Ball is a member of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. Associated with him in the new company are Mr. Potter, Dr. Davis and E. Cowper-Thwaite, all of Los Angeles, with the exception of Dr. Davis, who lives in Redondo.

The subtreasury at New York has transferred $500,000 by telegraph to San Francisco deposited by the banks for that purpose.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

BELASCO. Edward Childs Carpenter's dramatization of his novel, "Captain Courtesy," a Southern California romance, laid at San Gabriel Mission, is the attraction this week at the Belasco. There are many poorer plays than "Captain Courtesy" and not a few better. To say that the play is melodramatic would be a criticism not unfavorable for many; but even as a melodrama the play falls short of what is expected of it from the first act. The absence of comedy is one of the most conspicuous deficiencies; there is a little of this element, most of which is afforded by the clever work of Richard Vivian as "Lieut. Jacoco," the Mexican army officer, who, by the way, (not excepting "Captain Courtesy" himself,) is about the only real, original character in the piece; and by the good acting of Miss Gardner as "Elenor" and Lewis Stone as the "Captain" in the "button scene" in Act II.

"Captain Courtesy" is a "gringo" whose parents are murdered by a renegrade Mexican, hence he starts out in early life with the sole object of revenge, and in his gravitations becomes a "road agent" and all-round unctuous highwayman who eventually is reformed by Elenor, the protegé of a San Gabriel Mission padre. The incidents and situations arising to confront him during the time he makes the mission his rendezvous are many and commonplace, yet, withal, somewhat exciting. But the mannerisms and costume of Mr. Stone, in the role of the "patriotic robber" are far more suited to the present day than to the vintage of 1847. This is not said in the spirit of a "knock," but merely as a kindly suggestion. If Miss Gardner were not so listless, and introduced a little more "business" into her limbs they would undoubtedly be rendered far more appreciable. Perhaps, however, these faults lie in the play rather than in its interpreters. Except in the one act, in the mission gardens, where the setting certainly is all that could be asked for, the actors are afforded little real dramati scope. It requires patient and protracted labor to sustain the play properly during its other three acts, but this the company reveals, and the production from first to last is kept from sinking into wearisome monotony, although it totters close upon the verge during several long lapses.

Inasmuch as it was the first time the play ever was produced, the players perhaps were at a disadvantage in not having the usual precedents to guide them, but in the following productions, "Captain Courtesy" may be made more impressive, if there is anything deeper in the play than appears upon its surface. Otherwise it will pass into the usual recepticle of failures.

HOTCHKISS. In "Hello Bill," farce with a tawdry name, the Hotchkiss players have found a funny sketch which is not tawdry at all.

The fun in it is principally due to the well-directed efforts of George B Howard, but Mr. Howard, however, should not be praised to the entire exclusion of Guy Hitner who draws a bunch of laughs all his own—or pretty Betty Jonson, who is really otherwise than statuesque in the present production.

However improbable one may deem the piece, it serves its merry purpose. It has neither problems nor questions, for the man who goes seeking diversion it is funny, and that's enough.

FOR "SIR" AND "MA'AM."

Georgia Newspaper Expresses Itself on a Subject Brought Up in Los Angeles Schools.

The Atlanta (Ga.) News yesterday published the following editorial on a subject of interest in this city, and it was wired to The Times last night:

A controversy is on in Los Angeles because the school teachers instruct the children to say "sir" and "ma'am" in addressing on answering their elders. It is argued by some parents that these forms of salutation and response are effete and no longer polite. The fact is that they are far from mere provincial usage. The empkoyment of them has come down from the ages of chivalry and is still to be found in the court circles of the older and politer nations of Europe.

Nothing of polite etiquette can be lost by continuing to teach children to say "sir" and "ma'am" when addressed by or addressing older persons. Suppose they do not know the patronymic of the person speaking, to say "mister" is but to say "master," which sounds servile, and to say "mistress—wot's your other name?" would surely sound flippant and vulgar. We also fail to see what etiquettical improvement it is to answer "yep" and "nop" and "nome" to questions put to a child by a stranger, the formulae "yes, sir" and "no, ma'am" has the advantage of both long usage and conventional defersnce, and surely so small a spread of chivalrous custom should be spared to us in this metallic, mechanical and intensely utilitarian age.

Judge O'Sullivan of New York, in the Court of General Sessions, yesterday signed an order granting a right to appeal from the decision of a police magistrate in the case of Enrico Caruso, the Italian opera singer, who was found guilty in the municipal court of annoying women in the "monkey house" at Central Park and fined $10.

WILEY GOT IT IN THE NECK.

MINISTERS DON'T INDORSE HIM. FAVOR LINDLEY.

One of Them Declares Might as Well Vote for the Labor-Unionist Candidate for Mayor—Choral Concert at Ebell Club Tonight—Welsh "Baby" Eisteddfod.

It was a hard jolt for Wiley J. Phillips, Prohibitionist candidate for Mayor, when he was yesterday refused indorsement by the Ministerial Union. The organization is composed of ministers of all denominations, and they simply brushed aside the resolution to endorse Phillips, as being against the constitution. The strongest reason, no doubt, was, that they felt it would be impolitic and unreasonable to either cast their own votes for, or attempt to draw those of other people to Phillips, with such a candidate as Walter Lindley in the field.

"Why," said one of them yesterday, "we might just as well walk up to the polls and vote for Wilson, the labor-unionist, and thus array ourselves on the side of the destructive element that would, if it could, destroy our industries and our prosperity in their own selfish interests. I am a temperance man, certainly, but it is necessary to have a little bit of political wisdom to mix with our temperance. Every good citizen of Los Angeles should cast his vote for the strongest man in the field in opposition to Wilson, and I believe that man to be Dr. Lindley, and he will get my vote."

A number of women attended the meeting of the ministers and had Rev. C. J. Hall, secretary of the Prohibition committee, as their spokesman.

CHORAL SOCIETY CONCERT.

The choral society of St. James Episcopal Church, Hollywood, will give an "Old Folks Concert" this evening at the Ebell Club, South Figueroa street. St. James Church is a mission of Christ Church, this city. An interesting programme of quaint old music, in costume, will be given, and the following prominent women of Christ Church will act as patronesses: Mrs. Wesley Clark, Mrs. Baker P. Lee, Mrs. W. D. Woolwine, Mrs. Alexander Mills, Mrs. Lewis Williams, Mrs. George Chaffee, Mrs. H. H. Rose, Mrs. E. L. Gilmer, Mrs. F. S. Langdon.

A "Baby" Eisteddfod, a competitive literary and musical entertainment, will be given at the Welsh Presbyterian Church, on Crocker street near Fifth, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Prizes are offered for the best-rendered selections, both musical and literary. All Welsh-Americans are invited to be present and enjoy the entertainment. Children will be admitted free.

Mrs. Frances Helen Fish will have charge of a meeting in the hall of the Volunteers of America this evening, at which Mrs. Sarah Haggard Payne will sing songs of her own composition. Mrs. George Munger and Mrs. M. W. Scott will also sing.

New Yorkers Are Tough.

Frederick Peterson, M.D., president of the New York Neurological Society and member of the New York Lunacy Commission, says that in the life in New York City the friction is greater than in any other known existence endured for long periods of time by large numbers of people. Each day he finds presented the proof that more and more we are verging on the limits of human endurance.

His American Corner.

The old Turk had returned from his American tour and was busy unpacking his souvenirs.

"Those Yankees are great people," he chuckled, with an oriental wink. "They have 'Turkish corners' filled up with all kinds of Turkish rubbish. I shall have an 'American corner' filled up with all kinds of American rubbish."

And then he proceeded to shock the harem by filling one corner with 50-cent alarm clocks, wooden bootjacks, Yankee-made coffee mills, and Connecticut nutmegs strunk like beads.—[Chicago News.

Ida M. Tarbell

Even more fascinating than "The History of Standard Oil" is Miss Tarbell's new historical serial, "The Tariff in Our Times."

It's bigger and broader; one treats of a corporation, the other of a nation.

It reveals a curious story—a story of panic and war, of selfishness and jobbery, of heroism and patriotism, of many who served and some who cheated, of the eternal clash of private with public interests.

The great men of the day live again in these articles — Morrill, Chase, Sherman, Fessenden, Thad. Stevens, Horace Greely, Wilson, Mills, McKinley. You see them in their intimacies and idiosyncracies, in their greatness and littleness.

"The Tariff in Our Times" is the business-story of the Nation during an exciting half century. Between 20 per cent duty ante bellum and 50 per cent post bellum lies a marvelous tale of patriotic endeavor and daring intrigue. Miss Tarbell begins to tell it in

THE AMERICAN MAGAZINE

For December

Besides this, there's Dooley's tenderly humorous article on "The Christmas Spirit," and William Allen White talks of "Science, St. Skinflint and Santa Claus." They will do you more good than the price of the magazine for a year. When strenuosity jars, the newest of the "Adventures in Contentment," by David Grayson, will prove a mental sedative that's quite worth while.

And so on—but why not get the December Number and enjoy it for yourself?

FOR MAYOR,
DR. WALTER LINDLEY.
Independent Republican Nominee.

Pen Points

A gas famine is reported in town. Strange, and politics at its height, too.

Be careful how you vote, Mr. Citizen, or it may be "Wilson—that's all."

This is a decent town. It will vote decently. The mud squirts will be rebuked.

It is both what Tillman said and the way he said it that proves objectionable.

One thing against Mr. Harper is that among his supporters are also the harpies.

It looks now as though old Pitchfork Tillman was getting it stuck into him, himself.

"For Los Angeles as she is"—that's the platform upon which Dr. Walter Lindley stands.

Speaking of those who are doing good work at the present time, there's the weather man.

The suspicion that the Los Angeles Express is writing postal cards to itself has now been verified.

Even those people who are fond of Mr. Gates say he is a dreamer. But he will wake up day after election.

We are willing to repeat what we have often said before, which is that Lee Gates is a good man for his inches.

The political atmosphere is now completely clarified. It is Lindley or Wilson. Put that in your pipe and smoke it.

The campaign managers of Mr. Harper claim he is a friend of the negro. Right along, or just on this special occasion?

God help this town if the boycotters once get hold of it. Are the citizens of Los Angeles going to take the chances?

What Los Angeles wants in the Mayor's chair is a man with a good head and a good heart. Dr. Lindley fills the bill.

The Express now proposes to elect Lee Gates "by a multiple of three." What an awfully funny little thing the Express is, anyway.

While passing through Chicago Mayor Schmitz refused to talk. He has doubtless reached the stage where he needs the time to think.

United States Secret Service Agent William J. Burns, is rapidly making a name for himself as one of the most useful citizens of the republic.

We seem to be developing a class of men and women in this country who do not appear to have time to do anything but get married to one another.

Stanley Wilson, Mayor of Los Angeles, and "Red" Fennessy the power behind the throne. There's a condition to look in the face, good people of Los Angeles.

Perhaps no greater tribute could be paid to the scriptures than the fact that so much notoriety is given to the man who announces that he doesn't believe them.

Does this town desire to wake up the morning after election and find Stanley Wilson booked for the Mayor's office? If not, let there be no scattering of good men's votes.

We can now see what a perfectly useless encumbrance these politicians are. Yesterday there was no gas in this town, and not one of them could be found to blow in the pipes.

A convention of negroes in Texas recently passed a resolution which said that "in future the negro will have to look to the South for his friends." If this be the case then we are sorry for the negro.

It is strange how easily a man may sometimes acquire notoriety. Now, for instance, there's Poultney Bigelow, who became known all over this country by merely telling what he did not know about the Panama Canal.

Beerbohm Tree asserted at a dinner in London, the other day, that England has men who can write better plays than the ones that are being staged at the present time. Then, for heaven's sake, trot them out!

A Boston man finds fault because $100,000 of the San Francisco relief fund was spent on automobiles. Well, they were compelled to use a good many of them, and $100,000 doesn't go very far on repair bills. Guess that Boston man hasn't had much to do with automobiles.

To people who have staked their all on the continued prosperity of Los Angeles we submit the grave danger that confronts them at the present hour. Every vote cast for Lee Gates makes more probable the election of Stanley Wilson and the placing of "Red" Fennessy's gang in power. Turn the situation over as you will, this is the cold-blooded fact that remains.

TILLMAN IN CHICAGO.

Mayor Dunne of Chicago, is undoubtedly right in refusing to preside at the meeting where Senator Tillman is to speak. It would be in bad taste for him to do so, under the circumstances. If he should preside he would be lending a sort of semi-official indorsement to the well-known views of Mr. Tillman on the race question. These views, which Tillman has expressed on numerous occasions, are regarded by most people in the North—and probably by a majority of white people in the South—as unreasonable, hysterical, and utterly untenable. Some of Tillman's utterances have been nothing short of brutal. He is known as a bitter enemy of the negro race, an upholder of lynching, a defender of mob law.

Mayor Dunne represents, in his official capacity, the people of Chicago. This means colored men as well as white men. Of the former there are many residing in that city. Nothing was more natural than that they should appeal to the Mayor, requesting him to refuse to act as presiding officer at the Tillman gathering. Mayor Dunne will be generally commended for acceding to this reasonable request.

Tillman was to have spoken in Chicago on the race question, but a later dispatch says that in view of the intense feeling which has been aroused it has been decided to have him cuoose another topic. Threats are said to have been made by colored men to do him violence while he is in the city, and officers have been assigned to guard him. It is to be hoped, for the sake of the colored residents of Chicago, and of the race in general, that no attempt will be made to carry these alleged threats into effect. The colored man has suffered grievous wrongs through mob violence, and he cannot afford to resort to lawlessness himself, no matter what may be the provocation.

Public opinion estimates Ben Tillman at his true value as an unmitigated blatherskite. His hydrophobic utterances on the race question are unworthy of notice by decent, self-respecting colored citizens.

"WE ARE THE SAINTS."

Resolved—that the saints shall inherit the earth.

"Resolved—that we are the saints."

When a few men get together and pass the above resolutions, they are open to suspicion, especially when they resort to political trickery to establish their claims to a monopoly of all the virtues, and support Mr. Facingbothways for office.

IF ALL THESE COULD ONLY VOTE NEXT TUESDAY.

There are two or three classes of persons, who, if they could vote a week from this morning at the city election, would roll up a majority for Dr. Lindley that ten thousand votes would fail to number. With what enthusiasm they would stamp their cross opposite the name of Dr. Walter Lindley! They would do so with tears of gratitude flowing from their eyes and with love consuming their hearts. They would do it because they know Walter Lindley, his worth, his true and real self, better than any other people in the city. They would do it because they know his loving kindness, his deep charity for all who suffer, are afflicted or in distress, and for all who need a kind, cool palm to smooth the racked brow or a strong, firm hand to help up from misery to comfort and hope.

Who are these people? They are first of all a great army of women, wives and mothers and sisters and sweethearts, who have stood by the bedside of husbands, sons, daughters, brothers and beaux when the fires of fever burned fiercely, when disease grasped their loved ones by the throat, when pain racked every nerve in their poor, suffering bodies, or when despair from misfortune or crime stared at them. They know the quiet smile of the kind face and the gentle touch of the skilled hand of the physician that cooled the fever and the lips that spoke such words of comfort and hope where despair had reigned supreme. They know the wisdom of mind as well as the kindness of heart of this skilled, patient and gentle physician that so often banished disease, restored the loved one to good health and replaced pain and grief with love and joy. Oh, if these women who in thousands of instances have seen this quiet doctor enter the sick rooms with such cheering and confident mien, give such wise and quiet advice, install hope of recovery where gloom had held its sway! Yes, if these women with their debt of ardent gratitude in their hearts were only allowed to express their preference for Dr. Lindley and their confidence in his skill, wisdom and business ability, it would take a week, rather than a single day, to poll the votes that would be cast for him.

And then again, if only the hundreds upon hundreds of children who have been rescued from starvation and misery and cared for up in the Los Angeles Orphans' Home, were permitted to come in a body and vote for Dr. Lindley, what an army would crowd the polls in every precinct in the city! These children, who have been accustomed for nearly thirty years to look forward to his cheering visits up at the Orphans' Home in Sonoratown, what do they not owe to the beneficent energy of Dr. Walter Lindley, who suggested, took the first steps for and carried on all the enterprise of erecting that orphans' home and of providing for its support? Hundreds and hundreds of children, hungry, naked and desolate, were led by Dr. Lindley's hand from their squalid homes of penury and want. They were cleansed, clothed and fed in the cheerful, comfortable home that, through his instrumentality, Charity had erected. As they stood by his knee he has held their hands and counseled them to be good, to try to learn to be diligent and so conduct their lives that they might grow up into useful and happy men and women. They would come in a great body and they would fill ballot box after ballot box with votes for Dr. Walter Lindley for Mayor.

Then if all the boys and girls could vote who have been saved from homes of crime and from careers of crime, taken to the Whittier State School, taught trades, imbued with good learning and then sent forth into the world to fill places of usefulness, to be a blessing to the world instead of a curse, and to enjoy life in happy homes instead of dragging out a wretched existence in a penitentiary—if they could all be gathered who during the last twenty years have been rescued from vice in this part of the State and converted into decent men and women at Whittier, if they all were in the city today and entitled to vote, what an enormous army they would make and how enthusiastically they would vote for Dr. Lindley!

These form only the beginning of the story. The classes might be multiplied over and over again. The mechanics who in the past thirty years have been earning good wages at building houses and great institutions for Dr. Lindley; boys and girls in the public schools in whom he has taken such an interest, who owe so much of their care and education to his care and good advice; the thousands of patients in the great hospital which he has built and superintended; the nurses whom he had trained to perform the duties of a noble calling; and the men and women who have gone to Dr. Lindley week in and week out for thirty years and asked his advice and help and never asked in vain—if they were all here now and all endowed with the right of franchise, the mass of votes cast for Dr. Lindley could not be carried in a furniture van.

DESPERATE GRAFTERS.

It is not in the least surprising to learn that witnesses who have given evidence before the grand jury in San Francisco against the Ruef-Schmitz gang of grafters have been threatened with death. Such threats are to be expected. When account is taken of the desperate character of the crowd which is back of the grafting gangsters, it must be confessed that the witnesses who give evidence tending to convict are by no means exempt from personal danger. There are plenty of ruffians in San Francisco who would not hesitate to commit murder upon the slightest provocation, or upon no provocation; and there is probably a considerable number of persons, not generally known as ruffians, who would not hesitate to hire thugs to commit murder if it were necessary for the carrying out of their purposes, or to save themselves from prison.

The vigor with which Mr. Heney is going after Ruef and his co-conspirators is a refreshing phase of the situation. That he has them "on the run" has been evident for some time past. Since Ruef made the bluff of attempting to get himself appointed as his own prosecutor, a good share of his assurance and nerve seems to have deserted him. He is acting on the defensive, notwithstanding his threats and blustering at the beginning of the graft exposures. It seems tolerably certain that Mr. Heney will keep the gang going for some time, and there is ground for hope that some of them will go into the penitentiary before they stop.

DAYS OF RETRIBUTION.

A special dispatch to The Times yesterday, from Tacoma, stated that exposures are about to be made of extensive land frauds in that State—frauds "that will make those of Oregon look insignificant." It seems that special secret service agents of the government have been at work in the State of Washington for several months, and that they have brought to light mammoth swindles extending over many years. William J. Burns, special government operative in charge of the investigation, is said to have in his possession complete evidence of these frauds, which are alleged to be "five times greater than in Oregon." Strenuous times are predicted "when the government shows its hand," and this showing it is stated, will soon be made.

This is only a sample of reports which appear in the press, at very frequent intervals, from different sections of the country. Reading these all-too-frequent reports of fraudulent practices, the superficial observer is apt to conclude that the world is rapidly going from bad to worse; that nobody is honest; that we have, indeed, fallen upon evil days, and that dishonesty is spreading like a pestilence over the land.

The situation is not so bad as that—though it is bad enough. These pessimists are partly right, but they are mostly wrong. There is more fraud and graft in the United States today, without a doubt, than existed one or two generations ago; but the country is bigger and vastly more populous. That there are more of these evils now than then, in proportion to population and wealth, remains to be proven. But even so, the situation is not one-half so desperate as pessimists would have us believe.

Never within the world's history has wealth been created by the people of any nation as it has been created by the American people within the past decade. The Times has shown in a previous article that if the ratio of increase be maintained until the end of 1910, the total increment for the decade then ending will amount to about $46,000,000,000. This unparalleled period of wealth-production has brought with it unusual and extraordinary temptations for graft and swindling of all sorts; a fact which explains, in a large degree, the prevalence of these crimes and the great amounts involved.

There is a hopeful phase of this matter which must not be lost sight of. The public conscience is at work, as is evidenced by the vigorous and successful prosecution of these offenders. The forces of righteousness are also at work, and they are putting in quite as many hours as are the forces of evil. If it were not so, the case would indeed be hopeless, and there would be ample reason for despair and pessimism. Evil will always exist in the world, but so long as good rises up to combat it, there will always be ground for hope and belief that the good will predominate.

If these are days of graft, so also they are days of retribution. On the whole, the grafters are getting the worst of it in the majority of cases. It may take a long time to exterminate the evil brood, for justice is sometimes leaden-footed. But as time passes the occupation of the grafter will become more disreputable and more dangerous.

Who of all the candidates for Mayor has done the most for Los Angeles? Who is likely to do the most?

A Thanksgiving Prayer.

By Wilbur D. Nesbit.

"I beseech you to cease to regret your lack of prosperity. Thank God you have work and struggle before you."—J. D. Rockefeller, Jr.

I thank Thee, Lord,
That I have not
A golden hoard
In some safe spot,
And don't hold sway
In any State
Where juries may Investigate.

O, I rejoice
At this great boon;
I lift my voice
In thankful tune
That from my lack
I almost starve
For canvas back
I cannot carve.

I am so glad,
Indeed, that I
Have never had
The cash to buy
A palace grand
Or castle great
Or miles of land
For my estate.

It is to me
A lasting joy,
One that shall be Without alloy,
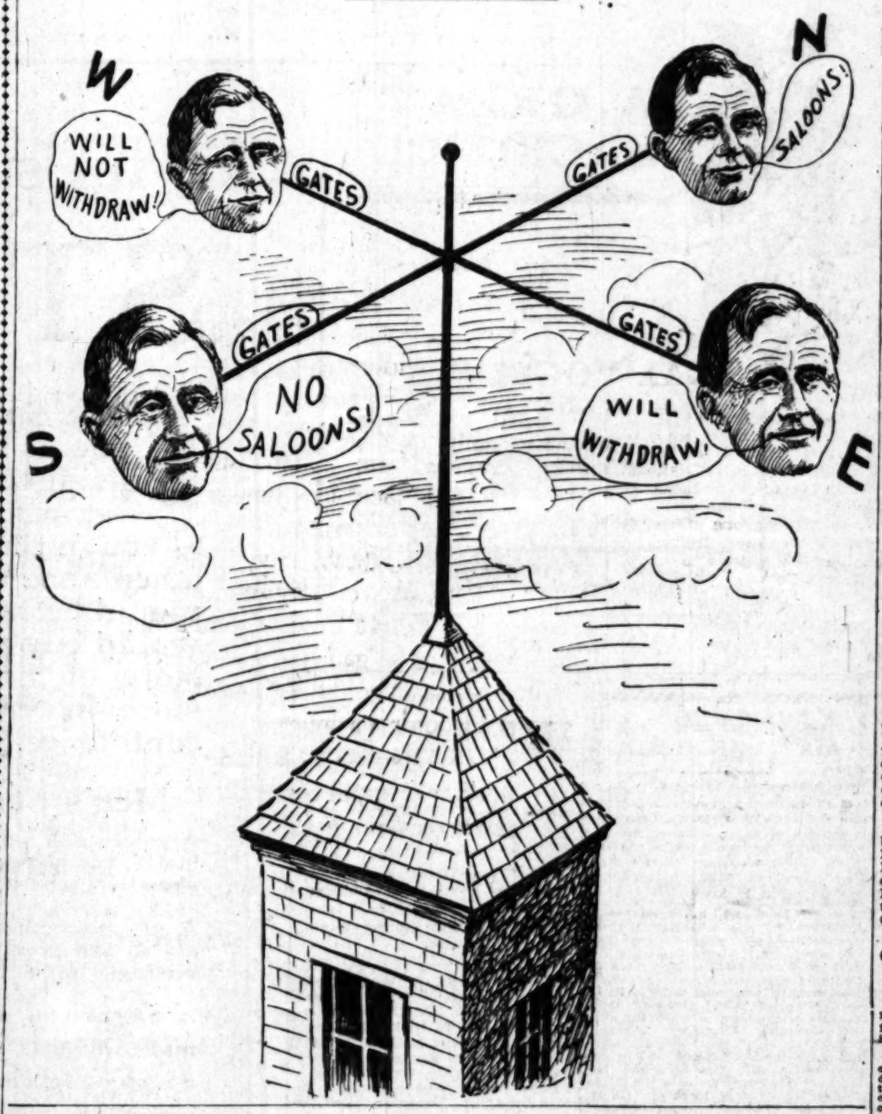
That I may jump
Into the ditch
While autos bump
By, with the rich.

My heart is thrilled
With gratitude,
My bosom filled
With thankful mood,
Because I'm sure
It now appears
I shall be poor
Through all my years.

THE POLITICAL WEATHER-VANE.



THE "EXPRESS" ON GATES IN 1905.

Showing Its Opinion of Him as a Wobbling Police Commissioner.

[FROM THE EVENING EXPRESS, SEPT. 6, 1905.]

Ignores Its Own Rule.

"The expected has happened. The police board has saved the licenses held by the Bristol, Imperial and Palace cafés. When the vote was taken it stood: For revocation of the Imperial and Palace licenses, Johnson and Mason; against, Gates, James and McAleer.

"When reduced to its final analysis the case against one or more of the cafés resolved itself into a question of whether the police board would or would not sustain and enforce its own rule. Messrs. Gates, James and McAleer declined to do so.

"The police board has backed down. Its action is a virtual declaration that the cafés may serve liquor to women without meals. The State law applies alike to saloons and cafés. If women are to be served with liquor in cafés without meals they also may be so served in saloons. Then there will be a return to the old conditions of a few years ago, when saloons maintained 'private rooms,' and the drinks thus supplied to women almost equaled those taken over the bar.

* * * Let the police board be honest and candid. Let it not hypocritically establish a rule and then fail in its enforcement. Let it treat all alike. Let it not grant special privileges to certain dealers that it denies to others. Let it do its duty."

Harper's ostentatious parading of the union label—the "badge of servitude" and the dickering of his managers with the labor unions, should give pause to some misguided citizens who have thought he might be the man to defeat Wilson. The idea is preposterous.

PROMINENT PERSONS.

In a discussion of a recent prize fight a young lady of Charleston asked Dr. Ellison Capers, bishop of South Carolina, if he did not disapprove of prize fighting. "On the contrary," Dr. Capers answered, "I approve of it heartily. You see, it always offers the probability of two brutes getting a good thrashing."

By his will, dated 1706, Michael Solomon directed that a sermon should be preached annually in Grantham Church, England, "strongly denouncing drunkenness," and each year for two centuries his wish has been fulfilled. The cost is met from the rental of the Angel Hotel. The preacher this year was Rev. Gerald Goodwin, the son of the late head of a large Newark brewery.

Maj. Charles Loeffler, chief usher of the White House for nearly thirty years, has never voted but once. That was in 1872, the year of Grant's second campaign. He joined the army as an enlisted man at Lockhaven, Pa., in 1858, but has not lived there since. Maj. Loeffler was appointed to the White House service from the army in 1869. In the years that have passed he has served Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Arthur, Cleveland, Harrison, Cleveland again, McKinley and Roosevelt.

Sir Hiram Maxim, the famous inventor of guns and powder, does not nowadays look much the Maine Yankee that he is. He impresses the beholder as being rather a fierce personage, white whiskered and his breast covered with decorations when special occasion calls for such display. For the last ten years and more Sir Hiram has devoted himself to attempts to solve the problem of aerial navigation. Like Santos-Dumont, he early discarded the balloon and devotes all his energy to constructing an aeroplane which can be propelled with such velocity as to lift itself and its navigator free from mother earth.

John D. Long, who has been Congressman, Governor of Massachusetts and Cabinet officer, celebrated his sixty-eighth birthday recently. He attributes his robust health to the fact that whenever possible he goes to bed at 9 o'clock and stays there nine hours. Speaker Cannon indorses this idea—with a difference. He insists that every man should be in bed at 9 in the morning. "Uncle Joe," however, does not follow his own prescription. He goes to bed late as a general rule, but is always up with the chickens. President Roosevelt tries to bring his average of sleep up to eight hours out of every twenty-four, and if for any cause he misses that much slumber one night, he will make it up the next.

The court-martial which has been trying at Sebastopol the sailors and others charged with being implicated in the mutiny of November, 1905, for which Lieut. Schmidt and three companions were executed March 19, has sentenced a civilian named Kontorovitch and two sailors to death. Kontorovitch, who is a Jew, will be hanged and the others will be shot.

BRIDGE OF MAHOGANY.

Mexican Structure Used by Mule Teams Made of One of Most Valuable Materials.

As mahogany is among the most costly woods in the world, it may well be inferred that this tropical material is not very extensively employed in the construction of buildings, etc. A bridge constructed of solid mahogany is certainly a rarity, a curiosity. There is one, claimed to be the only one in the world, built of that material. This structure is located in the Department of Palenque, State of Chiapas, republic of Mexico. The district lies in the extreme southern part of Mexico, near the boundary line of Guatemala.

This mahogany bridge is constructed entirely of that valuable wood except some iron supports, braces and bolts that are necessary. The bridge spans the Rio Michol and its total length, including approaches, exceeds 100 feet, while the width is fifteen feet. It is used by both teams and pedestrians, and, though somewhat rude and primitive in construction, it is very substantial.

None of the timbers of the bridge were sawed, for in that region there are no sawmills, but were hewn and split.

In that section of old Mexico there are several very large rubber plantations and mahogany trees are quite common. In clearing away the tropical forests for setting out the young rubber trees the mahogany growth is also cut down and removed. As this wood is quite abundant, some of it was used in building the bridge.—[American Inventor.

Fish Drown in Deep Water.

Several examples of a zoological paradox—a fish which would speedily be drowned if placed in deep water—have just been added to the collection in Regent's Park. This is the Anabas, or walking fish, which spends the greater part of its existence upon the muddy banks of tropical rivers.

Its method of progression has been described by naturalists as of the "hop, skip and jump" variety, but when journeying inland, as it does for over long distances, it climbs by means of the breast fins over the roots and even into the boughs of trees.—London Graphic.

King George of Greece, accompanied by his daughter, the Grand Duchess Michaelovich of Russia, visited the Pope yesterday and were most cordially received. The hesitation of the King to visit the Pope was caused by the feeling in Greece against Roman Catholics.

PLAYHOUSES AND PLAYERS.

MASON. The college on the banks of the Big Muddy River (otherwise the Wabash) is very much like every other seat of learning—and athletics. Therefore, George Ade's bright take-off of the life of Lafayette, Ind., goes straight to the heart of every college-bred man and woman.

"The College Widow" is bright and breezy, fresh and original, from start to finish, and its famous football team is the "real thing." As Henry W. Savage's company gives it this week at the Mason, the lively comedy could hardly be bettered. The characters are all well placed, and the play moves on with a rush.

The college widow is as sweet and pretty and womanly as could be desired. Louise Rutter fills the part most perfectly to the eye, though she does not always quite grasp and interpret its histrionic capabilities. Estelle Dale is good as Mrs. Primley Baiselle, the professional chaperone, and Bessie Toner is true to the life as Bessie Tanner, the athletic girl. (Is the similarity in names merely a coincidence?) Patty Allison does character work that is grotesquely funny, and at the same time wonderfully realistic, in the part of Flora Wiggins, the prominent waitress.

The men are good, without exception, from Billy Bolton, the halfback, to "Stub" Talmadge, the busy undergraduate. George Odell, as Matty McGowan, Alan Brooks as the freshman, Rub Hicks, Beresford Hollis as Capsicus Talbot, Frank Wunderlee as "Silent" Murphy, and George Trimble as Hiram Bolton, all deserve special mention for comedy work of most intelligent finish. They help to make "The College Widow" one of the most delightful plays that has been seen on the boards of the Mason for many a day.

The audience did its best last night to make things cheerful. There were Los Angeles college boys in the galleries, and their yells and songs were as enlivening as those of the play. In short, a genuine Thanksgiving spirit prevailed in the Mason from dome to pit. Everybody was happy.

"The College Widow" will be given the entire week.

GRAND OPERAHOUSE. Just how "The Marriage of Kitty" came to be displaced at the Grand Operahouse neither manager nor press agent will say, but at least it is a delightful comedy, filled with far more probability than many of the current farces which have found favor at higher prices. The acting, too, is above the average standard, and is in no sense comparable with the melodramatic fiascos which have been thrown pretty regularly at the Grand by the traveling companies which present blood-and-thunder.

A mistake of heart is the keynote upon which this play hangs. By the peculiar codicil of a will, the principal male character is obliged to marry a woman other than the one he loves; in doing so, however, he really secures his own happiness, for he finds, in the end, that he loves his lawful wife far more than his sweetheart.

Miss Florence Gear is to be seen in the chief role, and imparts to it a surprising amount of character, humor and intelligent force. Miss Gear has such diverse methods of securing her effects that her accomplishments put her in the front rank of comediennes. The support is very acceptable, and the settings and properties of the piece are above the average.

"The Marriage of Kitty" will, doubtless, be high-water mark for Grand Operahouse accomplishments for some time to come.

BURBANK. With William Desmond astonishingly successful as John Storm, and Mary Van Buren quietly, subtly intense as Glory Quayle, there are two sufficient surprises in Mr. Morosco's revival of "The Christian."

The secondary people were, of course, well chosen, for the rank and file of the Burbank stock has always lent itself particularly well to the depiction of Hall Caine folk.

But in Mr. Desmond and Miss Van Buren the stage-manager essayed two principals who seemed especially unfitted for the roles to which they were about to be assigned.

It is hard for genial "Bill" to get away from himself; hard for him to transform himself out of good-humored, Twentieth-century boyishness into even momentary solemnity—much less the dark asceticisms of John Storm. Nevertheless, as another indication of Mr. Desmond's maturing arts, he does succeed in affecting John Storm in almost every scene. The impersonation is not absolute—there is little real deception in character—but it is so smooth and modestly executed, so true in every line, that only in one or two places does John Storm disappear and smiling Desmond bob up instead. In no place does the actor "spoil the picture," and in most of his scenes his well-known force and vigor assist him to serious and very creditable climaxes.

In Mary Van Buren the difficulties to overcome were almost equally obvious. Miss Van Buren is a comedienne always, and it is an intense effort for her to be anything else. She has used her voice so long in comedy lines, has trained it to bright speeches, has based the point to so many jokes, that she is in everything it is almost a lisping laugh. She has abandoned the dramatic vocal effects of the tragic actress long ago, and as a result she no longer has them at her command. Her elocution on her work in the third act was therefore interesting. She used her effects by quietness, used a high voice, and depended on fine touches of shading, eloquent facial expression, demonstrative gesture. And assisting these two are Maude Gilbert, in excellent character work; Arthur Rutledge, adorable voice and all, as a realistic Lord Robert Ure; Harry Mestayer, as a delightful Drake; Harry Duffield, as a lifelike and ever-optimistic Lamplough; John Burton, veritable Archdeacon in the flesh; Willis Clarke and Robert Homans—both good in small roles.

Carrie Clarke Ward, who evidences strong, good training and work in strong companies, makes her first local appearance, as an excellent Mrs. Callender.

ORPHEUM. There's a freshness and contagion in that group of nine youngsters billed as Gus Edwards's "Schoolboys and Girls," which is a decided relief from the set, matter-of-fact turns furnished by the old stagers. To be sure their singing is not as finished as might be expected, but the vim and spirit of fun exhibited in their dance and chorus work, by one and all, and the mutual appreciation of one another's successes, is a treat in itself. While the future shines brightly for at least three members of the team. It seems a pity that managers will not insist on more appropriate selections, for it is an undeniable truth that the gallery can break, if not make, the merit it may possess. This fact was proved on the body of the house last evening during turns by Lillian Apel, whose selections, suited admirably for parlor performance, failed to reach the gallery, and much of their beauty was marred by the calls and noisy applause from the upper region. Her "pianologue," as she calls her performance, was dainty and her playing finished.

Lee White sings several "good songs," well rendered, but the soprano voice of great volume with which she is blessed shows marked signs of severe overwork, which, at times, greatly mar her songs.

The Sisters Camaras perform some decidedly sensational acrobatic stunts, requiring both nerve and strength.

Unquestionably the winner, as might be expected, among the holdovers is the Empire City Quartette, which last night introduced "Cheer Up, Mary," the march song, which caught like wild fire. Then there comes the Wilson brothers, Mlle. Alexandra and Bertie, and Vasco, who still persists in his poorly-disembled madness, marring what might be otherwise a winning turn.

On Sale Wednesday, Not Today, at 25c

Samples from Germany's greatest hosiery maker—only a hundred and fifty dozen, but as there are seldom two pairs of a kind it gives the first comers a broad variety to choose from.

Included are many silk-embroidered lisles, all-over lace lisles, fine gauzes and embroidered lace ankles.

Greens, browns, navy blue, tans and wine shades, as well as white and black.

Never before have we had a line of samples with so few gaudy patterns—hardly any in this collection that the most conservative dressers wouldn't admire.

Fancy stockings at half, a third or a mere quarter of their usual cost—what a chance for gift-gatherers who want to give something useful!

On Sale Wednesday in the Annex.

Toys And Dolls

Our Toy and Doll departments are on the third floor—perfectly lighted and ventilated. The arrangement of stocks makes selection easy—that crowded, jumbled appearance generally found in Christmas stocks is avoided here.

If you begin your gift-gathering now, and here, you can buy in perfect comfort, and get just what you want instead of having to make the best of depleted assortments.

Dolls in seemingly endless variety, and everything dolly needs, from a tiny pair of shoes to an elaborate silk dress costing $7 or $8.

And the Toy department has hundreds of things to amuse and instruct the youngsters.

Safety in Buying Bedding Here

Only way to be sure about getting bedding that doesn't harbor disease germs is to buy at a store that positively refuses to take back or exchange anything of the sort that has been out of the store over night.

OUR customers run no risk of getting anything that has seen more or less service while "out on approval."

Among this week's special offerings are:

At $2.50 Instead of $4—Eleven-quarter blankets of white mixed wool with wide silk binding and red or blue borders—good weight, warm and fluffy; $2.50 a pair.

At $3 Instead of $4.50—Eleven-quarter blankets of mixed white wool, soft and fluffy and won't shrink when washed—pink, blue or red borders; $3 a pair.

At $4.50 Instead of $5—Ten-quarter blankets of heavy white wool with 2-inch silk binding and red, blue or pink borders; $4.50 a pair.

At $5 Instead of $6.50—Eleven-quarter blankets of very soft white wool with 2-inch silk binding, double stitched—will wash without shrinking—pink, blue or red borders; $5 a pair.

French Muslinwear For Gifts

A more dainty or practical present for mailing to friends back East would be hard to select, than these exquisitely fine French hand-embroidered corset covers, or combination garments. Yet though they're so good, they're remarkably inexpensive. For as little as five dollars you may select from a number of elaborately-done designs, corset covers or chemises.

In combination corset covers and drawers, or corset covers and skirts, we show a line of the famous La Grecque make, seams are put together with beading, buttonholes are hand made, and the buttons sewn on by hand. Nowhere else in Los Angeles can you buy this brand, $2.50 to $15 for the finest of them.

Women's novelty drawers, in 16 and 18 inch lengths, form another attractive exhibit. These garments are fashioned from finest Persian lawn, and trimmed with lace, beading and ribbons of exceptional fineness, $4 to $8.

WOODBRIDGE HAS DIVORCE.

Culmination of Sensational Fights and Suits.

Defendant not in Court, Is Said to Be Sick.

Accusations of His Mother-in-Law Recalled.

After a sensational cross-fire of suits Dr. Samuel M. Woodbridge, director of the Agricultural Experiment Station of the Southern California Academy of Sciences, obtained a divorce from Mrs. Edith Woodbridge, on the ground of desertion, in Judge Conrey's court yesterday.

In January of last year Dr. Woodbridge and his wife were not in harmony, but application for divorce was refused by Judge Oster, who was sitting for Judge York. Yesterday the wife no longer opposed the divorce, for she made default.

Dr. Woodbridge was charged by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Eunice Groome, over a year ago with assault to murder, and of the two complaints sworn to, one was filed with Justice Glover of South Pasadena, where Mrs. Groome lived, and one with Justice Pierce. Dr. Woodbridge carried the war into the enemy's camp by leveling charges against Justice Glover, linking the name of his wife unpleasantly with that of the suburban Justice of the Peace.

The charge made by Mrs. Groome had lain dormant since December 31, 1903, and the reason she gave for delaying the prosecution was that certain mortgages and business transactions of other kinds in which Dr. Woodbridge had an interest had to be cleared away first. The actual charge made by Mrs. Groome was that her son-in-law flourished a knife and threatened her life.

She claimed that Woodbridge entered her house by the window instead of the door, or rather, he was on the point of stepping inside when she appeared and drove him away; that he had made other attempts to offset an entrance the same evening, and this was the fifth.

"He then rushed to the side door," Mrs. Groome stated at the time, "jerked open the screen, and kicked out one of the panels. He smashed the glass with his hand, and blood from a resulting cut spoiled my carpet and the curtains on the door.

"He had a knife in his hand," she continued, "when he was trying to get through the window, and kept yelling, 'damn you, let me in,' calling me also all kinds of bad names."

In court yesterday Dr. Woodbridge stated that he was married at Ontario on November 20, 1897, and that his wife deserted him on December 20, 1903. It was very soon after this desertion that the scene detailed by Mrs. Groome took place. Dr. Woodbridge was trying to see his wife.

The doctor met Miss E. Gertrude Groome at Ontario, when he was making business trips through the San Gabriel Valley. He made several lecturing tours for the Academy of Sciences, and had occasion to visit Ontario after floating the Woodbury Chemical Works Company. Miss Groome was a public stenographer. Dr. Woodbridge used to dictate all his letters to her; it ended in marriage.

Some of the relatives of the parties claimed at the time of the trouble that it was simply an acute case of mother-in-law, but the accusations made were of such a sensational character that criminal and civil suits were begun and overlapped one another. One by one they disappeared, and the suit in Judge Oster's court was the only public exploitation of the matter. Mrs. Woodbridge failed to appear, it is alleged, because she is ill at San José.

TROLLEY STIRS REALTY.

Expected Early Arrival of Electric Cars at Pomona Causes Interest in Land Subdivision.

There is a realty stir in Pomona since assurance has been given that the Pacific Electric will reach that city with its trolley system. A good deal of interest is shown in subdivision. The Walker-Dole tract of sixty-six lots, intended for cottage homes, has been placed on the market, and now comes the announcement that the Huntington Boulevard tract will be ready within a few weeks.

This tract, recently purchased by a syndicate of Pomona and Los Angeles parties, comprises the Cyrus Burdick orange orchard of sixteen acres, between Ganesha Park and Orange Grove avenue, the Adams, Kelsey, Bieley and Lorbeer tracts, lying between Orange Grove, Holt, White and Hamilton avenues, with the exception of two small tracts reserved as homesteads. It comprises about eighty acres, and will be subdivided into 300 lots, with broad streets running east and west, and a 120-foot roadway, which has been named Huntington boulevard, extending from Holt avenue to the bridge in Ganesha Park.

The owners of the tract several weeks ago offered to H. E. Huntington, the electric railroad magnate, a private right of way, 40 feet wide, through the center of the boulevard. This offer has been accepted, and Mr. Huntington will build his line of electric railroad from Holt avenue to the park on this right of way as soon as the road can be constructed from Covina to Los Angeles.

When the franchise was granted to the Pacific Electric Railway Company in Pomona three years ago, it was proposed to construct a line on Ellen and Preciado streets as an entrance to the park, but under the new arrangement no application was made for a franchise leading to the park, inasmuch as Mr. Huntington had already agreed to accept this tender of private right of way, which he and the railroad officials considered more advantageous in its privilege of handling cars in times of unusual holiday travel than could be done on a narrow and crowded street. Regular and frequent daily service is to be maintained on this park line, as well as on all other local trolley lines.

Building restrictions of not less than $2000 for a two-story house, nor less than $1000 for a one-story bungalow will probably be imposed upon all lots in the tract, and higher restrictions placed on the lots fronting Huntington boulevard and Holt avenue, and also in portions of the former Burdick orchard adjacent to the park. It is understood that prices will range from $500 to $1250, for large lots.

The tract is owned by a syndicate composed of M. H. Wilson of Los Angeles, Epes Randolph, and over a score of others.

RESCUE GIRLS FROM SHAME.

POLICE BALK VILE PLANS OF PROCURERS.

Two Habitual Criminals Gain Influence Over Daughters of Good Families by Making Tempting Promises of High Wages at Bakersfield. Officers Interfere Just in Time.

Two plain clothes policemen yesterday afternoon rescued two young girls from "Kid" Williams and a woman of unknown identity as they were on the eve of taking their victims to a Bakersfield dance hall. Associated with Williams in this venture was Pat Powers. Both men are known to the police as habitual criminals. The girls belong to good families.

In itself dramatic, the rescue broke up the operations of a newly formed ring of procurers, in the belief of the officers. One of the girls was sent back to her mother. The other, whose parents are dead, is now in the care of Capt. Broadhead, who will try to find for her either employment or a suitable home.

During the afternoon information came to the police that Williams had the two young women. They were to meet Powers and an older woman at First and Spring streets, and to go at once to the Arcade Depot to catch a north-bound Southern Pacific train for Bakersfield. There the victims were to work in the Palace Dance Hall. Plain Clothes Policemen Ingraham and Redman had the case.

Powers and Williams are known to the police as highwaymen and the associates of women of ill repute. The officers lost no time in hunting for the two girls, found them a scant half hour before the proposed meeting with Powers and took them to the Central Station. There the girls told their story. They said Williams had held out to them glittering promises as to what they would get in the Bakersfield resort. When they learned what they had escaped, they showed deep thankfulness.

Owing to the vagaries of California law on the subject of procurement, prosecution in this case proved impossible. Another feature of the case is that, though the police know the men to be criminals, they can't bring vagrancy charges against either Powers or Williams. The former comes from a good family, but has been in jail a number of times, more than once being accused of serious crimes. The latter was once a prize fighter, but his character was too questionable even for the prize ring, and he has, say the officers, lived by criminal practices for a long time.

CHINK; GUN; CHASE.

Covina Sheepherders Are Driven From Their Cabin by a Crazy Chinaman.

COVINA, Nov. 26.—Two wildly excited French sheep herders, clad only in their shirts, and one of them carrying an axe, rushed into the residence of George E. Jeffrey, a rancher living one mile south of town, just after 10 o'clock last evening, and told an alarming story of having been awakened in their sleep and driven out of their cabin by a crazy Chinaman armed with a gun.

Constable Van Vliet and Deputy Sheriff Allison were notified and, in company with several others, proceeded to the herders' camp in the Walnut wash, and for three hours searched the neighborhood for the dangerous lunatic. Failing to locate the man the chase was abandoned til this morning.

The "Chink" was discovered this forenoon in a stubble field unconscious from exposure, the night having turned cold, with heavy rain. After being removed to shelter it took several hours before he showed signs of returning life, when he showed unmistakable indications of insanity, and was removed to the County Hospital this afternoon.

Complimenting Good Cigars.

An entertainment was in progress in the First Church on a severe winter's night, and the auditorium was becoming chilly.

Rev. Shameloupe quietly left the rostrum, to look after the fire. As he entered the basement he was surprised to encounter a group of ushers gathered about the furnace, complacently smoking their cigars.

The men expected a severe rebuke but the minister said, very kindly: "I wish you wouldn't smoke, gentlemen; it is penetrating, and some of our visiting brethren are not accustomed to the burning of incense in their churches.—[From Garrett Geerlings.

Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained, by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome California blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

MONTECITO PARK

On the Griffin Avenue Electric Line Only 15 Minutes Ride

GOING WITH A RUSH!

We began advertising Montecito Park last Friday. The street car line began running into the tract yesterday. We had sold up to noon yesterday 42 lots for a total of $25,500.

Isn't This Going Some?

We said the people were hungry for Montecito Park. We advised homeseekers, investors and speculators to go out early and make their selections. We repeat this with increased emphasis. Those who buy early will get the best lots and make the most money.

Montecito Park is beautiful, high and sightly, on the right side of the far-famed Arroyo Seco, closer in than the Garvanza and Highland Parks, and with more natural advantages than either. First class improvements. ALL OF WHICH ARE INCLUDED IN THE PURCHASE PRICE OF THE LOTS. Don't forget this.

LOTS $600 UP. One-fourth cash. 5 per cent. off for all cash. Take Griffin Ave. electric line to office on tract.

Safe Investment Sure Income

Inside Business Property Affords the Most Reliable Investment Known to the Business World

Unit - Ownership Method of the Trustee Company of Los Angeles Applied to a Ten-Story Office Building

"That portion of the face of the Earth, but a thousand acres in extent, which is used by all the people for the daily transfer of the daily necessities of life, the business centers of the great cities, afford in their improved properties the one and only investment known to the business world as dependable to the last degree in regularity of income, surety of increase in value, and entirely satisfactory to leave as a provision for the family."

This statement of a successful business man shows the reason which business property is held by the business world.

The property employed by the business community in transacting the business of the community is an absolute public necessity. Although largely monopolized from an investment standpoint by large owners it is the one public necessity which cannot be made the subject of corporate manipulation. It is also practically free from the misfortune of being out of competition, and is the only investment the true value and earning power of which can be ascertained at all times by the public generally. Its selection as an investment by the most conservative men the world over is evidence that it is the best investment known the business world.

To enable the investing public generally to share in this most desirable of all investments, The Trustee Company of Los Angeles was organized by the best known and most responsible business men in this community. These men have invested their money in the properties the company sells under the Unit Ownership method. They buy the property, manage the business and see that every interest is protected through the special form of title deed.

The new ten-story, fire-proof office building now being constructed by the company at 424-426-428 South Broadway, Los Angeles, will be one of the best paying investments in the business district of that city, and its desirable location insures a steady increase in value year by year. Under The Trustee Company plan, the ownership of this splendid property, which will cost $525,000 (including the ground value,) is divided into 525 Units, duly made of record with the County Recorder, and may be transferred, sold, devised by will or otherwise disposed of as the owner may desire.

The investor is enabled to examine and understand the property he is investing in, and at all times can have full knowledge of its value and its earnings and the disposition made of all moneys received from the property.

Any sum may be invested in this property and the owner receives such returns and increase of value the same in proportion as if he were the owner of the entire property. If the ownership of this entire property were a good investment, the ownership of one or more Units is a better investment. If the entire property were owned by one person and for any reason he desired to sell he might have difficulty in finding a purchaser with so large an investment, while the owner of one or several Units, getting quarterly dividends and steadily increasing in value, would have no difficulty in disposing of his holdings.

One hundred and fifty of the Units in this property are offered for sale at $1000 each, and interest will be paid at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum upon the investments until the completion of the building, after which the investors will receive the regular dividends, based upon existing rentals of office buildings in Los Angeles and other cities of similar size. The investor can safely rely upon an income of more than 7½ per cent. per annum and enjoy the increase in the value of the property.

For complete information in regard to this and other properties, inquire of Beside Miss Chaffee, those in the party were Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, Mr. Wheeler's mother and Misses Georgia Caswell of this city and Marian McGilvray of Pasadena, Will Merwin of Pasadena, Robert J. Burdette, Jr., and Eugene Overton.

Mr. Brode Is to Wed.

Interesting news today is that which has leaked out of the engagement of Miss Sara Mathewson of Hotel Coronado and Walter Brode, a well-known business man and native of the State. As yet no date has been set for the wedding, but it will probably take place some time in January.

Miss Mathewson, with her sister, Miss Helen Mathewson came here three years ago from Denver, Colo., and in that time has made many friends. She is a charmingly bright and pretty young woman, and Mr. Brode's friends are congratulating him on his good fortune.

Mr. Brode is identified with Los Angeles very closely, as he was born and raised here. He is a son of Mrs. Clara Brode, and part owner in the Brode Block on Spring street; in fact, he was born in the very spot where that block now stands. He attended kin-

Pretty Miss Hull Here.

A charmingly bright and piquant young girl is Miss Grace Craib Hull, who has recently arrived here from New York, to visit her sister, Mrs. Jean Craib, at Hotel Heinzeman. Miss Hull is remarkably bright in dramatic lines, and though a California girl, her successes on the stage have been made in that Mecca of young artists' hopes, New York. She made a hit recently in "Way Down East," in the character of Kate, and had a charming ingenue part in "The Fool and His Money." She was also associated with a good part in the company of Clara Lipman and Louis Manning. Miss Hull, aside from her ability as a clever actress, is possessed of a large share of good looks. She is petite and blonde, with a row of shining teeth, and eyes as blue as the skies. Miss Hull willl remain here a few weeks and then go north to visit her mother in Oakland, and thence to New York to join a company, of which George Hunt is manager. Miss Hull is a sister of Lovell Craib, who is also a fine actress, and who on Broadway is considered one of the most beautiful women on the New York stage.

Miss Lindley Is Bride.

The University Methodist Church was the scene of a pretty wedding, Miss Cressie Lindley becoming the bride of Albert Janssen. Rev. William Green officiated, assisted by Rev. L. A. Healy, pastor of the church.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Muriel Lindley as maid of honor and by four maids, who included: Misses Margaret Lindley, Macneena McMillan, Evangeline Burgesser and Ethel Cline of Pomona.

The bride was gowned in an empire frock of crepe de chine, and her veil was caught with a wreath of orange blossoms. In the curve of her arm rested a large cluster of bride roses. Little Edith Janssen, niece of the groom, acted as flower girl. She wore a dainty little gown of fluffy green chiffon and carried a basket of rose petals, which she scattered before the bridal pair. The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore pale green chiffon made princesse, and carried huge bouquets of white chrysanthemums. Roy Jones attended the groom as best man and the ushers were: Messrs. Hickey, Richards, Durr and Marvel Morgan. The church was decorated with masses of smilax and potted plants and lovers knots of tulle, wound with soft green ery, formed a canopy, beneath which the nuptial vows were exchanged. The pews were enclosed with ropes of smilax and white satin ribbons. Roy Haslox and white satin ribbons. Roy Haslox presided at the organ and Mrs. Agnes Charlotte Cornelle of Santa Monica rendered a programme of song. A reception was held in the church parlors, immediately after the ceremony for the bridal party and relatives. The couple left after the ceremony for a honeymoon in the north.

The Semper Idam Duplicate Whist Club, composed largely of Los Angeles people, held its initial meeting of the season at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy A. Lane, No. 1221 East Forest avenue, Hollywood.

British Money Invested Abroad.

The London Economist states that British capitalists draw an income of $500,000,000 from their foreign investments. Last fiscal year they paid income tax on $320,300,000, as compared with $195,600,000 twenty years ago. The largest amount is derived from interest on foreign and colonial government securities and the next largest sum from dividends and interest from foreign and colonial concerns.

Tabs on the Milkman.

"Here," said the food inspector, "is an easy and reliable way to detect watered milk."

"You take a clean, well-polished knitting needle, and you dip it down into a vessel of milk. Then you draw it out upright, and watch it closely.

"If the milk is quite pure, some of it will hang to the needle. But if water has been added, even a little water, the milk will nto adhere to the needle at all."

EAT AND SPEAK FOR THE CITY.

MERCHANT BODY'S BANQUET IN PASADENA.

Spread Is Pronounced One of the Best in the History of the Organization—Preacher Tells What May Be Expected "Wherever There Is Something to Eat."

Office of The Times, No. 28 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, Nov. 27.—The tenth annual banquet of the Pasadena Merchants' Association was held last night at Hotel Green. The occasion was made one of unusual festivity. Over 400 guests were present and the spacious west dining-room, where the repast was served, was tastefully decorated with palms and ferns.

The guests were seated at six long tables, artistically arranged about the room. The tables were decked with cut flowers and potted plants, while at each plate was a daintily gotten up menu with a suitable inscription on the cover.

The banquet was preceded by a reception in the parlor of the west building. The members of the reception committee were on hand to welcome the guests, and the function was a delightful one. At 8 o'clock the guests filed into the dining-room and partook of a delightful repast.

The members of the arrangements committee, Messrs. George J. Brenner, H. R. Hertal and C. W. Woodbury, accomplished their work most satisfactorily and the banquet was a success. The arrangements passed off without a hitch and the function was a fitting end to one of the most gratifying and fruitful years in the history of the Pasadena Mechants' Association.

At the close of the menu President Sargent of the association addressed the assembled guests. He welcomed those present and then introduced the toastmaster, Rev. John A. Holmes. Mr. Holmes related some amusing incidents and remarked upon the fact that many clergymen were included on the list of speakers. "Wherever there is something to eat you may always expect to find ministers," said he, "and that fact accounts for the predominance of the men of the cloth on the programme. Our stipends are not such as to allow of reckless expenditures, and we always take advantage of such occasions as this."

The next speaker introduced was the Rev. Albert Hatcher Smith. Dr. Smith chose as the subject of his address, "The Ideal Business Man of Pasadena." He said in part: "The ideal business man is the one who follows the golden rule, the one who is not afraid to do what his conscience tells him is right. There are many things required in the make-up of the ideal business man. He must be a man of integrity and honor, and at the same time a man who can see the opportunities and is willing to use all lawful and legitimate methods to increase his trade. He must work not only for the advancement of his own business, but for the welfare of the city as well. The ideal business man is a man worthy of respect, a man of mark in the community."

Lon F. Chapin, editor of the Pasadena News, spoke on the subject of "The Civic Spirit." He pointed out what united civic spirit had done for Pasadena and expressed the hope that the citizens might always work together for the welfare of the city and its residents.

Rev. Frank Dowling spoke on "The Business Man's Tongue." When he arose to speak he was given a warm reception and his remarks were interspersed with shouts of laughter. Though his talk was pithy and to the point, Mr. Dowling was unable to subdue his bubbling humor and jokes fell from his lips unconsciously. His remarks were roundly applauded.

The last toast of the evening was "The Leader," responded to by Rev. S. G. Dunham. Mr. Dunham paid a pretty tribute to the ladies of Pasadena and mentioned the part which they had had in building up the city. With graceful chivalry he told what the city owed to them and what the State and nation owed to them as well.

It was not until a late hour that the speaking came to a close, and when the party broke up it was with the feeling that the merchants' banquet of 1906 had been the most successful ever given in Pasadena.

PREACHER CREATES SENSATION.

A dispatch from Lexington, Ky., says:

"A sensation was created all over Kentucky yesterday by Rev. Tillman Hobson of Pasadena, Cal., pastor of a church there, who is holding protracted meetings at Henderson, Ky. He denounced card playing and dancing to an audience of 1000 people. Rev. Hobson held the meeting at the Park Theater at Henderson and preached from the subject, 'The Philosophy of a Deck of Cards.' He spoke for a short time on the evils of card playing in society, and then began a diatribe against dancing, which he characterized as the 'devil's invention.' Indignation is great against Rev. Hobson in that section, and it is reported that he will cut his series of sermons short because of his attack on society people."

ABOUT LIGHTING PLANT.

The City Attorney's office this morning received notice that Judge James had sustained the demurrer of the city against the action of Walstein Root and other citizens of Pasadena to restrain the Council from spending any of the money accruing from this year's tax levy toward the installation of a municipal lighting plant. The action had been prophesied by City Attorney Wood and caused gratification to the city officials.

If the action of Judge James is upheld it means that the city can now continue its arrangements for the installation of a lighting plant and that work will not be interrupted. The authorities do not anticipate any further opposition and state that they will proceed to carry out their original plans. It is possible that the opposition may appeal from the decision but no statement to that effect has so far been made.

The action to restrain the city from spending the tax money for a municipal plant was brought by a number of prominent citizens who did not feel that in the circumstances it would be wise to use the money to that end. With the fire department in need of apparatus and other demands on the city treasury they made the contention that it would be unwise to install a plant out of the tax receipts, especially as bonds for the purpose had already been voted.

The administration has taken the stand that the citizens of Pasadena have signified their desire for a plant of their own and, that as the bond issue has been held up by litigation, it is only right and proper that it should be bought through other channels.

GAS AND WOOD LOW.

Pasadena seems fated to suffer from fuel famine. For the past week orders for wood and coal have been met with the reply that there is none of the commodity to be had and early yesterday afternoon an accident in the works of the Consolidated Gas Company necessitated turning off the flow of gas. As this company supplies a considerable part of the trade the failure of its machinery to work caused considerable inconvenience.

Most of the restaurants in the city are dependent upon gas to keep their coffee machines going and cold coffee was all that could be secured during the noon hour. The plant of the Pasadena News was temporarily put out of business owing to the failure of the gas for the linotypes, and other machinery, run by gas, was brought to a standstill. Late in the evening the repairs were completed, however, and the flow of gas was again turned on.

The wood and coal famine is assuming a more serious aspect than was at first anticipated and it may be some time before a sufficient supply is received to supply the demand. Last week the dealers promised to have plenty of fuel on hand by Monday of this week, but inquiries yesterday elicited the information that all efforts to replenish the stock had been fruitless. Small orders were filled and most people were able to get enough fuel to last them for a day or two, but nearly every order for a load of wood brought no more than a wheelbarrow full.

The dealers state that they are unable to get fuel themselves and that the coal supply in Southern California is alarmingly low. They do not anticipate that the trouble will be of long standing, but considerable inconvenience is being caused.

The reason given for the present conditions is the sudden change in the weather and the consequent lack of preparation on the part of the wholesalers.

The case of George Gill, charged with failure to provide for his family, was brought up before Judge McDonald this morning. The trial dragged on for several hours and was finally brought to naught owing to the inability of the jury to reach an agreement.

The Gill case has attracted considerable attention. The tribulations of the family have been pretty thoroughly aired, and charges and counter charges have been freely made. There was much conflicting testimony offered this afternoon, and when the jurymen received the case it was so tangled up that they were unable to make heads or tails out of it.

Letters were offered by Mrs. Gill to prove that her husband had openly stated that he would not support her, while Gill offered receipted bills to show that, as far as he was able, he had looked after her welfare. From the testimony it appeared that the couple had not been congenial for some time.

The case will probably be tried over again, as it is understood that the complaining witness will not allow the matter to drop. No date was set for the second trial, however.

"OLD SPORT" DIES.

"Old Sport," known to every man, woman and child in Pasadena, is dead. Late yesterday afternoon the old dog met with an accident which necessitated putting him out of his misery, and a humane policeman shot him to put an end to his suffering.

Sport was the old fox terrier that made his home around the office of the Western Union Telegraph Company for the past ten years. His original owner was a former manager of the office, but when the man left "Old Sport" elected to stay. Year after year his license fees have been paid by the office force, and he was looked upon as a part of the office fixtures.

Yesterday he was struck by a vehicle, and torn and bleeding, drew himself to the office door, realizing that his only hope of help lay there. Attachés of the office afforded him what relief they could, but the dog was too badly hurt, and sorrowfully his friends notified the police department.

For years "Old Sport" was in the habit of making his daily rounds of the restaurants, taking his meals where he chose. Everybody knew him, and never was he sent home hungry. He was looked upon as a public possession, and when the word was sent out that he had met an untimely end condolences were telephoned in from all over town.

PASADENA BRIEFS.

Rev. Henry A. Cooke, the Boston octogenarian divine, who has spent a dozen or more consecutive winters at Hotel Green, has been prevented by failing health from coming to California with the first Raymond excursion, as has been his custom for years, but has sent by John W. Gray, the Raymond-Whitcomb agent, a legacy to Pasadena public schools. This is in the form of a Bible which is more than one hundred years old, and the venerable gentleman has given it into the care of Superintendent of Schools J. D. Graham and the principal of the High School, Leroy Ely.

The meeting of the Pasadena branch of the Los Angeles County Medical Association, which was scheduled for Tuesday evening, has been postponed until Wednesday evening. The meeting will be held at the rooms of the Board of Trade on West Colorado street.

BIG BERRIES IN WHITTIER.

Demonstration of Frostlessness of the Ground in That Vicinity.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

WHITTIER, Nov. 26.—The frostlessness of the foothill region surrounding this city has been proved again by R. H. Bush, a rancher living just east of the city limits. Bush has a number of acres set to strawberries, and from these vines he picked on Saturday several crates of ripe berries. The fruit is unusually large, some of the berries measuring six inches in circumference, while four inches would be a fair average for all of them. They were marketed at the local fruit store. They sold quickly for 25 cents a box.

UNDER BONDS, DISAPPEARS.

AND HIS WIFE THINKS THAT HE WON'T RETURN.

Report that West Long Beach Restaurant Keeper, Charged With Violating Building Ordinance, Intends to Forfeit Bond—Case May Settle Question of Jurisdiction.

LONG BEACH, Nov. 26.—Ed Rice, a restaurant keeper of West Long Beach, whose arrest on a charge of violating the building ordinance and subsequent fight for release on habeas corpus proceedings has brought up the question of the jurisdiction of Long Beach over East San Pedro, and Terminal, has disappeared and his wife thinks he is in Nevada, and does not intend to return.

According to City Attorney Monk, however, this will have no effect on the decision, to be handed down by Judge Gray, other than the forfeiture of Rice's $100 bond if he is held for trial.

Rice was arrested several months ago and locked up in the City Jail, but released on habeas corpus proceedings instituted by City Clerk Steigiltz of San Pedro.

Following his release and pending final hearing, City Attorney Daly and Steigiltz entered into stipulations with regard to the proceedings which will make the decision, when handed down, quite a vital one concerning the jurisdiction of Long Beach on the east side of the bay. Jurisdiction has already been recognized by Judges Bordwell, Conrey and Trask, but still San Pedro declines to be satisfied.

Judge Gray's decision is expected to settle the matter finally.

BAND WILL LEAVE.

The Royal Italian Band, which for the past year has been one of the attractions of Long Beach, will probably leave the city. The citizens have grown indifferent to the music because, they say, it lacks variety and spice. The close of the summer season has caused a falling off in the attendance at the dances and several patrons have withdrawn their contributions. Manager Gattone who carried the band last winter at a heavy loss and barely got even with the summer revenues, declines to repeat his worries and announces that he has a good offer elsewhere.

He is noncommittal as to when his engagement will cease, but as the band is billed for two matinées at the Belasco Theater this week, it is thought the concert season in Long Beach is near an end.

The City Trustees are in correspondence with half a dozen noted American bands of the Middle West, with a view to securing one of them to take the place of the Italian band.

MORE UNION TROUBLE.

The union longshoremen of West Long Beach who have been working with union sailors in unloading cargoes from the boats to the non-union stevedores on the docks, quit work in a body this morning, refusing to handle lumber while non-union men were employed.

Only a slight delay was occasioned on the five vessels on this side of the bay, but it is rumored that the union sailors will be called out tomorrow on a sympathetic strike. The lumber companies have recently taken back a lot of union men and were congratulating themselves that all trouble had ended.

CHAIN GANG'S RUSE.

The strike among the chain gang members still continues. The promise of the stubborn ones to go to work was but a ruse to get a square meal, and this morning they were as sullen as ever, and are again upon a bread and water diet.

One of the working prisoners has developed a very bad carbuncle on his head, and is on the invalid list, so one lone prisoner did all the work today, and tonight thinks that he has been so faithful and willing that he ought to have a holiday. His request has been taken under advisement by acting Marshal Austin.

WORKING ON CHARTER.

The charter board of freeholders held a short session this afternoon, but because several members wanted to attend the Shriners' festivities in Los Angeles, an adjournment was taken until Friday morning, when the board expects to remain in session until the charter is completed, signed and ready for presentation.

In order not to jeopardize the charter the board has about decided to fix December, 1907, the date for the first election, and give the present Trustees a chance to complete their work.

RAZING PARTS OF BIXBY.

This afternoon a report was current that more of the Bixby Hotel had collapsed. Investigation showed that some overhanging beams and skeleton arches had been pulled down by means of steel cables, as part of the work of cleaning up. The hanging débris was visibly affected by the strong wind prevailing and Contractor Spaulding decided that to pull them down was the easiest way to avert possible danger.

CAN'T SUE CONTRACTOR.

Wm. Behm, Contractor Spaulding's superintendent, says that the relatives of the dead victims will have to sue the casualty company that indemnified the contractor in order to collect any insurance or damages. The contractor has spent several hundred dollars to relieve families of the victims, but this was from purely charitable motives.

OLDER BOYS MEET.

The third annual Older Boys Conference of the Southern California Young Men's Christian Association will be held in this city from November 30 to December 2. There will be a gathering of perhaps 120 boys and secretaries to discuss methods and plans of work. F. A. Crosby of New York will make two addresses, and other interesting features are planned, including an outdoor athletic meet.

CURIOUS THREAT.

The police are investigating a threatening letter received by Mrs. William Fullager, warning her to put up a "for rent" or "for sale" sign on an unoccupied cottage she owns, and secure a tenant for it at once, under penalty of having it destroyed by fire.

PEACEABLE PRISONER.

City Marshal Young has received a letter from Deputy Sheriff Hull of Caddo Parish, Louisiana, announcing his safe arrival with John Williams, who is wanted at Shreveport for robbery and attempted murder. Williams was arrested in Long Beach on a telegraphed description. Hull says Williams made no trouble whatever.

In a crowd around an Alamitos Bay car at the Pine-avenue station, last night, George M. Roe, a veteran newspaper man, was relieved of a diamond stud valued at $100. After the loss was discovered, Mr. Roe remembered a gang of four who crowded him, and has given the police a description which may result in an arrest.

SAN PEDRO'S STRIKE.

Boss Craig Said to Be Trying to Induce Sailors to Help the Longshoremen.

SAN PEDRO, Nov. 26.—It is unofficially rumored here this afternoon that "Boss" Craig and Walking Delegate Harry Ohlsen, representing the Sailors' Union, are making a desperate effort to induce the sailors in this port to go out on a strike in sympathy with the striking longshoremen. It is believed their efforts will prove fruitless, for since the recent settlement of the sailors' strike, instructions have been issued from sailors' union headquarters in San Francisco for the sailors to hew to the line and to not mix up in local labor troubles.

Several union longshoremen who have been working on vessels with the sailors shoving lumber to non-union longshoremen, quit their jobs this morning, which would seem to indicate that there was something in the air.

Harry Ohlsen, local agent for the Sailors' Union, has demonstrated that he is a crafty and unscrupulous totemite. Local managers of wholesale lumber yards state that they would much rather have Ohlsen's bond than his word and it is well known that he will leave no stone unturned to cause further dissensions at this port as long as strife would work to his own aggrandizement.

It is believed here that should Ohlsen attempt to call out the sailors at this port, he will be promptly set on by Andrew Furuseth, grand sachem, with headquarters in San Francisco, as was Agent Sorensen at Eureka a few days ago, when he called out six sailors on the steamer Dispatch who were shoving lumber to non-union longshoremen at that port. Sorensen was instructed to put the men back to work, which he promptly did.

The result of Ohlsen's efforts will develop in a few days.

DEDICATE SHERMAN CHURCH.

Catholic House of Worship Will Be Scene of Impressive Services on Wednesday.

SHERMAN, Nov. 26.—The new St. Victor Church here will be dedicated by Rt. Rev. Bishop Conaty, Wednesday, at 10 o'clock a.m. Forty priests will take part in the ceremonies. Bishop Conaty's immediate assistants will be Rev. D. W. J. Murphy of Hollywood, master of ceremonies, Rev. J. F. Conaty, who will sing high mass, Rev. John Clifford of Pico Heights, deacon, Rev. Clement Malony, St. Agnes, subdeacon, and Rev. J. A. Reardon. The priests will chant the litany while the procession moves around the church and the bishop sprinkles the walls and foundations with holy water. Within the church the bishop will be seated on the throne, on reaching the altar attended by Monsignor Harnett, vicar of the diocese and Monsignor McCarthy of Fresno.

Leonard's mass in E flat will be sung by the choir followed by the Gregorian chants by a choir of six voices. G. Allan Hancock will play Gounod's "Ave Maria," as a cello obligato for the offertory.

The church, with the land is the gift of Victor Ponet, and is dedicated absolutely free of debt. The fine pipe organ is the gift of Mme. Ida Hancock. Over the main altar the stained glass window presents "Christ the Consolation," all the windows are of leaded cathedral glass with appropriate designs.

There are four handsome statues of the Blessed Virgin, Sacred Heart St. Joseph and St. Victor. There are five sets of elaborate imported vestments. The altar vessels are of gold. The church, although small, is one of the most completely appointed in this part of the country.

POMONA MAY BOND.

Question of Purchasing Plant of the Water Company Is Likely to be Submitted.

POMONA, Nov. 26.—The City Trustees are seriously considering the proposition of calling an election for the voting of bonds for the city to purchase the plant of the Consolidated Water Company. There is a difference of opinion among local citizens regarding the worth of the plant and the advisability of its purchase by the city, so that the trustees think the matter can best be decided by calling a special bond election.

The Mosgrove orange grove property consisting of sixty acres with an orange packing-house on East Fifth street and twenty acres on East Holt avenue, has been sold to George E. Hart and associates of Los Angeles. The consideration is stated as $55,000 and the deal was consummated through J. A. Fitch.

Miss Anne Cason is entertaining her friend, Miss Mary Macy of San Dimas.

W. H. Truitt, Pomona's representative in Los Angeles is sending a number of tourists and home seekers out here.

GLENDORA GLEANINGS.

GLENDORA, Nov. 26.—Rev. W. S. Myers, evangelist of Los Angeles, is conducting a series of meetings at the Christian Church.

Mrs. C. E. Clothier died suddenly at her temporary home in Glendora Monday morning from neuralgia of the heart. She came here with her husband from Hudson, Kan., two weeks ago to spend the winter, seeming in the best of health. The remains will be sent home for interment.

E. Woolman has sold through the Glendora Realty Company, his residence on Bennett avenue to Walter S. Taylor, a recent arrivel from Joplin, Mo. Consideration stated, $2500.

John Shank has let the contract to T. L. Jackson for the erection of an eight-room story and a half house on his lots on Alosta avenue.

INCORPORATES FOR MILLION.

NEW RAILROAD CONCERN IN SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY.

Capitalists of the County Seat Propose to Build Roads From That City to Rialto, Ontario, Riverside and Redlands—Believed to Be Associated With Traction Company.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 26.—[Express, Dispatch.] "San Bernardino Urban Railway" is the title of a company incorporated here today by local capitalists, to build an electric railway between this city to Rialto, Ontario, Riverside and Redlands. The capitalization is $1,000,000, of which $47,000 is subscribed by H. E. Harris, Victor Smith, A. G. Kendall, O. L. Moorman, and S. S. Draper. It is believed the corporation is associated with the San Bernardino Valley Traction.

PENITENTIARY SENTENCES.

Harry Morton and Harry West, pleaded guilty today to the burglary of the residence of A. Horowitz and were sentenced three years each at Folsom, leniency being shown on account of their tender years. John Neff and William Curtis were sentenced for six years at Folsom and five at San Quentin respectively for burglary committed at Needles, and Ramon Salas to fifteen months at Folsom for bicycle stealing.

SUBMIT CHARTER POINTS.

By a vote of three to two the City Council, after a lengthy executive session tonight voted to submit at a special election the proposed charter amendments prepared by Attorney Fox, the only proposition rejected being that designed to divide the city into seven instead of five wards. Two propositions affecting the water department will be submitted, one designed to give the Council complete control of the water funds, and the other designed to reduce the revenues of the department to just enough to meet the running expenses.

FRANCHISES EXCITE TOWN.

Redlands Agog Over Prospect of Trolley Extensions About That City.

REDLANDS, Nov. 26.—This foothills city is all agog over the number of electric railroads it seems destined to have, that is, if all the franchises asked for are to be granted and roads built. The two applied for recently by Buckmaster and A. G. Hubbard were bought last Friday by C. C. Chapman of San Bernardino and A. G. Hubbard, respectively.

Today two more franchises were asked for, the applications being received by mail at the City Clerk's office. One of these is asked for by E. J. Chesnut, who desires the right to build an electric line from the western limits of the city along Colton avenue to the eastern city limits, a branch line leaving the main line at Eighth street and traversing that street to the point of its intersection with Orange avenue.

George H. Dunn asks for a franchise on State street, starting at the easterly end of the street, running south to Ninth street, thence south on Eighth street to Citrus avenue, thence along that thoroughfare to Reservoir street and south on Reservoir to the city limits.

In an interview Mr. Chesnut said emphatically that if the franchise asked should be secured the road would be built at once. Both he and Mr. Dunn state that their applications have no connection one with the other. Mr. Chesnut admitted that his application for a franchise was the outcome of the desires of Mr. Buckmaster to secure a franchise asked for last week, before overbid by Mr. Haskell, who is said to represent the San Bernardino Valley Traction Company. The supposition that the Huntington interests are the bottom of these applications for franchises is still strong, but no one seems to have any definite information.

COLLEGE DAY AT CLUB.

Today was college day at the Women's Contemporary Club. Miss Louise Barker was in charge. The programme represented with songs, speeches and typical scenes ten of the leading colleges of the United States. The colleges represented, and those to which spoke of them were: Smith, Miss Margaret Davis; Stanford, Miss Edith Vassar, Miss Barker; Occidental, Miss Sara Hamilton; Wellesley, Miss Ruth Lyon; University of California, Miss Helen Aiken; Pomona, Miss Ruth Kay; Baltimore, Miss Rosetta Mc-Chester; Holyoke, Mrs. C. A. Sam-son. The clubhouse was decorated in the pennants, banners and posters.

REDLANDS BREVITIES.

In the golf game Saturday W. E. Smith captured the A. G. Hubbard gold medal with a score of 79. On account of the high, cold wind, several of the contestants did not complete the game. There were fourteen entries.

The union Thanksgiving service will be held in the Presbyterian Church of this city Thursday morning, Rev. J. Field of the Baptist Church preaching the sermon. The music will be furnished by the Presbyterian quartette.

At a meeting of the Board of Trade held Monday it was decided to start a subscription for the maintenance of a Redlands representative in Los Angeles this winter. Some one will advertise the city by telling the tourists of the advantages and by distributing literary matter.

The funeral of Miss Ruth Lane Hardegast, who died last week in Chicago, was held yesterday at the family residence, Rev. J. H. Williams officiating. The services were private.

DIES ON OVERLAND.

COLTON, Nov. 26.—Mrs. Sarah Dale died of consumption on the Southern Pacific overland last night while en route to her home in Memphis, Tenn. The remains were taken East this morning, accompanied by the brother of the deceased, Mrs. T. H. Ford.

Colton is suffering from a coal famine, it being impossible for the dealers to obtain any. Wood is also very scarce, and if the cold weather continues, much inconvenience will be experienced.

Mrs. E. Castle and daughter, Mrs. Simonton, will leave soon for Honolulu to reside.

C. F. Wallin left this morning for Los Angeles to attend a family reunion, which will be held in that city tomorrow, in honor of his mother's birthday anniversary.

NEWPORT IMPROVEMENTS.

NEWPORT, Nov. 26.—W. C. Collins is planning expensive improvements on Newport Island. The 2000 lots which it is to make are to be put on the market as soon as dredging, filling and other improvements can be made.

HANFORD, Nov. 26.—Mrs. Sarah Dalton died of consumption on the Southern Pacific overland last night while en route to her home in Memphis, Tenn. The remains were taken East this morning, accompanied by the husband of the deceased, Mrs. T. H. Dalton.

Fresno is suffering from a coal famine, it being impossible for the dealers to obtain any. Wood is also very scarce, and if the cold weather continues much inconvenience will be experienced.

Mrs. E. Castle and daughter, Mrs. Ethel Hamilton, will leave soon for Honolulu to reside.

J. F. Wain left this morning for Los Angeles to attend a family reunion, which will be held in that city tomorrow, in honor of his mother's birthday anniversary.

NEWPORT, Nov. 26.—W. C. Collins is planning expensive improvements on Newport Island. The 2000 lots which it is to make are to be put on the market soon as dredging, filling and other improvements can be made.

ANGELENO PAYS A FINE.

For Trespassing on Irvine Ranch When on a Hunting Expedition.

SANTA ANA, Nov. 26.—Ten dollars was the fine paid this morning in Justice of the Peace Smithwick's Court by William Graham of Los Angeles. Graham was caught shooting in the pastures of the Irvine Ranch Company on the bluffs north of Laguna Beach. He was charged with trespassing within an inclosure by Walter Meyers, foreman of the range of the Irvine Ranch Company. Graham is a well-known business man of Los Angeles.

Graham was hunting with a friend named McKnight and a Los Angeles county peace officer. Meyers caught Graham and McKnight. Today the case against McKnight was dismissed on a compromise. In fact, Graham's plea of guilty seems to have been a compromise, for when the two men were arraigned in the Justice's court ten days ago they declared they would fight the case to a finish. As it now stands, the Irvine Ranch Company has a conviction to its credit, which will doubtless be used in protecting its property hereafter.

ROCK PILE FOR TRAMPS.

Tomorrow morning a number of taxpayers will go before the Board of Supervisors and ask it to reinstate the rock pile. Last spring the rock pile was abolished in this county, and hoboes leaving the County Jail at that time told the jailer that they would pass the word along that Orange county was easy—the rock pile had been abolished. Within the last two weeks a heavy crop of hoboes have been begging and thieving about the county. Marshal Maxwell has declared that the abolishment of the rock pile was the cause of the presence of the hoboes, and in order that the county may be rid of the problem, at least in so far as the presence of the rock pile will rid it, will the taxpayers make their petition tomorrow morning.

GUN WAS LOADED.

W. H. James, a real estate man, is in the Santa Ana Hospital with a bad wound in one arm inflicted yesterday morning by a charge of shot from a gun that he thought was not loaded. Mr. James had thrown out a load from his Winchester shotgun and thought no shell had been thrown in. He was riding in a carriage with three friends on the way up the Santiago Cañon and the gun rested with the butt on the botton of the carriage when it was discharged. The accident occurred at the top of the grade above El Modena. The wound is a severe flesh wound, and the bone was not touched.

FISHING TRAPS DID IT.

F. J. Bennett a fisherman of San Juan-By-The-Sea, this morning swore to a complaint charging Frank Friend and Frank Deffny, two other fishermen, with having disturbed his peace of mind. He stated that he placed fish traps near traps set out by Friend and Deffny and that when the rival fishermen's catch was smaller than they expected they blamed him, and told him that if he did not remove his traps they "would do things to him."

DEDICATE FREE OF DEBT.

First Baptist House of Worship at Huntington Beach Is Formally Opened.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 26.—Free from debt the First Baptist Church of Huntington Beach was dedicated yesterday. The ceremony marked a happy result of the labors of the little band of members and their pastor, Rev. G. N. Gardner, who far a good many months have been worshipping in a $250 chapel. Among the ministers who took part in the ceremonies yesterday were Rev. C. C. Carroll of the Methodist Church here and Rev. Haulman of the Christian Church.

Numbered among the out of town people who took part in the exercises were State Sunday-school Evangelist D. P. Word, and Evangelist E. H. Emmett of Los Angeles; Rev. Hayden of Newport Beach, Rev. Smith, D.D. and Rev. Mayer of Long eBach; Rev. M. L. Tucker of the First Church of Riverside, delivering the dedicatory sermon, Rev. Tucker filled the pulpit at the evening service. There were solos by Mr. Clivers, and Mrs. E. H. Emmett of Los Angeles, wife of Evangelist Emmett.

At the conclusion of the evening service much to the surprise of the veteran pastor, a generous purse was presented to him and a God speed was wished Rev. Gardner and wife as they leave for their new field away down in the New England States, Maine.

NEW RIVERSIDE BANK.

Formal Opening Today, but Private Reception Given Yesterday—Rain Is Still Falling.

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 26.—A social function this afternoon marked the opening of the new National Bank of Riverside. The formal opening of this institution will take place tomorrow, but the shareholders, their friends, and prospective depositors were invited to an "at home" on the preceding day to inspect the new banking-rooms. Light refreshments were served during the afternoon.

The office fixtures and furniture are thoroughly modern and attractive. The steel burglar-proof vault is the product of the best constructive skill and the manganese tubular steel safe is of the latest improved pattern. In connection with the main office are private writing and consultation rooms and a ladies' reception-room.

The officers of the bank are: A. A. Adair, president; H. A. Westbrook, vice-president; W. W. Phelps, cashier, and J. B. Neel, assistant cashier.

ELSINORE ITEMS.

ELSINORE, Nov. 26.—George Clewett, for many years a resident of Elsinore, died suddenly Saturday afternoon of pneumonia, at his home on Grand avenue, at the age of 69 years. A widow and four sons are left. Two of his sons, George and John Clewett, with their families, reside in Los Angeles; the other two sons, William and Howard, live in Elsinore.

W. F. Vernon has bought the five-room house and 50x150 feet on Main street, belonging to A. Wehrman; consideration named, $1000.

Mrs. J. B. Coughran and children of Long Beach are here to spend the winter.

SENTENCED TO BE SHOT.

Mexican Government Confirms Decision Against Antonio Feliz for Kidnaping.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 26.—News comes of the confirmation of sentence imposed by the lower court against Antonio Feliz, the Mexican who was in jail for many months at Los Angeles while the Mexican government was trying to get hold of him to punish him for kidnaping. Feliz was sentenced to be shot and the higher court at the City of Mexico has confirmed the sentence. According to the claim of the Mexican officers, Feliz, who has been known as a smuggler of Chinese, was employed by Chief of Police Hammel and Detective Talamantes to get hold of Antonio Puebia, who was wanted in Los Angeles for murder. Feliz pretended to be an officer, took charge of Puebia and brought him to the United States.

MORE MEXICAN JUSTICE.

For winking the official eye, when Marshal Brooks escaped from jail in this city, Chief of Police Jiminez of Ensenada will serve four years in the Ensenada Prison and Justice of the Peace Crossthwaite will serve two years. Brooks was wanted here for jail breaking and the Mexican officials are charged with accepting bribes to protect him in Lower California.

SAIL AROUND THE WORLD.

The brig Galilee, which has been making magnetic surveys of the North Pacific Ocean, is preparing for her long two years' voyage around the world on a scientific mission for the Carnegie Institute at Washington.

Valparaiso will be the only port of call on this side of the continent and Rio Janeiro on the other side until Washington is reached. From Washington the Galilee will go across to the Mediterranean, thence through Suez and the Pacific and Indian oceans back to San Diego.

SEAMEN CHARGE CRUELTY.

The crew of the ship Enrosia, discharging a cargo, has deserted, leaving the captain, cook and two mates the sole occupants. The men charge Capt. Hughes with cruelty, saying that they did not have enough to eat in the voyage from Hamburg to this port.

FOURTEEN INCHES OF SNOW.

A fall of fourteen inches of snow is reported in the Cuyamaca Mountains, sixty miles east of the city. Six inches fell at Alpine. The stage from Lakeside to Cuyamaca lost one trip on account of the snowstorm.

MARRIED IN MISSION.

The first marriage in the restored San Luis Rey Mission was performed by Rev. Father O'Kief Saturday, the couple being Benjamin F. Hayes of Oceanside and Miss Josephine C. Reimbach of Del Mar. The groom is a son of Justice J. Chauncey Hayes of Oceanside.

TEACHERS DO GATHER.

Twenty-ninth County Institute Opens in Ventura With Good Attendance.

VENTURA, Nov. 26.—The twenty-ninth annual teachers' institute of this county began its session here today in the Methodist Church. The city was early filled with teachers from every section of the county and there were educators and instructors of note from many places on hand to participate. Schoolma'ams overrun every hotel and boarding-house. Short and long, lean and fat, grave and gay, but all intellectual and of course all pretty and gaily dressed, were in attendance when the session was called to order this morning.

This is the twelfth and last institute under the auspices of School Superintendent Sackett and that gentleman has taken extraordinary pains to make it one long to be remembered. Among the instructors who will take part are Dr. Eli McClish of Los Angeles, Superintendent Edward Hyatt of Riverside, P. W. Kauffman of Pomona, Miss Edna A. Rich of Santa Barbara, Mary Robert-Coolidge of Washington, D. C., and Ellwood P. Cubberly of Stanford University. Tonight the visiting teachers will be entertained with a banquet. The institute will close Wednesday evening.

TO TRIAL AT LAST.

Judge York of Los Angeles arrived in this city this morning to preside in the Superior Court in the celebrated case of Sudden vs. Lewis, which has dragged for months without being able to get any further than a first hearing, at which Mayor Lewis won. The case is one in which partners in the buying of beans fell out after the investment and loss of a large sum of money—some $30,000 or $90,000. It was the endeavor of Sudden to show that Lewis was in part responsible for the loss and should help pay it. The court held otherwise, but decided that Sudden had a right to require an accounting, which the present suit is.

WHITTIER NEWS BRIEFS.

WHITTIER, Nov. 26.—Bishop Johnson of the Episcopal Church visited St. Matthias's Church yesterday, preaching to a large audience last evening.

F. C. Mellus, the Bartolo saloonkeeper, who is charged with having sold liquor to the minor son of D. Clark of this place, appeared before Justice of the Peace Gidley on Saturday, pleaded not guilty, and had his hearing set for December 27.

Members of the Modern Woodmen held an open meeting at I.O.O.F. Hall tonight, giving a good programme before the informal social part of the evening.

As showing the steady growth of the city, the record of the local Home Telephone Company is interesting. About three months ago the company issued a complete directory of their subscribers, and now are to issue another. The new book shows a gain of one subscriber for every working day since the previous directory was printed, and the waiting list is as large as ever.

FACE IS FAMILIAR.

John Armstrong was arrested on North Los Angeles street last night by detectives and is held in the City Jail on suspicion. The police say that Armstrong's face is familiar, but they have not decided whether he is wanted in other cities. Armstrong made a desperate fight.

Yesterday's Forecast and Report.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, Nov. 26. [Reported by A. H. Wollaber, Local Forecaster.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the thermometer registered 44 deg. Relative humidity, 2 a.m., 77 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., northeast, velocity 6 miles. Maximum temperature, 49 deg.; minimum, 43 deg. Rainfall past twenty-four hours, .07 inch; rainfall for season, .45 inch.

Weather Conditions.—Another disturbance has moved in from the ocean during the last twenty-four hours, and apparently is now central off the Lower California coast. Light rain set in at Los Angeles this morning early, but no other station in the State reported rain up to 5 o'clock. Light frost is reported in the interior valleys and at San Luis Obispo. A storm of considerable energy is central over the upper lake region and general precipitation is reported in most of the States east of the Rockies, except in the South, where fair weather prevails. A large high area covers the Northwest and fair, cold weather is being felt in that section. The disturbance off the California coast is expected to cause unsettled, showery weather in Los Angeles and vicinity tonight and probably Tuesday.

Forecasts.—Local forecast for Los Angeles and vicinity: Unsettled weather, with showers tonight and probably Tuesday.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—High north winds have prevailed from San Francisco northward. At San Francisco a maximum velocity of forty-six miles from the northwest occurred. Moderate depression is developing over Southern California and will probably move slowly northward. Showers are reported at Los Angeles and San Diego. Forecast:

San Francisco and vicinity: Fair Tuesday, brisk north winds diminishing. Frost in the morning if wind lulls.

Sacramento Valley: Fair Tuesday, brisk north winds diminishing. Frost in the morning if wind lulls.

San Joaquin Valley: Increasing cloudiness Tuesday, warmer; light south wind.

Los Angeles and vicinity: Cloudy, unsettled weather Tuesday; possibly showers; light east wind.

Arizona: Fair Tuesday and Wednesday.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Conditions in the produce market yesterday were a reflection of the features of last week, and price changes were narrow and trifling. Fairly trading was hampered by rain, but later in the day retailers satisfied their wants with small jobbing parcels.

No important changes concerning either prices or the various grades or the tone of the market were noted yesterday, and general business continued of satisfactory proportions.

Ranch eggs were unaltered. On 'change 37½ cents was asked for ranch offerings, and 36½ was bid. No sales were made.

Monday's market was well supplied with potatoes, and jobbers say that stocks are plentiful enough to supply the trade for the next two weeks. Ten sacks of fancy yellow sweet potatoes were sold on 'change yesterday. Growing onions are in oversupply. Navy stocks are in fair receipt. The fruit market was quiet on account of the rain.

Fancy Jonathan apples are firmer at 2.50 per box. Choice Bellefleur apples brought 1.00 jar box. Navel oranges sell at 2.50. Bartlett pears are quoted at 85c per lb. Winter Nelis pears are inactive at 2.40.

Green vegetables were scarce and high. Celery advanced to 20@45; cabbage brought 1.25@1.40. Peas were firm at $1@1.50. Green beans soared to 8c per lb. Rhubard sells at 5.

Small fish and wild game were plentiful. Large fish and lobsters were scarce.

Turkeys were in receipt yesterday, and the market closed steady at the quoted prices. Heavy trading will be in order today and tomorrow for Thanksgiving. In accordance with the increased supply of local turkeys the excitement is being felt at the small arrivals of eastern chilled turkeys. Shipments of Texas turkeys are cutting little figure on the market this year. The San Joaquin Valley is sending down its usual supply of superior turkeys for Thanksgiving.

Other receipts of produce as reported for Saturday's and Sunday's exchange were as follows: Eggs, 196 cases; butter, 22,664 lbs.; cheese, local, none; potatoes, 1847 sacks; onions, 180 sacks; beans, none; sweet potatoes, none.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Confusion of speculative sentiment was discernible in the movement of prices of stocks today, and the activity of trading was contracted largely. Operations were left largely in the hands of professional traders. Their confusion was due to the failure to find any effective leadership by important transactions, or any appreciable following. The show of strength after the mixed tone at the opening had an encouraging effect. The way in which Great Northern preferred was sustained after a further decline was especially effective in reassuring sentiment. The buying which followed came from professional traders, who thought they read an intention on the part of powerful operators to renew the advance in prices. When they became distrustful of this intention, stocks were resold and the course of prices was retracted on the late decline. The further drop in prices of Great Northern ore rights "when issued," as they are quoted on the curb, had a large influence in turning the market downwards again. The decline in these rights serves to discredit the extensive rise which occurred in the price of Great Northern preferred on the speculative buying in anticipation of the distribution. The weakness of the new rights on the curb would add to their unattractiveness for inclusion in the collateral for such loans. The call-money market relaxed today, and no immediate pressure was enforced on the stock market on that account. The movement of currency to San Francisco continues, $50,000 being transferred to that point through the sub-treasury, today, and precedents indicate that this movement may reach several million dollars. The position of the Bank of England continues to grow stronger. The tone of London financial comment shows, however, that a possible renewal of a demand for gold from New York is dreaded as a complicating factor in that market. A rise in the Bank of England's rate to 7 per cent. before the end of year would have no damaging an effect on English trade and on foreign markets generally that it would counterbalance an advantage to New York from securing more gold from that market. The conservation of the surplus reserves of the United States treasury that may be employed for relief of the local market up to this time keeps up confidence by their availability on any violent suggestion of money stringency. St. Paul and Union Pacific suffered especially in company with Great Northern preferred, and the price during the afternoon generally got below Saturday's closing. Slight rallies on short covering left the closing tone irregular. Bonds were nearly steady. Total sales, par value, $1,358,000. United States 2s registered declined 1-4 per cent. on call.

RAIN LIGHT HERE; HEAVY INLAND.

MORE SNOW YESTERDAY IN THE MOUNTAINS.

San Bernardino Valley and the Country About Riverside Receive Good Drenching and There Is Considerable Fall Reported at Various Other Points in Southern California.

A reading of The Times rain gauge early this morning showed a fall of .04 inch since 5 o'clock last night. The government gauge showed .07 inch for the twenty-four hours ended at that time.

Although the fall has been comparatively light in Los Angeles for the past day, the precipitation at inland points has been considerable and in some places heavy.

Rain began throughout the San Bernardino Valley at 3 o'clock yesterday morning and continued almost without interruption during the day. Reports from the mountains indicate that a severe snowstorm is prevailing. Some reports state that the fall of snow is heavier than that of the storm of last week, when there was two feet of the "beautiful" on the range about the Skyland, Squirrel Inn and Little Bear Valley country.

In Pomona yesterday .29 inch fell between 5:30 and 7 o'clock in the morning and the fall continued during the day.

Rain began falling in Whittier early yesterday morning, and continued nearly all day. The precipitation amounted to about half an inch, which with the rain of thep ast week brings the season's total up to nearly one and one-half inches.

There was a foot of snow yesterday about Elizabeth Lake, in northern Los Angeles county.

A second installment of rain arrived at Riverside yesterday, amounting to .56 inch in the first ten hours of the storm. This brings the total for the season up to 1.17 inches. Orange growers say that the rains of the past week are sufficient to give a good color to the fruit for the holiday trade and that one irrigation of the orchards will be saved. Grain men of Riverside county, judging from the way the winter opens, believe it will be a wet season and are making preparations to begin putting in a large acreage of wheat and barley as soon as the weather clears. Rain is still falling.

A report from Elsinore says that snow is still lying on the higher mountains surrounding the lake. About two inches of rain fell in the recent storm, also a light snow, in the valley.

A dispatch from San Diego says that residents of the back country are having experiences in weather that would make the heart of an Easterner leap for joy. Cuyamaca reports fourteen inches of snow and advices from Alpine are to the effect that nearly six inches fell there. The mountain stages are stalled by the storm.

EASTERN MARKETS.

GENERAL EASTERN MARKETS.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—The wheat market was easy during the first hour on moderate selling by longs of December delivery. Toward the noon hour, the market became firm, and the stronger tone was well maintained during the remainder of the day. The change in sentiment was caused by the fact that the exports of wheat and flour for the day from American ports amounted to 1,010,000 bushels. The close was firm. December opened unchanged to ¼ to ½ lower, at 72¾@73c, advances to 73½, and closed ¼ to ¾ up, at 73¾. May sold between 78¾ and 78⅝@79, and closed at 79¾, a shade higher than Saturday. There was an active demand for corn all day, and the market was strong from the opening until the close. December closed ⅝ up, at 47⅞. May closed with a net gain of ¼ to ⅝, at 43⅜@43¾. The oats market was affected by the firmness of wheat and corn, and was strong all day. December closed a shade higher, at 33¾. May closed with a net gain of ⅛ to ¼. Despite a 10-cent decline in the price of live hogs, the provisions market was firm for the greater part of the day. At the close, January pork was up 2½; lard and ribs were also up 2½ each.

New York Cotton Market.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO FRED DORR.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The market seems to want to advance. A strong crowd of professional bears objections. The result is that there is every promise of a very exciting market again this week. The future conditions fail to reflect on the spot situation and the situation that confronts the spot market is a strained and peculiar one. Early in the season when the idea that the crop was going to be a bumper was general even before the season opened, in fact for big dealers to sell far ahead, there was a free selling of high grade cotton. Now the mills are calling for their cotton and the spot dealers will not get it. The little dealers have commenced to lay down. This of course makes it harder for the big people. The mills will have to spin what they can get, and this is making enormous demands for low grades under those which have been most extensively contracted for. Reports from the bolt tell of buyers of receiving instructions to take their limits off and there is foot ball rush for every bale of good cotton that shows up. Sentiment is getting more bullish on the belief that the crop has been over estimated.

The spot situation in the south is acute and likely to become more so before the end of the week on the filling of final November shipments. All the markets advanced 1-8 Saturday with prices considerably above a parity with New York futures. Ports look like 80,000. Compared with 54,324 last year.

Operators hardly remember a time when bullish sentiment was so general, at present almost every market letter is predicting all kinds of higher prices.

Weather—Western cotton belt, Louisana and Arkansas showers tonight, fair and colder Tuesday. Oklahoma and Indian Territory fair colder.

Following is range of prices today—

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.

LOS ANGELES GASLESS.

and as light as brickbats. It was pitiful to see leaders of society entertaining their friends at afternoon tea prepared over a 15 cent alcohol stove. It was heart-rending to see the young mother warming the babies' milk in the ice box, and to note the gathering grime on bathtubs long unused.

Never before in the history of its career has the gas company enjoyed such concentrated and unhappy public attention. The officers, president and general manager down, modestly kept out of sight while the demonstration was on. They declared that the necessity of their attending to business at the "works" made it impossible for them to observe their usual office hours. Between Thursday and Monday several thousand people were grievously disappointed at not being able to meet the officers of the company personally.

SAY THE OFFICERS.

The officers of the company telephoned to their friends that they had not expected the cold weather so soon; that the huge receiver just built, the largest in the world, holding millions of cubic feet of gas, had not been delivered on contract time; that their reserve capacity therefore was not large enough for them to meet the demand; that the big receiver had been filling since Saturday, but that it would be as much as the geographical situation of the city is worth to turn the warm gas into the mains; that as soon as the hot gas had cooled a little bit it would be sent out for supper last night or for breakfast this morning at the latest; that the confounded old town was growing entirely too fast anyhow for any self-respecting gas company to keep up with it. But that cooked no beefsteak on fireless ranges.

Gas stock was away down last night. Women telephoned their husbands not to come home. There was no supper. The feminine members of the family went downtown to dine at the restaurants. All of the cafés and restaurants were crowded to overflowing. Never in years have the restaurant keepers reaped such a harvest. They were the only people in Los Angeles who smiled last night. They cook with coal or crude oil. But even for them it was not all joy. For breakfast there were no hot cakes nor waffles served in the city. They are a product of gas.

Women came downtown with hair unfrizzed and bangs standing out straight. Their indignation kept them warm, and rendered them unmindful of their appearance. Men talked of nothing but gas on the streets, and he who spoke without frequent use of the dash be dashed phrases was regarded with suspicion of standing in with the "octopus."

For three days there has been barely enough gas to keep the meters working. No better idea can be gained of the utter exhaustion of the supply. Ordinarily there is millions of feet of gas on tap in Los Angeles. The gas company has had in use two huge receivers. It is just now installing a third, the largest in the world. Had this receiver been stored when the cold snap came, there is no doubt but it would have been able to carry the high pressure demand through without visible diminution of the reserve. But it was not ready, and there you are.

"Wonder if my gas bill will be lower this month?" is a query frequently heard yesterday.

Meantime the good old tallow candle is back in service in many a home not wired for electricity.

"CHOPIN" FIRST PERFORMANCE.

OREFICE'S OPERA WELCOME TO SMALL HOUSE.

Devoid of Action and Possessing Little Continuity, It Has as Strong Features Two Splendid Finales and Good Orchestration—Queer Dispensations of Cast.

Two splendid finales, two or three isolated airs and excellent orchestration—such is "Chopin," amalgamated from piano themes by the Italian composer Orefice, and presented to an English-speaking audience for the first time last night, at the Los Angeles Auditorium.

"Chopin" fulfilled expectations. Indeed, the very small audience gathered to witness its American premiere was thankful for as much as it got, and applauded the good spots in a resounding thunder that warmed the heart of every participant.

"Good as 'La Boheme,'" said one, who had heard it before. The comparison is dreadful, for "La Boheme" is human; it is alive with action; it glows vividly with real intense life, whereas "Chopin," a string of themes has no semblance in any place to a drama, and only in a few brief spaces does it attach to itself any degree of vitality.

But as to these two finales: The first, at the close of the second act, embodies several familiar Chopin melodies, which are woven with extraordinary cleverness into the fabric of a long duet for tenor and soprano—principally soprano. To the credit of Velia Georgi, she succeeded last night in bringing out fully the subtle, deeply emotional qualities of her part, notwithstanding her well-known and very manifest defections of voice. At the conclusion of the act Orelli and Georgi were encored furiously, and at last Guerrieri had to come out from his music pit and bow, too, and finally, to go back and repeat the whole thing over again; but it was really Georgi that the audience was encoring, not in tribute to her vocalization, but for her intelligence and fine dramatic qualities.

The second finale is almost Wagnerian, and occurs at the end of the third act. The orchestration throughout is stormy and really polyphonic, in the development of many motives, and the construction of the finale proper, with its diverse melodies in the orchestra, and the dominant air of the people on the stage, shows absolute German influence, although the melodies themselves, in simple isolation, are purely Italian—worked out, of course, after Chopin's themes. The effect would be magnificent, it may be imagined, with full orchestra, a competent chorus and strong voiced principals.

Some excellent melodies for the bass and a species of lyric recitative for the baritone were comfortably accommodated by Signori Canetti and Antola.

Orelli, as Chopin, sang very well, indeed—acted well, too—in the entire third act. In the other scene his performance was mediocre.

A clever, sweet little child brought smiles as Grazia.

Impresario Lambardi, it will be remembered, displaced the brilliant, popular music-pageant, "Huguenots," for this new work. While novelties are always welcome, when all things are considered, it does not seem that "Chopin" was a better substitute, at least. To judge by the size of last night's audience, there is absolutely no public interest in the piece.

The dispensations of cast are strange, anyway, in this engagement. In tonight's "Pagliacci," for instance, we find Orelli again billed, as Canio. And while it is not the province of the writer to suggest who should play Canio, still, it seems a strange affair to see the robust-voiced Cacotta, who has only made one appearance, sitting wistfully, night after night, in the orchestra, waiting for the turn that never comes, Cacotta is no artist, true enough, but with the exception of Salvaneschi, he has the finest tenor voice in Lambardi's aggregation.

Tromben, who is second only to Adaberto, was not heard at all last week.
